3½ BILLION NEW TAX BILL ON WAY TO WHITE HOUSE

Total Levy on Nation Exceeds 13 Billion.

A precomputed tax table for persons with gross incomes of less than $3,000 and a table showing the estimated yield of the new tax bill are on page 11.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The largest tax bill in American history was on its way to the White House tonight after the senate, in 45 minutes, completed congressional action on the measure. President Roosevelt is expected to sign the act for a 3½ billion dollar tax increase before the end of the week.

The terms of the new bill will cause 22,108,000 persons to file income tax returns next March 15. Of these, 13,181,000 individuals will be forced to pay taxes. Nearly 5,000,000 persons will be forced to file returns for the first time.

Beginning Oct. 1, two weeks from today, the measure's levies on purchases, services, and uses of public and private facilities will affect virtually every household in the land. The taxpayers will be tapped for a billion dollars a year in excess of what they pay now in excise and miscellaneous taxes.

Total Load Exceeds 13 Billions.

Corporations will be assessed 1 billion 382 millions more than at present. The salaried man will kick in $1,144,600,000 more than under the present law.

Henceforth, the yearly tax load of the American citizen will be in excess of 13 billions a year. Congressional leaders said it is just the beginning. Another tax bill is coming up in November; still another is a certainty early in 1942.

The burden of the crushing cost of the great armaments program; of aid to Britain, Russia, China, and other axis opponents; of the ever increasing expense of other governmental activities, soon will be felt by every person who earns or spends a dollar.

Surtaxes, for the first time, will apply to the low income class. These surtaxes start at 6 per cent on the first taxable dollar and range to 77 per cent in the highest tax bracket. Exemptions have been lowered to $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons.

Fear Wrath of Public.

As in the house yesterday, final senate action on the bill was taken without a record vote. A few scattered "ayes" passed the measure. Aware of the political dynamite contained in the new taxes when the people begin to feel their effect, no senator or representative wished to have his vote recorded, altho the great majority were agreed that greatly increased taxes are essential in view of the administration's unparalleled spending program.

The bill makes permanent the special 10 per cent "defense tax" drafted only a year ago, but it integrates this tax into increased or supplemental normal levies and surtaxes on personal incomes, corporate earnings, inheritances, and gifts.

A new surtax on corporate earnings is imposed, starting at 6 per cent on those of $25,000 or less and moving up to 7 per cent for earnings above that figure.

Increases in excess profits taxes by 10 percentage points in each bracket

WAR AGITATORS STORM N. Y. HALL AT PEACE RALLY

Ten Ejected as They Heckle Senator.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 17.—War agitators engaged in violent demonstrations tonight both inside and outside the meeting hall where the New York chapter of the America First committee held a celebration of the 154th anniversary of the signing of the constitution.

Ten men were forcibly ejected from the meeting by the police when they attempted to drown out a speech by United States Senator Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire. The senator was in the midst of a denunciation of the "dreadful conspiracy" to plunge the American people into the war when the little group of hecklers at the rear of the hall set up a loud booing.

A leader of the group, who said he was Coleman Gray, a Brooklyn attorney, was taken to the nearby police station but was released when America First representatives declined to press charges.

Handbill Passers Busy.

The meeting was resumed inside Carnegie hall, where ordinarily the harmony of the symphony orchestra prevails.

Outside on the street corners assiduous workers for interventionist groups such as the Fight for Freedom organization passed out literature attacking leaders in the anti-war cause and urging the destruction of Hitler.

Known communists were noted among the distributors of some of the literature. The same Reds previously had distributed propaganda saying the "Yanks are not coming" before war broke up the German-Russian nonaggression pact.

On the other hand, anti-war literature was being passed out by the America First committee and other groups. Of the 400 police on hand to guard the meeting, strong details were stationed to protect the bill passers on both sides of the war issue.

Demonstrators Put on Show.

Before the meeting started, a handful of war propagandists put on a show in front of the hall, principally for the benefit of the photographers from interventionist publications. One man was garbed in the blue pants and gray shirt of the German-American bund, the pro-Hitler organization, wearing a swastika armband. Two men and a woman were dressed in the white robes and hoods of the Ku Klux Klan.

Unperturbed by the demonstrations, Senator Tobey reminded the cheering crowd of 4,000, which filled the hall, that the founding fathers of this country had steered clear of rule by one man, a rule that could mean only tyranny and despotism. Then he charged that President Roosevelt in his "shooting" orders was eliminating congress and establishing one man rule.

Warns of "Greatest Menace."

"I measure my words," the New Hampshire senator declared, "when I say that in my opinion the greatest menace to this country and to our form of government does not come from any enemy abroad, but rather exists right here in our own country, and more particularly and specifically, under the capitol dome in Washington.

"There the people's representatives in congress have apparently lost their sense of responsibility under the constitution to act as a separate but coordinate branch of the federal government and have yielded to pressure and blandishments of another branch, the executive. Therein is the great threat to the American way of life.

"Today, certain forces in our country, intrigues by international interests, are bending their every effort to embroil us in the European holocaust, by ignoring the constitutional prerogatives of the people's representatives in the congress, which body has the sole power to declare war."

Queen of Night Unfolds and Silently Steals Away

Herman Nielsen, a carpenter living at 9612 Seeley avenue, was a proud and happy gardener last night. A tropical plant, which he raised from a slip given him eight years ago by an Oak Parker, unfolded into two blooms. The plant is a Queen of the Night cactus and the flowers for which Nielsen had been waiting eight years were pure white, about four inches across, and came at the ends of the plant's leaves. They quickly wilted.

Science Finds Cure for Dish Wiper's Blues

The laboratory was quiet except for the drip of water from a leaky faucet. The two men gazed at each other over a jumble of test tubes. Finally one, in a hushed voice, announced, "This means the emancipation of mankind."

The scene was the New York state agricultural experiment station in Geneva. The men, research scientists, had made one of the most important scientific discoveries since the invention of the wheel.

They had proved that it is insanitary to wipe dishes after washing them.

As if frightened by the importance of their discovery, the men, William G. Walter and G. J. Hucker, buried their findings in a pamphlet entitled "The Use of the Contact Plate Method to Determine the Microbial Contamination on Flat Surfaces," a copy of which was received in Chicago yesterday.

Just Wash and Rinse.

If the pamphleteers can be believed, they have proved that the tired business man no longer should be routed from his newspaper and arm chair after supper to stand at the kitchen sink wiping dish after dish. To achieve the highest degree of cleanliness, the housewife should just wash and rinse her dishes and tuck them away in the pantry.

The two scientists carried out their experiments on restaurant plates, and even invaded the University of Cornell kitchens for dishes to test.

After running hundreds of tests, Walter and Hucker found that the ideal way to clean dinner dishes is to wash them for about two minutes in water heated above 160 degrees Fahrenheit, and rinse them for at least 10 seconds in water equally hot. They should be allowed to dry without toweling.

The Bacteria Count.

Dishes washed in water at less than 160 degrees and wiped with towels showed a large number of bacteria. One plate was washed in water heated to 128 degrees and rinsed in water at 145 degrees. The plate then was dried with a towel and a bacterial count was taken on its surface. It showed a count of 50.

Another plate which went thru the same process with the water above 160 degrees, and was not toweled, showed a count of only six.

Prisoners Get Suspended Term—in Stalled Elevator

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Imprisoned in a stalled elevator in the Criminal Courts building for half an hour today, 20 handcuffed prisoners sang—"If I Had the Wings of an Angel."

F. D. R. SAID:

(Aug. 14, 1936)

"I have seen war on land and sea. I have seen blood running from the wounded. I have seen men coughing out their gassed lungs. I have seen the dead in the mud. I have seen two hundred limping, exhausted men come out of line—the survivors of a regiment of one thousand that went forward 48 hours before. I hate war.

"I wish I could keep war from all nations, but that is beyond my power. I can at least make certain that no act of the United States helps to produce or to promote war."

CHICAGO LISTED IN ITINERARY OF WINDSORS' TRIP

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The itinerary of the duke and duchess of Windsor on their forthcoming six week holiday trip from Nassau to their ranch in Alberta, Canada, includes stops at Miami, Washington, and Chicago en route to Canada and visits to Baltimore and New York on the return journey.

The British press service announced today the couple would leave the Bahamas Sept. 23 by plane for Miami, entrain for Washington the following morning, leave Washington by train Sept. 26, arrive in Chicago the next day, and reach Calgary, 40 miles from the ranch, Sept. 30.

The duke's first visit to his ranch in 14 years will be for about 10 days, and on the way home the Windsors will stay in Baltimore with Henry M. Warfield, uncle of the duchess, and later come to New York before proceeding to Nassau.

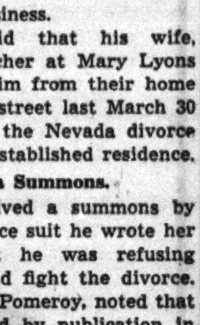
CHIANG REVEALS RECONQUEST AIM IN MANCHUKUO

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 17 (AP).—Reconquest of Manchuria [Manchukuo] is a vital aim of China's struggle against Japan, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared in a broadcast tonight on the eve of the 10th anniversary of the Mukden incident.

A clash at Mukden on Sept. 18, 1931, touched off Japan's invasion of Manchuria and started her on the program of expansion still underway.

"There can be no separating any portion of Chinese territory from the whole," the generalissimo said. "Surviving, we shall survive as a whole, or if we perish we shall perish as one." Chiang predicted the "final collapse of Japan as aggressor" was about to begin.

Charges Wife's Hug Was Just a Squeeze Play



Cecil J. Cummings.

Cecil J. Cummings, 39 years old, a civil engineer, living at 4744 Madison street, told yesterday in a bill filed in Superior court how he was lured to Reno under the misapprehension that he would take off from there on a second honeymoon, but found that the place is in the same old business.

Cummings said that his wife, Marie, 35, a teacher at Mary Lyons school, evicted him from their home at 5471 Division street last March 30 and went off to the Nevada divorce mill, where she established residence.

Spurns a Summons.

When he received a summons by mail in her divorce suit he wrote her announcing that he was refusing service and would fight the divorce. His lawyer, Paul Pomeroy, noted that defendants served by publication in out-of-state divorce cases may take action within two years to set aside any divorce granted.

Cummings stated that his wife then wired him to come to Reno, saying that all was forgiven, and they would go on a second honeymoon. When he stepped off the train, Cummings related, his wife threw her arms around him. The embrace, he sadly acknowledged, merely served as a signal to a waiting process server who stepped up and handed him a personal summons. Mrs. Cummings went ahead with the divorce, obtaining it Aug. 26.

Wants Divorce Voided.

Cummings asked that the divorce be declared void on the ground that his wife is an Illinois resident and cannot avail herself of a Reno divorce. Illinois courts have regarded this as a sufficient ground to void Reno divorces in the past. Cummings also filed a bill for separate maintenance and permanent support—one of the few recorded cases here in which a husband had taken that action.

U. S. Advances 50 Million War Credit to Reds

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The administration has agreed to purchase 100 million dollars worth of Russian raw materials and will advance the communists 50 millions in credits to help pay for war purchases in this country, Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones announced late today.

Jones disclosed that the arrangements to aid the communists financially were made at the request of President Roosevelt. It is part of the administration's policy to aid Britain, Communist Russia, China and other "democracies."

The Defense Supplies corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, has contracted with the Amtorg Trading corporation, a Russian controled organization in the United States, to purchase 100 million dollars worth of Russian manganese chromite, asbestos and platinum, Jones said.

U. S. to Pay in Advance.

The DSC will pay the Russian agency up to 50 millions in advance of delivery of raw materials, the advance to be used to pay for supplies purchased by the communists.

Jones said 10 million dollars was advanced today and that the balance will be paid out as needed by the Russians. He denied that this constituted a loan. He also asserted that none of the Russian material destined for this country had been shipped.

Roosevelt Asks Speed.

In making the announcement Jones released a letter from President Roosevelt dated Sept. 12 asking him to speed the transaction. The letter said in part:

"The Russian government needs dollar exchange with which to buy war supplies in the United States; we need many critical and strategic materials produced in Russia.

"To assist the Russian government in paying for war supplies which it wants to buy in the United States, I would like you to arrange for the purchase of manganese, chromite, asbestos, platinum, and other articles and materials up to the value of $100,000,000 for delivery as rapidly as possible, and that advances up to $50,000,000 be made against the purchase price of these materials."

ENGLAND TO LET U. S. DO JOB OF ITS 'LECTURERS'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—No more British "official" lecturers will go to the United States, according to the Daily Express political correspondent. Future presentation of the British case, he says, will be left to Ambassador Lord Halifax and his experts.

The British decision, according to the Express, has the full approval of the United States government, "which has its own means of presenting Britain's viewpoint."

The British lecturers already in America, it is stated, probably will receive a hint from the British embassy in Washington, D. C., that they should return home. One of the lecturers to be affected, according to the Express, will be Lord Marley, Laborite peer and deputy speaker of the house of lords, who has been lecturing in the United States for a long time.

COMMON CITIZENSHIP FOR U.S. AND BRITAIN IS HORE-BELISHA'S PLEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Former War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha, advocate of a British-American union, expressed the hope today that the "Atlantic declaration [of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill] will be a prelude to a common citizenship between Britain and America."

Speaking at the annual conference of the Liberal party council in London, Hore-Belisha declared:

"If we could, after so many years, replace the Declaration of Independence with a declaration of interdependence, we should have laid the firmest foundations for the permanent peace of the world. Our influence and power would prevail over a wide extent of the earth and nobody would dare to declare war if a charter were put into operation by the great English speaking unit of the size which would be achieved if the United States and the British empire united."

The meeting was attended by the leading Liberals, including Lord Chancellor Sir John Simon and Minister of Health Ernest Brown.

CLAIM GERMANS LOSE 20,000 MEN IN BIG BATTLE

Soviets Gain in Arc Before Moscow.

BULLETIN.

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 (Thursday) (AP).—All male civilians in soviet Russia between 16 and 50 years old will undergo compulsory military training outside of their working hours effective Oct. 1, it was announced today.

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 [Thursday]—(AP).—Red army troops have smashed the German armored forces of Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, the "phantom general of the French campaign," in a mammoth battle near Bryansk, 230 miles southwest of Moscow, the Russians reported today.

The maximum German losses announced yesterday and today by the Russians totaled 80,000, including the 20,000 Nazi casualties in the battle with Gen. Guderian.

This was the latest big success announced in soviet communiques detailing great operations on a curving central front extending from Yartsevo, 30 miles northeast of Smolensk, down past Yelnya to Bryansk.

The big fisted 53 year old Gen. Guderian, who drove his armored units in a lightning enveloping thrust behind the French Maginot line in the summer of 1940, "lost two-thirds of his effectives" when he collided with hard hitting Red tanks, the soviet communique said.

Scale Down Berlin Claims.

The Germans at Bryansk were said to have lost 20,000 men in dead, wounded, or prisoners; 500 tanks, 70 armored cars, 1,525 trucks, 195 airplanes, 85 heavy machine guns, 51 trench mortars, several thousand rifles and large quantities of artillery and rifle ammunition.

The Russian communique replied to German claims of having destroyed three soviet armies in the Lake Ilmen district with an announcement that in a month of fighting there the Russians lost 30,000 killed and wounded, but the Germans lost 35,000 to 50,000.

Russian artillery losses, it said, were 42 guns as compared with the German claim of 695 guns. It added that only two or three dozen Russian tanks participated in fighting on the Ilmen front so the Reds could not have lost the 320 tanks the Germans claimed.

The Losses at Yartsevo.

At Yartsevo on the northern end of the central front the Germans were said to have lost 10,000 killed and wounded, 100 field guns and 100 mortars to Russians commanded by Marshal Semeon Timoshenko.

[Gen. Guderian is rated as a great technician and Berlin said recently that he was using successfully a new tactic of mounting artillery pieces on tanks. He was attached to the general staff in the World war, was the first man to step across the Austrian border when Hitler took over that country and was praised for his exploits in Poland, Holland, and France.]

Today's early morning communique reported stubborn fighting all along the jagged front and continued Red aerial activity.

Aimed at Moscow Drive.

The Nazis, military dispatches reported, had concentrated troops about Yartsevo for a direct drive on Moscow by the shortest route. This second German offensive upon the capital, it was said, was routed.

[A Moscow broadcast heard in London indicated the Russians now were in position to invest Smolensk itself, held by the Nazis for two months. A London military expert said that northeast of Smolensk the Germans appeared to be trying to drive to Bologoe, a midway station on the 400 mile long Moscow-Leningrad railway.]

Soviet troops likewise claimed the initiative on the northwestern front before Leningrad, where a strategic cross-roads village on one approach to the city was declared recaptured by counterattacks made in the face of concentrated German fire. Military dispatches indicated that the village had been prepared by the Germans as a major position for a new offensive on Leningrad itself.

[A Finnish report said the battle for Leningrad has reached its final stage and that the Germans have reached a suburb 6 miles from the center of the city. Berlin was cautious, asking the German public to wait patiently for announcement of results. Story on page 5.]

PROTESTS FAIL TO STOP LEGION PRO-WAR GROUP

Well Oiled Machine Pushes AEF Resolutions Thru.

ON W-G-N TODAY.

A speech by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to the American Legion convention will be broadcast by W-G-N at 1:30 p. m. From 1:45 to 2:15 p. m. W-G-N will broadcast a description of the annual election of officers and a speech by the new Legion national commander.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 17.—The well oiled American Legion political machine rolled over a mild floor rebellion this afternoon and pushed thru a strong prowar indorsement of the Roosevelt administration policies.

Hanford MacNider, Addressing the American Legion Convention.

As predicted in the TRIBUNE this morning, the Legion's national defense committee resolutions, adopted without murmur or question, called for removal of all geographic limitation on movement of troops. The resolution declared that if fighting is necessary to defend the United States, the Legion insists on being prepared to do the fighting outside the United States.

Pledge of Support.

Also offered in the document was a pledge of support to the government, the President, the war department, and the navy department. Meanwhile the Legion's foreign relations committee marched in with a plea for immediate repeal of the neutrality act.

The convention took the resolution in its stride, approved it without debate, and indorsed the foreign policy of the President and of congress.

The indorsement of the national defense committee's resolution, voiced by a few listless delegates, was followed by the first murmur of rebellion. William F. Trinke, Lake Geneva attorney and Wisconsin member of the resolutions committee, made his way to the floor microphone.

"Do you realize," he asked, "the meaning of the provision to remove all geographical restrictions on the movement of troops?

"Dynamite and Danger."

"That provision contains more dynamite and danger than any other. It gives the President the right to send troops to Russia to impose the four freedoms on Germany. That's a joke."

It was ruled by National Commander Milo J. Warner that Trinke was out of order because he had not voted in favor of the original resolution.

After he was ruled out of order, Trinke complained of the handling of the resolution.

"It was told that this resolution would be heard tomorrow," he said. "As a result, I was at lunch when the measure was steam-rollered thru."

The next outburst from the floor came after the report of the foreign relations committee.

Hanford MacNider, past national commander from Iowa, asked the floor and was called to the rostrum to speak.

"I plead with the Legion to have guts," he told the meeting. "If this is our war let's get into it. If it isn't, let's stay out.

"Let's ask the President and the congress to tell the people of America whether this is our war. I plead no cause except for guts. If the situation is so critical, let the President tell congress and congress tell the nation, and we will march."

Learns of Resolution.

MacNider was told that this matter would come up in a report of the resolutions committee. Late last night he learned of a resolution prepared by the committee and submitted to the state caucuses.

"Whereas, unity of purpose in the present peril to our nation can only be accomplished," the resolution read, "and the American way of life preserved by full adherence to our constitution, embracing as it does freedom of discussion and congressional action,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that as such procedures are adopted and decisions reached the Legion stands ready to completely support them and to assist in their interpretation to and understanding by all the people. This to the end that there may be no disunity among us as we move forward to defend our nation and its liberties."

"If that is my answer to a plea for the Legion to put guts into its policies," MacNider said, "I don't know what it means. How can you beat something that means nothing? This is the committee's report and I don't know what can be done about it. They apparently have resolved to do nothing."

A Minority Report.

When a minority report to the foreign relations committee was offered for vote, James C. McCabe of New York was recognized. This report held that no aid should be given communist Russia under the lease-lend bill.

McCabe pleaded with the convention to show courage to continue the 23 year Legion fight on communism. Jack Adams of Washington state, a member of the foreign relations committee, asked support of the minority report on the grounds that money reaching Russia might find its way back to communists here and be used against the United States.

Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, countered with a plea that the minority report be rejected. He held that it would repudiate the convention action of indorsing the President's foreign policy.

Status Is Challenged.

As he spoke a delegate rose on the floor.

"Is this speaker a member of the organization?" He asked.

He was assured that the senator was a delegate.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], one of the Legion's founders and a past commander, was recognized and greeted by a mingling of cheers and boos, the latter mostly from southern delegations.

"I take the floor only because Senator Connally stated that adoption of this minority resolution would be contrary to Legion policy," Senator Clark told the convention.

"I deny that the policy of the Legion ever expressed sympathy for communism. The policy has also been against engaging in some one else's wars and sending an expeditionary force to foreign soil to engage in these wars.

The Rank and File.

"I know that the rank and file is against participation in other people's wars. I know that the Legion has never embraced bloody Joe Stalin."

After several speakers had indorsed the administration, Donald J. Zimmerman of Pennsylvania made his way to the microphone.

"We want national unity," he said. "But the rank and file along with the people do not know what the officials in Washington are doing or where they are going — that's why there's no unity.

"There has been mention of God and country here. Where, I ask you, is there any God in communism?"

After further discussion, Drury Phillips of Texas moved to kill the resolution by tabling it.

A roll call of states showed the vote to be 874 for killing the resolution and 604 against the action.

Most applause was tendered the vote in concurrence to a resolution asking that the resignation of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins be tendered and accepted.

New Orleans was chosen as the convention city for 1942.

Dr. L. J. Kosminsky of Texarkana, Ark., was elected chef de chemin de fer [president] of the National 40 and 8 society, fun-making organization of the Legion. He succeeds Ben Hilliard Jr. of Denver, Colo.

American Legion Resolutions on Foreign Policy and Defense

Following are partial texts of resolutions of the American Legion's foreign relations committee and national defense committee as passed yesterday at the national convention in Milwaukee, Wis.:

FOREIGN POLICY

"Whereas, we believe in our constitutional form of government and are determined that it shall be maintained as a beacon light of freedom for all nations and peoples—especially those attacked by the forces of Nazilsm, which we condemn as opposed to the rights of free men everywhere:

"Whereas, the freedom of the seas has been the traditional policy of the United States since its foundation and has been so enunciated by our President; and we are opposed to any surrender of this policy or any appeasement toward the aggressor nations, Germany, Italy, and Japan—toward whom we demand a policy of stern and exact justice;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the American Legion in national convention assembled, that

"[a] We approve and indorse the foreign policy of the President and the congress and

"[b] We urge the immediate repeal of the so-called neutrality act and

"[c] We urge all Americans to join us in a united, wholehearted, and unswerving support of our government's foreign policy: to the end that the American way of life may survive in a world of free men."

NATIONAL DEFENSE

"We believe the basic elements of national defense to be:

"[a] The ability to apply any fraction or all of our manpower and war industrial resources promptly and efficiently—by universal military training and federal regulation of war supply agencies.

"[b] The ability to carry war, when unavoidable, to our enemy, and thus prevent him from bringing war to us. This ability will require removal of all geographic limitation on movement of forces and adequate provision for corresponding plans and material.

"[c] Our great potential bulwarks are the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. These oceans will be our greatest assets or worst liabilities, according to our strength or weakness therein. They represent the base of our world strategy.

"We want America strong enough to meet any possible attack before it arrives and to turn the enemy back so that our homes remain intact and our families secure. If fighting is necessary to defend the United States, we insist upon being prepared to do the fighting outside of the United States."

MANY LEADERS IN LEGION HOLD FEDERAL JOBS

Charge Favors Inspired War Resolutions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 17.—The American Legion national convention, drawing to a close in Milwaukee, has been the mecca for administration pay rollers.

An investigation today, hampered as it was by the fact that no card index of delegates is to be found in local Legion headquarters, was made after Nicholas Hubbard, Illinois state senator and delegate, had charged that the convention was inspired to strong prowar resolutions by administration followers and favors.

McNutt, Kelly Active.

Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, was active in executive committee affairs. So was Raymond J. Kelly, past national commander, once numbered among the opponents of intervention and now all out for war trappings—including air wardens for the middle west. Kelly recently was put on the pay roll of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York City, director of civilian defense, as a regional director of that department.

Franklin D'Olier, past national commander, also found a berth in the La Guardia department as a corps area director for civilian defense in New York. Another La Guardia employé is Henry H. Dudley, Lincoln, Neb., Legion director of defense and now chief of the veterans' division under the civilian protection section.

Capt. Watson Miller, former general counsel for the Legion headquarters at Washington, D. C., has found a position as assistant to McNutt. Paul Griffith, who was in charge of the Legion's employment division, is now toiling for the assistant secretary of war.

Others Get Federal Jobs.

E. O. Marquette, a Legion director stationed at Indianapolis, Ind., is now in the army quartermaster corps, while John Winterich, once editor of the Legion monthly, gets his checks from the war department public relations department.

Nine of the 14 members of the District of Columbia delegation, Legion headquarters said, are on the government pay roll.

This contingent includes Haywood Saunders, bureau of engraving and printing; John J. Mulvey, general accounting office; William R. Brennan, Interstate commerce commission; Frederick Fraser, veterans' administration; John A. Long, bureau of internal revenue; Sylvester Woodfork, District of Columbia health department; William C. Buell, veterans' administration; William P. Kershner, inspector for the ICC, and John J. Idler, chief examiner for the United States courts administrative office.

Among the speakers on the program, which opponents of intervention pointed out contained no one opposed to prowar ideas, were Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, La Guardia, Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, and Darryl Zanuck.

Zanuck Defends Movies.

Zanuck, a target for the investigation of motion picture war propaganda started by Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], took the convention rostrum to defend the purity of his pictures. Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.] was present at the meeting to help squelch a punitive rebellion against prowar moves of Legion national officials.

When spokesmen from the floor rose against aid for communist Russia, Connally stepped to the rostrum. He told the delegates that any one who disagreed with Roosevelt's foreign policy was not serving his country.

It also was known that numerous army and navy officers attended the convention. In Washington, however, these departments said the men got leaves of absence and attended on their own time. Therefore, it was held, the government is under no obligation to release their names.

LEGION WOMEN START CONTEST OVER NEW HEAD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 17.—A contest developed today for election tomorrow of a president of the American Legion auxiliary. Mrs. P. I. Dixon of Americus, Ga., was nominated by Mrs. H. B. Ritchie of Athens, Ga. Her opponent, Mrs. Mark W. Murrill of Scituate, Mass., was nominated by Mrs. Franklin Lee Bishop of Boston, Mass.

No opposition developed for the nominees for the five vice presidential posts. The new officers will be Mrs. T. A. King of West Union, Ia., central division; Mrs. N. S. Hawthorne of North Providence, R. I., eastern division; Mrs. E. J. Goppert of Cody, Wyo., northwestern; Mrs. Richard Redwood of Mobile, Ala., southern, and Mrs. M. G. Andresen of Olympia, Wash., western division.

Voting will be by state departments. Each state casts five votes plus one additional for each 1,000 members.

Heads Girls' Club

MARY V. NEFF.

The Better Americans club, a group of young working girls headed by Mary V. Neff, a stenographer and law student, last night announced its support of the Republican judicial candidates. The club was known during the 1940 campaign as the Working Girls' Nickel club and now is the women's auxiliary of the Business Men's Election committee. Its members plan to spend from one to three nights a week working at headquarters or in the river wards.

CANADA FORBIDS DEFENSE STRIKES ON MINORITY BID

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 17 [Special]. —Norman McLarty, minister of labor, announced today that the federal cabinet had passed an order in council abolishing the right of workers to strike in war industries, including defense construction projects, unless a majority of the workers affected votes to strike.

It had been illegal for workers to strike before a conciliation board had examined the situation and given a decision. Now a strike is illegal even after a board of conciliation report unless the employés have notified the minister of labor that they contemplate a strike and have voted secretly under supervision of the federal labor department, for the strike.

Any employé who takes part in an illegal strike, or any person who incites such a strike, will be liable to a $500 fine or 12 months imprisonment or both.

THINKS CHICAGO IS MILWAUKEE, SO JUDGE FORGIVES

John W. James Jr., 43 years old, a Mason City, Ia., café owner, had a perfectly logical explanation yesterday when arraigned before Judge John T. Zuris on a disorderly conduct charge. James admitted he had been a little happier than usual at Clark and Locust streets Tuesday night. But, he said, he's a Legionnaire and thought he was in Milwaukee. Judge Zuris laughed, told him he'd already missed the parade, and advised him to hurry up to Milwaukee.

TRIBUNE FASHION WINNERS TO BE SHOWN SEPT. 27

W-G-N Will Air Contest on American Designs.

The first showing of designs from the 1941 American Fashions competition sponsored by The Chicago Tribune will be held in the W-G-N audience studio Saturday, Sept. 27, as part of the Chicagoland hour.

Invitations have been extended to more than 600 persons to witness the finale of this second annual contribution to American design.

Audience to Aid Judges.

Not only will the winning designs be described to a nation-wide audience while they are being modeled in the studio for a visual audience, but the visual audience will take part in the final judging. It will ballot on the winner of first place, which carries with it a $500 award.

More than 12,000 entries were received for the 1940 competition, first of its kind in America.

The second competition was an invitational one, and closed July 15. From the hundreds of designs submitted, a committee headed by Mrs. Grace Pickering, fashion authority, selected the 15 considered best from the standpoints of originality, ingenuity in use of fabric, and suitability for introduction on the American market.

Original Models Made.

These 15 have been made into original models at the expense of The Tribune. They have been photographed in color for reproduction in the picture section of The Sunday Tribune. The first pictures will appear in the issue of Sept. 28.

Not until the show proper, which begins at 9 p. m., will any of the winners be known. Each will receive a $50 cash award. The selections run the gamut of outer wearing apparel, from suits to ball gowns.

The musical program for the event will include selections by Marion Claire and Attilio Baggiore, as well as the W-G-N concert orchestra under the direction of Henry Weber.

GROUP OF MOTHERS URGES THE LEGION TO HELP AVOID WAR

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 17 [Special]. —A petition bearing signatures of 25,481 women was presented to the resolutions committee of the American Legion today by the Mothers Mobilizing Against War, who asked the aid of the Legion in the fight to keep America out of war.

The resolution asserted that the war in Europe is not an American war and recalled the preamble of the Legion's pledge to defend the constitution of the United States.

"We wish to combat autocracy either in the classes or in the masses," the resolution stated, "and to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom of religion, and democracy. We are not opposed to creating a sound defense for our flag and our country."

Floyd E. Thompson to Talk Today on the Constitution

DURING the Threadbare Thirties public psychology gave scant encouragement to stores offering fine clothes. Many yielded to the pressure . . . and concentrated on lower and lower prices.

WE didn't. Naturally, some of our customers were temporarily forced to go elsewhere . . . as a matter of necessity rather than choice. But the majority have since come back . . . and more are coming daily.

The pay off, however, is the number of new customers who seem surprised . . . and delighted . . . that the smooth, supple tailoring and mellow woolens they used to enjoy can still be had.

700 CHICAGOANS HOLD PEACEFUL COUNCIL OF WAR

The Objective: Succor for City's Unfortunates.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

A council of war was held last night at the Palmer House. More than 700 Chicagoans—the leadership of the 11th annual Community fund campaign—completed plans for recruiting an army of 50,000 men and women.

Between Oct. 3 and Dec. 15 this army will call on a million other Chicagoans whose gifts will insure the necessities of life and medical care for hundreds of thousands of still other Chicagoans during 1942.

Before the end of the campaign the 50,000 will have asked the million for $3,583,000, and indications are that they will get it—and more. Last night's war council by the industrial division of the fund was the largest in the fund's history. There are 15 per cent more captains this year than last in the 60 industrial divisions. The tremendous job of organizing the leadership was complete ahead of time.

And thruout the council ran the theme that this is Chicago's own campaign. The talk was not about foreign countries. It was about Chicago's own poor and needy.

Speakers who had wondered whether the Community fund would feel the impact of drives by the United Service organizations, the Red Cross, and others, asserted it will not.

R. A. Gardner Explains.

"The USO and the Red Cross have nothing to do with this drive for Chicago's own," said Robert A. Gardner of Mitchell Hutchins & Co., president of the fund.

He then explained the care with which the 185 charities and social agencies which participate in the fund are budgeted as to needs. He explained also that the fund should not be called a community chest, because it does not raise all the money the agencies use.

Their actual needs for the year amount to 18 million dollars. Of this they obtain $9,700,000 thru endowments and earnings on endowments. On the remaining $8,300,000 the Community fund will raise its quota of $3,583,000 and the agencies must provide $4,717,000 in other ways.

British Drive Discussed.

Pierce Atwater, executive director of the fund, commented on the national drive for 5 million dollars to care for 12,000 British children. Chicago's agencies, he said, care for 12,000 children each year on much less and do it so efficiently and quietly that most of the city is unaware of their accomplishment.

He also enumerated some of the fund's other work.

Bryan Reid, chairman of the sponsor's division, which solicits large corporation and individual gifts up to $60,000, reported that his workers already are at work. Contributions that will be reported on Oct. 3 already are coming in.

James S. Knowlson, chairman of the campaign, flew to Chicago for the war council from Washington, D. C., where he holds a post with the Office of Production Management. He flew back later in the night after urging the 700 leaders to choose only the best available soldiers for their army of 50,000. He will divide his time between Chicago and the capital during the drive.

E. P. Brooks, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and chairman of the industrial division, presided and introduced other leaders of the drive, including Thomas L. Slater of the executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor; George A. Ranney, past president of the fund; Mitchell McKeown, director of the campaign, and M. Seklemian, who originated this year's slogan and motif.

"Helping those who need you is a feather in your hat." That is the slogan. And the badge marking you as one who has helped? It's a scarlet feather, to be worn in the lapel or on the dress."

Organize Community Chest Campaign

(Story in adjoining column.)

BRITANNIA STILL RULES THE WAVES AND HERE'S HOW

Merchant Fleet Up 25% Despite War Losses.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The British merchant marine has increased almost 25 per cent despite the enormous losses suffered as the result of submarine warfare, dive bombing, and the depredations of enemy sea raiders.

The steady growth of the British shipping strength indicates that the Nazis apparently have lost the battle of the Atlantic. Britain is stronger than she ever was in sea tonnage and well able to keep supplies pouring into England in vessels flying the British flag.

At the outset of the war Great Britain had 21,001,925 gross tons of merchant shipping, or about one-third of the world's total of 68,509,432 tons. The United States had slightly more than half the British tonnage, or 11,470,177 tons.

The following table shows the net gains and losses of the British merchant marine since Sept. 1, 1939:

GAINS.
Allied shipping taken over by Britain:
Norwegian	3,716,000
Dutch	2,376,000
Greek	1,346,000
Belgian	289,000
Polish	64,000
Captures, etc., including French and Danish ships	1,208,000
Neutral shipping on time charter	750,000
Built or purchased:
Sept. 1, 1939 to Sept. 1, 1940	*900,000
Sept. 1, 1940, to Sept. 1, 1941	*2,000,000
Total	12,649,000
LOSSES.
Sept. 1, 1939, to Sept. 1, 1940:
British war losses	1,712,000
Allied war losses	263,000
British maritime losses	190,000
Sept. 1, 1939, to Sept. 1, 1941:
Total allied and British	*5,250,000
British maritime losses	*200,000
Total	7,615,000

*Estimates. All other figures taken from Lloyd's register of shipping, the United States maritime commission, or the London Economist, authoritative financial publication.

The British stopped giving out detailed figures on merchant sinkings in July. Up to that time they admitted having lost approximately 6,000,000 tons of merchant vessels since the outbreak of the war.

1,813 Vessels Lost.

The Associated Press, which has kept its own table of sinkings, on Aug. 9 said at least 1,813 vessels of all nations had been lost. It estimated a total of 6,829,000 tons of merchant and naval shipping was sunk or scuttled up to that date, but acknowledged the estimate to be conservative.

On the basis of the best data and estimates available the British merchant marine has made a net gain of about 5,000,000 gross tons, or almost 25 per cent of the gross tonnage the nation had at the outbreak of the war.

Gain American Tankers.

Included in Britain's gains are some 50 American oil tankers of about 10,000 tons each. Since the war Britain's tanker fleet alone, according to evidence before the special senate committee investigating the purported oil shortage on the eastern seaboard, has doubled.

The tanker fleet has grown from 3,000,000 to 6,000,000 tons, or from 300 to 600 vessels. Britain's needs for war purposes were said to be no more than 250 tankers. On the basis of these figures the London Economist said that Britain has no need for 100 additional American tankers. This article was read to the senate committee by Senator Francis T. Maloney [D., Conn.].

WAUKEGAN POOL HALL ROBBED.

Three gunmen last night held up Pundt's pool hall at 113 North Genesee street, Waukegan, and escaped with $200 taken from the manager, Leroy Paulson, and nine customers.

U. S. NAVY TO USE MERCHANT SHIPS TO SUPPLY BASES

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commandant of the 3d naval district, announced today that the navy had arranged to use 17 American merchant ships as supply ships to American naval bases outside continental United States.

The 17 vessels have been acquired under a time charter and will be manned by civilian crews, Admiral Andrews said. Several already have been put in active service and the rest are expected to be ready soon.

Norway Transfers 150.

At the same time, Norwegian shipping sources reported that Norway has transferred about 150 ships to the British and allied cause since the first of the year, leaving fewer than 100 vessels carrying cargoes to the United States.

For the present, these sources said, no further transfers are contemplated.

In August, Norway had 707 vessels, about 550 of which were in the pool operated by the British ministry of shipping. Since then Norwegians have promised 42 vessels to the pool, including the last 22 of Norway's prewar tanker fleet of about 230 ships. All but two of the 42 vessels have been transferred.

Liner May Go to Africa.

Maritime circles also heard that the liner Acadia, which has been in the Alcoa Steamship company West Indies and Caribbean service, would carry technicians and other personnel to a new government air base in Liberia, West Africa.

The base was one which Pan American Airways recently announced it would use in a new air freight service between New York and Lisbon.

Altho the maritime commission here refused to comment officially, the Alcoa Line said that the Acadia would be released to the commission on Oct. 1 and be returned a month later. The line said it did not know what use would be made of the vessel.

400 POUND GORILLA, GIVEN TO ROOSEVELT BY FREE FRENCH, DIES

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt's gorilla, presented to him by Free French authorities, is dead.

Phil Carroll, animal dealer who captured the ferocious beast, said today the gorilla died in French Equatorial Africa after giving birth to a baby.

The animal, six feet two inches tall and weighing more than 400 pounds, had been offered to the President in a letter from Gen. de Larminat, high commissioner of the colony.

FIND DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday in the case of Russell Ballew, 49 years old, a salesman who lived at 855 Eastwood avenue. Police said Ballew died on Sunday after falling to the sidewalk on Saturday while scuffling with a friend, Glen Engle, 36, of 4715 Malden street, in the 1000 block of Leland avenue.

HEAR NAZIS PUSH WITHIN 6 MILES OF LENINGRAD 'LOOP'

Report Civilians in Flight Across Neva River.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Map on back page.)

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 17.—The battle for Leningrad has reached its final stage and German troops today were reported to have fought their way into Smolenskoe, a suburb, six miles as the crow flies from the fortress of SS. Peter and Paul on the Neva river in the center of the city. Many inhabitants were said to have crossed the Neva to seek shelter in the Viborgski suburb, in workers' homes which already are packed with refugees.

Finnish tanks and infantry today stormed the east Karelian town of Syvaeri [Svirstroi], a station on the Leningrad-Murmansk railroad where it crosses the Syuari [Svir] river. The town is about 200 miles northeast of Leningrad.

The town was captured after hard fighting. Finnish troops prevented destruction of the railway bridge, and then established themselves on the south side of the river.

Operations on the eastern front have been delayed by muddy roads and rainy weather with frequent night frosts. In various sectors north of Lake Ladoga the Finns have had to build roads as they proceed. Frequent Red air force attacks have failed to halt the work.

Germans Told: Be Patient.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (AP).—The German people, told by the high command only that the Nazi offensive in Russia was "developing into an operation of the greatest extent," were asked again tonight to be patient as to the details.

The struggle for Leningrad remained the battle of the greatest intensity—a battle being fought over a gradually contracting region.

One Nazi armored division was said to have penetrated a fortified park outside Leningrad, later repulsing Red army counterattacks.

German war reporters, some of whom said they were on high ground within 18 miles of the heart of Leningrad, indicated German artillery now was firing freely into the city.

[A Berlin source previously had pictured the Germans as within 15 miles of the center of Leningrad. This source laid a map of Berlin over a map of Leningrad and said the Berlin highway girdle showed the approximate position of German troops around Leningrad—a distance of roughly 15 miles.]

Admit Progress Is Slow.

In the tight, hot fight the Russians, unable to fall back much farther, were making, nevertheless, a solid defensive stand, the German correspondents reported. These dispatches said more Russians bunkers [field forts] were being reduced, but acknowledged that the German progress was only gradual.

There were indications, however, that the vast operations of which the high command spoke were expanding in the southern and middle sectors.

[Another dispatch said that soviet forces estimated at upward of 250,000 men were believed to have been trapped in a new pocket in the vicinity and east of Kiev, capital of the Ukraine. This new pocket seems to military observers to be large in its geographical delineations and to include sizable portions of Marshal Budenny's army.]

Donetz Valley New Field.

Running reports told how the Germans now had gained firm positions in the Ukraine east of the Dnieper river, which for some weeks had been a stubborn obstacle. Thus, the valley of the Donetz river, lying between the Dnieper and the Don, became the field for a new German war of movement.

The Russian Crimea was declared under intensified German air reconnaissance.

Death of Former German Money Chief Laid to Poison

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 17 (AP).—Varian M. Fry, American relief worker who two days ago reported the death of 63 year old Rudolf Hilferding, pre-Hitler German finance minister, tonight said he had received word that Hilferding drank poison in a Paris prison. Hilferding was seized in Marseilles last February as he was about to board a ship.

New Zealand Hero Pilot Is Reported as Missing

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Sergeant Pilot James Ward, first New Zealander to win the Victoria Cross in this war, today was reported missing. He was decorated for heroism while acting as second pilot of a bomber which was attacked by a Messerschmitt that set the bomber's wing afire. Ward climbed out onto the wing and extinguished the flames, allowing the plane to land safely.

EGYPT PROTESTS TO AXIS AGAINST BOMBING OF CAIRO

CAIRO, Egypt., Sept. 17 (AP).—The Egyptian government has protested to Berlin and Rome, sources here said today, over the axis bombing of the Cairo area. Cairo was bombed for the first time early Tuesday and 39 persons were said to have been killed.

Heavy axis shelling of British forward positions in the area of Tobruk, Libya, was reported by the British middle east headquarters. British reconnaissance units were active in anticipation of a possible major axis offensive.

In the Gondar area of Ethiopia, where Italians are besieged, weather conditions have permitted resumption of British offensive operations, the British said.

British Repulsed, Says Rome.

ROME, Sept. 17 (AP).—The Italian high command reported today that Fascist outposts had repelled British forces in scouting operations in North Africa and Ethiopia. It added that axis planes attacked British motorized columns near the Libyan oases of Giarabub and Siwa and acknowledged British bombing raids on Tripoli and Bengazi.

40 G. A. R. VETS SCORN AUTOS TO MARCH IN PARADE

Columbus, O., Sept. 17 (AP).—A few old men who went to war back in '61 marched again today. Scorning automobiles that carried a majority of their comrades, about 40 blue-clad veterans insisted on walking at the head of a mile-long parade that highlighted the 75th annual encampment of America's Grand Army of the Republic.

A modern touch accompanied them. Streamlined units of this nation's new army—troops from Fort Hayes, O., Fort Knox, Ky., and the Columbus general depot—followed the old veterans. The crack United States Marine band also was there.

Veterans from 29 states, and ranging in age from 89 to 104, were among 90 Union soldiers registered for the encampment.

Hand-Stained Calfskin
Quality—the perfection of Florsheim materials and workmanship so apparent above—has always been a priority in this business.
We know that only the finest calfskin will take such a smooth, even finish . . . and that only hours of hand-polishing can bring out the warm, mellow highlights of a true custom tannage.
That's why Florsheim will not accept inferior substitutes or stint on the time good leather requires. We'd rather sell fewer shoes than sacrifice the Quality which has become America's standard of fine shoe value.

Chutists Help Seize Teheran; Many Boys in Russian Line

20,000 Red Troops

TEHERAN, Iran [Persia], Sept. 17 (AP).—Four hundred Russian parachute troops and strong mechanized forces occupied the strategic outskirts of Teheran today, and both Russian and British staff officers entered the capital to forestall any friction with the Iranians.

The Red chutists were dropped on the edge of the capital and took control of the roads so quickly that they even barred the way to approaching British troops for a short time.

A German motorcade of diplomats, women and children en route to Turkey after the abdication yesterday of the shah, Riza Khan Pahlevi, was halted by the Russians at Karaj, 25 miles northwest of here.

The former shah, ousted because he was suspected of having pro-Nazi sentiments, arrived at Isfahan, 210 miles south of Teheran. He plans to go abroad.

Russian troops under Maj. Gen. Novikov moved into the Teheran area some 20,000 strong. Fifty-three soviet tanks lumbered onto the air field and Red troops took over Iranian army and air force barracks. A brigade of British troops was approaching.

While the troops moved in, Mohammed Riza Pahlevi, 21 year old successor to the throne, swore before parliament to uphold the constitution.

On British initiative, the government sent a note to the Japanese legation demanding surrender of the exiled grand mufti of Jerusalem, the prewar leader of Arab revolts in Palestine. He was reported to have taken refuge with the Japanese.

Sees March on City

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Iran, Sept. 16 [Delayed]. —With the United States military attaché, Col. F. P. Thompkins, I met the Red troops on their way to occupy Teheran outside of the city this morning. We were halted by the crash-helmeted driver of an armored car who stood atop a rise in the road and gazed toward Teheran with field glasses.

Just over the rise were parked three armored cars with four man crews. An officer in a blue jumper and crash helmet, undistinguishable from the enlisted men, asked who we were and then permitted us to go on.

During the next five miles we met a steady stream of Red soldiers, outfitted with helmets, rifles, and fixed bayonets, riding in 1932 model Ford trucks, 16 in each. I counted 30 armored cars and saw two batteries of howitzers.

Some of the Red troops halted to eat at Karaj.

Col. Thompkins and I talked with the major general in charge of troops. The general called a 14 year old boy who wore a uniform resembling the Boy Scouts except for a big red star on his campaign hat. The boy spoke Turkish, as did our chauffeur. Thru these interpreters we talked to the officer. He was polite but reserved, and refused to answer questions as to where the troops were going. He was dressed in a dusty blue tunic with boots that appeared to have been made from heavy canvas.

Many of the Red soldiers seemed to be in their teens. All were heavily armed. Trucks had machine guns mounted on their roofs.

300 RAF FIGHTERS ESCORT BOMBERS ON FRENCH RAID

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—More than 300 British fighters escorted bomber squadrons over northern France today to bomb the power plant at Bethune, authorized sources said tonight. It was one of the strongest air fleets sent over the continent since the aerial offensive started in June and included pilots of the American Eagle squadron. One British bomber and seven fighters were lost, but successful bomb hits and fires were reported at the power plant. Many other RAF fighter planes were reported engaged over France at the same time. At least 11 German planes were reported destroyed.

The daylight offensives were a continuation of Tuesday night raids into southwestern Germany. The air ministry said Karlsruhe, important railway shop town in the Rhineland, was the focal point.

Nazis Admit Civilian Deaths.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (AP).—A number of civilians were killed or wounded last night as British bombers attacked points in southwestern Germany with high explosive and incendiary bombs, a German announcement said today. Slight damage was caused to residential quarters. Four British fighters were reported shot down attempting to enter a German-occupied region along the English channel yesterday.

CHARGES LEGION MEMBERS 'SOLD OUT' BY LEADERS

Capt. William J. Grace, head of the Citizens Keep America Out of War committee, said last night that certain leaders of the American Legion "sold out" the rank and file by indorsing the administration's pro-war program. Capt. Grace spoke at a meeting of the Hammond chapter of the committee in Weis hall at 146 State street in Milwaukee.

"I'm not surprised at the Legion's action," he said, "when it is considered how the convention was controled. But the duty of Americans is to stay out of war and save our youth."

SLIM LA GUARDIA VOTE MARGIN HAS HIS AIDS WORRIED

New York, Sept. 17 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's unimpressive victory over John R. Davies for the Republican nomination for mayor in Tuesday's primary election found his leading supporters today apprehensive over the smallness of the vote.

The mayor, formally registered as a member of the communist-tinged American Labor party, defeated Davies by a majority of only 19,820 in a total vote of 106,672. Davies, a veteran Republican, had campaigned without party support and very little campaign funds. The total vote was only 14 per cent of the 758,385 registered Republicans.

La Guardia carried Manhattan, Brooklyn, and Richmond [Staten Island], but lost the Bronx and Queens. The margin of the mayor's victory was almost exactly the majority obtained for him by the New York [Manhattan] county party organization headed by Thomas J. Curran.

NAZIS' POTATOES TO BE RATIONED; 1ST TIME IN WAR

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—The third winter of war will bring to Germany the rationing of the only food product which has not been rationed there in this war and which has become a mainstay of the German diet—potatoes. This unpleasant prospect was brought home to German consumers today when they were given a new "household ration card," which provides 49 coupons for potatoes. Uncertain crop prospects and a sharp increase in consumption are cited by semi-official press comment as the principal reasons for this measure.

German Court Acts

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Public proclamation of the offenses of German food bootleggers and war profiteers, plus severe penalties, henceforth will serve as a warning to all "war economy criminals."

Today for the first time the special court trying cases involving flagrant violation of food regulations decreed that placards to be hung in all markets and market halls in Berlin shall bear for three months the name of each convicted offender, his crime, and the sentence passed upon him.

Barely Escape Death.

In the case before the court, three offenders—one of them a woman—accused of large scale bootlegging, received sentences ranging from 7 to 10 years in the penitentiary, with fines up to 30,000 marks [about $12,000], as well as the loss of "civil honor."

"If the accused had not had a clean record up to now," the president of the Berlin special court declared, "they would in all likelihood have been sentenced to death."

The three "criminals" are alleged to have bootlegged, among other food staples, 3,000 kilograms [about 6,600 pounds] of meat, "a week's ration for 7,500 comrades."

Enforce Closing Regulations.

Shopowners who fail to open and close their doors according to the present police regulations will see their names in print in the daily press as well as face severe penalties. The German police will control all stores and retailers, the Berlin police president declared, to see that the regulations are observed.

According to present regulations all shops must close at noon for periods of one or two hours and definite times for closing have been set. To the average observer in Berlin, however, it appears that shopkeepers open and close their doors pretty much as they please.

Huge Ring Revealed

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Black [illegal] market racketeers, operating on a vast scale, unwittingly backed by banks and using "reputable road transport companies" to move supplies, have obtained control of hundreds of tons and tens of thousands of cases of this country's most valuable foodstuffs, including part of the stocks built up by the food ministry against an invasion emergency.

These discoveries, according to tonight's Evening Standard, Lord Beaverbrook's paper, have been made by Scotland Yard and ministry of food officers. Immediate court prosecution was reported in prospect.

Trace Ministry Supplies.

The charge of the food ministry that invasion reserve stocks have found their way into the black market is supported, the paper states, by the fact that hundreds of cases of certain imported canned goods, bought solely by the ministry and not yet issued to traders, have been offered for sale illegally at about three times the controled price.

"Searching investigations now are in progress," the Evening Standard reports, "to discover if any releases of these supplies have been authorized by a ministry of food official."

Sell Canadian Army Syrup.

Another discovery is that black market dealers obtained "substantial quantities" of maple syrup sent to Britain exclusively for the Canadian troops.

Black market financing is estimated to have run into "tens of thousands of pounds." "Big wharves have been rented in the London docks for the storage of enormous supplies without any one suspecting that the stocks belonged to racketeers," the paper says.

ARMY GETS FIRST GUN MOUNT FROM PRIVATE FACTORY

La Porte, Ind., Sept. 17 [Special].—The first mount for an anti-aircraft gun made by private industry was turned over to the army today at a ceremony in the local plant of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, where the carriage was built.

The nine ton mobile unit, which will mount a 90 mm. anti-aircraft rifle, was sent to the Aberdeen proving grounds in Maryland following its acceptance by army representatives.

The ceremony was attended by high officials of the army, state, and the company, and more than 2,000 Allis-Chalmers employés and visitors. Among those present were Lieut. Gov. Charles M. Dawson and Representative Robert A. Grant of South Bend.

Speakers explained to the assemblage that the carriage, which has 3,858 parts in its delicate mechanism, provides the accuracy and mobility necessary for a modern anti-aircraft weapon.

The climax of the ceremony was the formal transfer of the gun's ownership from Max Babb of Milwaukee, president of the Allis-Chalmers company, to Col. Donald R. Armstrong, executive officer of the Chicago ordnance district.

Col. Armstrong praised the company for its early delivery of the carriage and called attention to the company's coöperation with the ordnance department in speeding the rearmament effort by subletting contracts to smaller firms.

"Thru subcontracting, Allis-Chalmers shared its present job with 225 other companies," Col. Armstrong said. "The ordnance department will pay Allis-Chalmers $6,500,000 on the gun mount contract, of which $2,500,000 will be passed along to other companies.

"This is the type of coöperation that is making defense plans move and at the same time is protecting smaller business firms and their employés."

UMBRELLA ARMY ROUTS A CREW OF COTTON PICKERS

3d Army Chutists Send Workers Scurrying.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Winnfield, La., Sept. 17. — The army's new parachute troops made their first field jump today in a raid 30 miles behind the lines of the 2d army in the vast training exercises being conducted in this area. Altho both the invader 3d army parachutists and the 2d army defenders claimed victory in the raid, the mass jump was successful in being made without mishap.

A total of 127 'chutists, including 8 officers, leaped into a Louisiana cotton patch from 13 transports. The men were members of Company A, 502d parachute battalion from Fort Benning, Ga., attached to the 3d army [Blue] forces for the raid.

Escorted by 48 fast fighting planes, the transport planes roared behind the lines of 2d army [Red] forces and disgorged their heavily armed occupants. Only 17 minutes elapsed from the time the first man leaped until the last one had landed. Their extra, heavy equipment was dropped by independent red, white, and blue chutes.

Scare Cotton Pickers.

The descending troops had a terrorizing effect on colored cotton pickers, many of whom had never before seen a parachute. When they saw the soldiers floating down under their big white umbrellas and shooting as they neared the ground, the cotton pickers raced for the protection of nearby woods, and they refused to emerge even when told it was just a game.

The moment they landed, two-thirds of the parachutists seized their rifles, mortars, machine guns, ammunition, and demolition bombs and scurried to destroy an important pontoon bridge which the 2d army had thrown across the Red river. They also attacked a trunk highway, lifeline of the mechanized 2d army.

The remainder of the raiders went along the highway cutting military telephone and telegraph lines and capturing parts of a signal battalion, combat engineers, and other 2d army units.

Claim 'Chutists Destroyed.

The 2d army forces were not inactive during this time, however. They claimed their fighters had intercepted the raiding party in the air and theoretically had shot down all ships before they reached their destination.

Furthermore, the 2d army's ground forces quickly rounded up the air callers and soon had captured them all. Members of the defending army claimed the raid showed the little effect that parachute troops may attain against an alert enemy.

The four companies of the 502d parachute battalion are under the control of Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, director of the maneuvers.

NAZIS THREATEN TO KILL PARISIANS OF EVERY CLASS

Widen Reprisals for Attacks on Soldiers.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Sept. 17.—Gen. Heinrich von Steulpnagel, commander of German forces, warned all Parisians today that they are liable to be shot as hostages if attacks upon Nazi soldiers are continued.

An increasing number of hostages will face German firing squads, he added, and they will be picked from all classes, not exclusively from among "communists and Jews," as heretofore.

Nazi Dies from Gun Wound.

The warning was issued following the death of a German noncommissioned officer who was shot by an unidentified assailant on the street on Monday night.

[Another dispatch stated German and French police were conducting a house to house search of the 11th arrondisement (one of 20 Paris districts), a working class section between the Place de la Republique and the Place de la Bastille, for a terrorist arsenal.]

There is no attempt here to hide the fact that terrorists are not only menacing the Paris population with grave penalties but disturbing relations between the French and Germans.

Paris newspaper vehemently protested against the terrorism.

Blames London and Moscow.

The newspaper L'Oeuvre declared: "Ten hostages were shot. London and Moscow propaganda triumphs. Cowards with pistols shoot and run. Hostages pay. It makes no difference to the people or the English radio."

Communists deny complete responsibility for the attempts to stir up disorder. Recent communist secret documents published here said:

"The effervescence which is stirring the masses is not specifically communist. It is composed of divers elements which have different factors as their bases, such as unemployment, lack of sufficient food, worry over prisoners, the troops of occupation, dissolution of organizations, and the even simple fact of the disturbance of acquired habits."

Red Centers Uncovered.

No new acts of terrorism were reported today from Paris, but police in the unoccupied zone discovered communist centers at Nimes in the south and made four arrests. In Nice they arrested the general secretary of a railway company for disseminating pamphlets abusing members of the Vichy government.

[A British radio report spoke of two German soldiers being killed and one wounded in Paris, but this appeared to be a recapitulation of attacks previously reported.]

50 Reported Shot in Serbia.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 17 (AP). The newspaper Nemzeti Ujsag said today that 50 widely known communists had been shot in Belgrade, former Jugo-Slavia, for the slaying of a German soldier.

Commissioner to Canada Hops Sea to See Churchill

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, has returned to London, it was announced today, for important conferences with Prime Minister Churchill, the cabinet, and dominions offices officials. MacDonald crossed the Atlantic in a bomber and is expected to return to Canada soon.

BRITISH TOLD HOW U. S. HELPS RUIN AXIS-TIED FIRMS

Work Hand in Hand with Blacklist, Says Minister.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—How the American government is working "hand in hand" with the British to put firms trading with axis countries out of business was revealed by Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, at a National Defense of Public Interest committee luncheon here today.

"One of the most potent weapons we, jointly with the United States, now are wielding," he said, "is the so-called blacklist.

Firms "Hunted Down."

"Jointly the United States government and ourselves are hunting down certain firms of unsavory repute smelling of German influence and are trying to put them out of their agony in various parts of the world."

The British and American blacklists, he stated, are coördinated.

"Firms trading with the enemy," he added, "become known to us as well as to the United States. If a firm appears on both blacklists you may bet that its number is up. There is not much more it can do than go into the bankruptcy court."

Europe's Production Slashed.

Dalton estimated German Europe now can produce only one-sixth of its peacetime consumption of rubber, less than half of oil, one-quarter of copper, one-fifth of wool, one-sixteenth of cotton, and one-thirtieth of nickel.

The German attack on Russia, he said, was incredible folly because it has cut off Germany from supplies from the far east.

EX-SAILOR, 72, MAY BE CALLED BACK INTO NAVY

Niels Anderson, 72 years old, a sailor for 31 years before his retirement from the navy 10 years ago, soon may be called from his farm at South Haven, Mich., to active duty as a chief petty officer, navy recruiting officials disclosed yesterday. Anderson came to Chicago early this week to ask if he could be of service to the navy. After ascertaining that he is in excellent physical condition, recruiting officers sent him home to harvest his crops and await their call.

COUNCIL YIELDS; GRANTS HALL FOR WHEELER SPEECH

Reverses Itself Following Flood of Protests.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 17 [Special].—The weight of public opinion on the side of free speech was hailed today as having impelled the Portland city council's surprise decision late last night to reverse itself and authorize use of the Municipal auditorium for an anti-war speech by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] on Sept. 22.

A growing wave of protest over the council's earlier informal decision to deny Senator Wheeler use of the hall had reached such proportions, according to the sponsoring America First committee, that the council decided against encountering the embarrassments of a public showdown.

Attack School Board Stand.

Despite the changed attitude of the city council, America First leaders announced that they would continue to press court action against the Portland school board which on Sept. 10 refused the use of any of the school system's auditoriums for the Wheeler meeting.

Dellmore Lessard, Oregon state chairman of the America First committee, said, "We are not going to sit quietly by and let the school board get away with its intolerable action.

"We are out to get a mandamus writ from a court that will discourage school boards and all other public bodies in all states from closing their auditorium doors to meetings arranged by the America First and other patriotic organizations. We have the constitution and plenty of precedent in law to back us up.

"Discussion of vital public affairs in school and municipal auditoriums has become a fine, old American custom too dear to surrender."

Councilmen Deny Opposition.

After the city council had voted to rent the auditorium for the anti-war meeting, its members sought to explain that the body actually had never refused Wheeler use of the hall. America First officials denied this contention.

In the meantime evidence steadily mounted, America First leaders said, that the councilmen had made a bad guess in judging Oregon public sentiment on free speech, based on letters to newspapers, editorial comment, and communications to the councilmen.

America First pointed out that while the organization's members were by no means silent, most of the public objections came from persons who disagree with Senator Wheeler, but insist upon free discussion of public matters.

Jury Refuses to Indict Two on Charges of Rape

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—A Westchester county grand jury refused today to indict two young tennis players on rape charges brought by the mother of Miss Claire Beringer, blonde 17 year old professional model. The youths, Richard Decker, 22, Miami university student, and John March, 21, of Pelham, had been free in $2,500 bail since July 27 when they were arrested a few hours after escorting the girl home from a dance. Miss Beringer said Decker attacked her while March flourished a pistol.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SWEDES BLAME CARELESSNESS IN WARSHIP BLASTS

Think One Torpedo Blew Up 3 Destroyers.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 17 (AP).—Three of Sweden's best modern destroyers exploded and sank today in a series of mysterious blasts in Harsfpaerden, a fjord south of Stockholm long used as a naval proving ground and anchorage.

[DNB, official German news agency, said a troop transport also burned and sank and a mine layer, the Klas Fleming, was damaged severely when her cargo of mines blew up. Fire spread to nearby Maersgarns Island, where ammunition dumps are located, it said.]

The destroyers lost were the Goteborg, a sleek 1,040 ton vessel built in 1935, and the Klas Horn and Klas Uggla, sister ships of 1,020 tons each, built in 1932. Normal complements of the three would number 380 men.

Thirty-one Killed in Explosions.

Verified casualties were 31 killed and 11 injured, but the toll was believed to be higher. Flaming oil which spread over the sea prevented a thoro check.

Altho there was a report in civilian circles that a boiler explosion aboard the Goteborg touched off the blasts, the most generally accepted cause was the reported careless handling of a torpedo.

Half of the crew of two of the destroyers was on vacation when the explosions occurred.

Ambulances Rush to Scene.

All available coastal vessels sped to the scene to help with rescue work and fire fighting. Every ambulance in Stockholm was sent out.

[This heavy blow to the efficient little navy of neutral Sweden occurred as the Finnish press was charging that some Swedish papers thru blind antagonism to Nazi Germany were playing into the hands of Russia. Vidkun Quisling, head of the Norwegian Nazi government, on Sept. 6 demanded that the Swedish press cease what he called "lie propaganda against New Norway and its leaders." There was no intimation from Stockholm, however, that these criticisms were in any way connected with the naval disaster.]

BUILD SHIPS SECRETLY.

Sweden has for some time been engaged in a big naval building program, mostly secret. She is known, however, to have had at least 16 modern destroyers, including four bought from Italy before the war, and eight torpedo boats big enough to rate as "junior destroyers."

Sweden also has a combination aircraft carrier-cruiser of 4,775 tons, three 7,000 tons cruisers of World war vintage, four 3,415 ton cruisers dating to 1901, two cruisers of 4,700 and 4,300 tons, lately being modernized; the 4,775 ton Gotland, built in 1933; two new cruisers of 8,000 tons, started in 1939, and two which were to have been started this year. She has 18 or more submarines and a large fleet of minelayers and auxiliary craft.

Informed Swedish sources assert that for the last six months Sweden has added a ship a week to her navy, but it is likely that many of these were not major combat units.

ARMY DECIDES TO PAY TAVERN DAMAGE BILL

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Army officers who investigated the invasion of a local tavern by a group of 43 Jefferson Barracks soldiers Monday night, today agreed to pay the proprietor for $150 worth of damage done by the troopers, according to Sam Strautz, East St. Louis police chief.

Army officials have all members of the wrecking crew in custody and their punishment, understood to be confinement to barracks for 30 days, is assurance that the incident will not be repeated, according to Capt. William Keefe, head of the army's public relations department here.

The soldiers seized the tavern and looted and damaged it Monday night following arrest of two soldiers who had been ejected from the place. Possibility of assigning military police to aid East St. Louis authorities is being considered.

MRS. ANNA BOETTCHER.

Denver, Sept. 17 (AP).—Mrs. Anna Lou Boettcher, wife of the Denver capitalist, Charles Boettcher II., who was kidnaped Feb. 12, 1933, shot and killed herself today. Deputy Coroner Gus Economy said Mrs. Boettcher, despondent over ill health, fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet thru her right temple.

Her body was found in her bedroom at the Denver home from which her husband was kidnaped. He was held by his abductors on a South Dakota ranch until March 1.

Prisoner Shows Bruises and Accuses Policemen

Sam Gervase, an ex-convict who has confessed participating in the $3,000 holdup of the Pine tavern, 3504 North Cicero avenue, last Friday, was arraigned on a robbery charge in Felony court yesterday. His attorney, George Crane, said Gervase was forced to confess and the prisoner removed some of his clothes to show bruises which he alleged were inflicted by police. Judge Charles S. Dougherty ordered policemen who worked on the case to appear in court today.

FBI SHOWS COURT FILM OF ALLEGED NAZI SPY AT WORK

Scene Records Display of 'Stolen' Arms Secrets.

Frederick Duquesne.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The federal bureau of identification today showed on a screen in Brooklyn federal court 200 feet of film which FBI Agent William Friedeman said depicted a German spy going over plans and pictures of stolen American war devices.

"Star" of the picture was Frederick Duquesne, 63 years old, whom the government accuses of leadership over 16 men on trial on charges of espionage conspiracy, 17 others who have pleaded guilty, and a number of other persons not yet apprehended.

Film Recorded Secretly.

The film, secretly made of Duquesne in animated conversation with William Sebold, American counterespionage agent, recorded a 24 minute scene in Sebold's office. A calendar in the background set the date as July 25, 1941, two days before the defendants were rounded up.

In the film Duquesne produced an envelope from his sock, containing pictures of an airplane, gun, and boat. He spoke eloquently with his hands.

Friedeman testified that in this conversation Duquesne discussed military secrets he had stolen, instructed Sebold in the preparation of minute incendiary bombs for dock fires, and revealed his intention to blow up the General Electric plant in Schenectady, N. Y.

Spies' Pay Intercepted.

The FBI intercepted most of the money sent here for German spies and doled out only small and infrequent sums to the complaining underpaid spies, according to other evidence given today.

Sebold, who was commissioned by the German gestapo to conduct its espionage here and who invited the FBI to collaborate on the assignment, testified that Duquesne complained often about poor pay. Meanwhile he said the money was piling up in his bank account and officials in Germany were wondering how to send even larger sums to appease the grumbling gestapo agents.

This was brought out in cross-examination by Frank J. Walsh, Duquesne's counsel.

499 Majors Get Temporary Rank of Lieutenant Colonel

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Temporary promotions to the rank of lieutenant colonel were announced today for 499 majors of the regular army. All the officers have served 22 to 23 years, and the mass promotions, officials said, were recommended to remove the inequalities between regular army and reserve officers.

BAKERY BOWS TO OAK PARK'S NEW BLUE LAW

Schlosser Bakeries, Inc., ended its long legal contest with the village of Oak Park yesterday. The company announced that its stores will observe a recently enacted ordinance forbidding business on Sundays.

Louis Schlosser, president, began his fight against the village this spring when an Illinois blue law, dating from 1874, was cited to prevent him from selling bread on Sunday. The law prohibits the disturbing of the peace on Sunday by unnecessary labor, or by amusement or diversion.

The village board of trustees passed the new ordinance on July 21 but Schlosser said he did not learn of its enactment until yesterday.

3½ BILLION NEW TAX BILL ON WAY TO WHITE HOUSE

Total Levy Laid on U. S. Exceeds 13 Billion.

are provided. The capital stock tax is boosted from the present $1.10 to $1.25 per $1,000 of declared value.

As a somewhat nebulous compensation for the taxpayer, the bill contains a provision for a plan looking to drastic reductions in the government's nonmilitary expenditures. A joint legislative-executive committee is created to seek sources from which 1 to 3 billions can be slashed from anticipated spending.

One convenience for the low-income taxpayer is provided. Those earning up to $3,000 gross income may refer to a precomputed tax form to discover what they owe the government, thus skipping the ordeal of deciphering and filling out the complicated returns. Only those whose income is derived solely from salaries, wages, compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities or royalties may use this form.

Married Men Hit Hardest.

The lowered personal exemptions will register their effect most markedly in the so-called middle brackets and will increase the tax of the married man far more than the unmarried man.

One of the more novel taxes in the measure is that assessing every operator of an automobile in the United States $5 a year for the use of his car. This tax will not go into effect, however, before Feb. 1, 1942. A similar tax is imposed on motor boats. This tax is expected to raise $160,200,000 annually. The treasury estimated it will have to hire an additional 3,800 employés to administer and enforce it.

Automobiles also were saddled with a 7 per cent excise tax [upon the sale price]. Rates on tires and tubes were doubled.

The theater admissions tax will begin on 10 cents admission fees instead of 20 cents. It will be imposed at a rate of 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof.

Liquor Tax Up $1 Gallon.

Whisky and distilled spirits will be taxed $4 a gallon in the new bill, an increase of $1 a gallon. Increased taxes will be imposed on refrigerators, radios, phonographs, sporting goods, jewelry, and furs [10 per cent of retailer's sales price] and a wide variety of other "luxury" and household articles.

Estate and gift taxes are increased. Estate taxes continue to allow a $40,000 credit and then start the imposts at a rate of 3 per cent on the first $5,000 of taxable estate. Then they rise sharply until a tax of 77 per cent is imposed on amounts above $10,000,000.

Gift levies start, with the same $40,000 exemption, at 2¼ per cent on the first $5,000 of net and climb to 57¾ per cent after passing the $10,000,000 amount.

INCREASED AND ADDED REVENUE ESTIMATED IN NEW TAX MEASURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The following table shows in detail the estimated increases in revenue to accrue from new and enlarged taxes in the 1941 tax bill. The total of 3½ billions in the measure will be added to the 9½ billions in taxes which the public now pays, making a grand total of more than 13 billions.

BABY IS ELECTROCUTED.

La Salle, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Richard Earl, 6 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oakson of Bureau, was electrocuted yesterday when he grasped a "shorted" floor lamp. The child's father is athletic coach and teacher at the Bureau grade and high school. The child was creeping on a metal furnace register when he took hold of the lamp, the "ground" thus formed permitting the full charge of electricity to pass thru his body.

Lower Bracket Tax Calculator

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—THE TRIBUNE presents herewith the treasury department's precomputed tax table which was devised to expedite payments by persons in the low income brackets.

By referring to it, those whose gross incomes, less deductions for dependents, does not exceed $3,000 will be able to figure out what they owe without struggling with the complex return forms. Tax payments, without the customary returns, will be accepted on the basis of the table.

Only those whose incomes are derived solely from salaries, wages, compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties may use this method, it was explained.

Interest and Charities Estimated.

Beside personal exemptions for both single persons and heads of families or married couples the computation includes a deduction of 10 per cent of gross income for such nontaxable items as contributions to charity and interest on debts, which treasury experts found to be the average deducted by taxpayers in the low income groups in past years.

For single persons and married couples without children the process is simple. The former find their gross income classification and then consult the first of the two columns showing the amounts of taxes. Married couples, in the same manner, consult the second column. Those with added dependents or children must first deduct from their gross incomes $400 for each child or dependent, and then find their income classification on the basis of what remains after the deductions are taken.

Free to Use Regular Form.

The use of the table is not compulsory, the treasury emphasizes. Those who wish to take deductions not included in the table are at liberty to compute their taxes from the regular forms.

Following is the precomputed table:

'41 PERSONALTY VALUATIONS FOR 2 TOWNS DOWN

Personal property assessments for 1941 announced yesterday for two additional Chicago townships—Jefferson and Hyde Park—show a drop of 15 per cent, compared with 1940 valuations.

County Assessor John S. Clark reported the personalty valuation this ear for Jefferson is $34,027,768, compared with $38,220,207 for 1940, and for Hyde Park it is $56,984,562, compared with $69,195,925 for 1940.

U.S. JURORS HEAR MRS. DILLING IN ANTI-BRITISH QUIZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling of Chicago, author of "The Red Network," appeared here today before a federal grand jury investigating various publishing houses suspected of being sources for pro-Nazi or anti-British publications. She was called as a witness, it was reported, in connection with the purchase of 5,000 copies of a booklet, "Lothian vs. Lothian," last October from the Flanders Hall Publishing company of Scotch Plains, N. J.

The Flanders Hall company is said to be one of the targets of the inquiry. The 52-page booklet purchased by Mrs. Dilling contained excerpts from speeches of the Marquis of Lothian, late British ambassador to the United States, in which he declared that Europe should be left alone to solve its problems without interference from either the United States or Britain.

Government investigators, Mrs. Dilling said, have tried to pin the Nazi label on the publication because it has a two-page foreword signed by James Burr Hamilton, pseudonym for an alleged Nazi agent.

Following her testimony, she told reporters the purchase of the booklets was her only transaction with the publishing house, which she roundly condemned because, she said, it attempted to overcharge her. She also said she has been the victim of "New Deal persecution" since her opposition to the lend-lease bill earlier this year.

LUCAS DEFENDS F. D. R. ORDER TO SHOOT ON SIGHT

Senator Has Changed His Mind Since 1939.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Representative Rich [top] and Representative Woodruff.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—As Senator Scott Lucas [D., Ill.] spoke in the senate today, defending President Roosevelt's declaration that American naval forces will shoot German and Italian war craft on sight, Republicans in the house accused the President of flouting the constitution, his oath of office, and the wishes of 80 per cent of the American people.

In the house debate, Representative Robert F. Rich [R., Pa.] suggested that Mr. Roosevelt should be impeached, while Representative Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.] appealed to the people "to rise up and with one voice warn the President to 'stop, look, and listen.'"

Lucas Assails Lindbergh.

Senator Lucas coupled his defense of the President's shooting orders with a vilification of Charles A. Lindbergh, whom he smeared as a Nazi sympathizer. Lucas read into the record an editorial from the Springfield, Ill., Journal, which savagely denounced Lindbergh's speech at Des Moines, Ia., last Thursday night. The editorial, indorsed without qualification by Senator Lucas, asserted the time had come to deny Lindbergh the use of the radio and to "give him a soap box."

"Many sincere people do not wish to see the United States actively enter the war, but they cannot make common cause with a man whose words prove he has more in common with the Nazis than with the people of the United States," the editorial declared.

Calls Editorial Worth While.

Lucas said the editorial was "worth while from the standpoint of telling the American people just where Lindbergh has always stood in his heart and his mind and his soul so far as the Nazi philosophy is concerned."

Lucas, intimating that he fancies himself a character analyst, said he had reached the same conclusion by studying Lindbergh's physiognomy. When Lindbergh appeared as a witness before the senate foreign relations committee in opposition to the lend-lease bill last February, Lucas attended the meeting, he said, "for the sole purpose, not of listening to Col. Lindbergh's testimony, but of watching his gestures, his facial expressions, his grimaces, and all that he did in connection with his testimony."

Agrees People Oppose War.

Lucas agreed that the American people do not want "to see America actively enter the war."

"But," he said, "when Mr. Hitler sends his submarines into the western hemisphere and attempts to sink American vessels, to sink vessels flying the American flag, and to bring about the destruction of American property and the lives of American citizens on the high seas in the western hemisphere, undoubtedly the President has the right to do just what he did in his speech a few days ago."

Lucas thus diametrically opposed the position he took with respect to "freedom of the seas" and war as recently as Oct. 13, 1939. On that occasion he was supporting the administration's "cash and carry" neutrality law, which repealed the embargo on arms, ammunition, and implements of war.

Earlier Convictions Set Forth.

"If I correctly read my history I am convinced beyond the shadow of a doubt," Lucas told the senate at that time, "that the only reason we entered the war in 1917 was because of the destruction of the lives of American citizens and the destruction of property on the high seas. . . .

"I make this statement merely because I am so strongly for the cash and carry plan, believing that it is the one thing in the pending joint resolution which will come nearer keeping us out of war than will anything else. The cash and carry plan will take American vessels off the high seas, take them away from the submarine infested waters. If this is accomplished, our perils are less and our dangers diminish."

In the house debate, Representative Rich said the country "should not stand for" President Roosevelt's shooting orders, the sending of American ships into the war zones, and the occupation of territory [Iceland] in the eastern hemisphere, contrary to the Monroe doctrine. To his colleagues Rich said:

"The power that was granted to the congress, which you stood here and swore you would uphold and defend—you are letting the President take it away from you. Do you know what should happen to a man like that? He should be taken out of office."

Representative Woodruff, in a carefully prepared address, said the American people must face the stark fact that "the President has declared war on Germany and Italy."

Denounces Naval Policy.

Woodruff said congress would no more repudiate the President's action than it repudiated the trading away of 50 American destroyers. But it is not too late, he declared, for the will of the people to be effectively demonstrated thru their representatives in congress.

"There is a vast difference," Woodruff said, "between a defense concentrated in our own waters and on our own shores and an offense—even tho it be mislabeled 'defense'—which requires our inadequate navy to spread itself out too thinly over all the oceans of the world. Yet the President has chosen the course of spreading our tragically inadequate navy too thinly over all the oceans."

"It is not too late for the American people to make their will felt in this matter, because a declaration of war is not war until it is consummated by an overt act of war—by actual shooting."

LUCAS STUDIES COST OF SENATE PROBE OF MOVIE PROPAGANDA

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], chairman of the senate audit committee, said today that he is studying expenditures by the senate interstate commerce subcommittee investigating charges of war propaganda in the motion picture industry.

Lucas told reporters he is not seeking to halt the inquiry, "but as chairman of the audit and control committee I have a responsibility over the expenditure of senate funds which I cannot overlook."

Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho], chairman of the investigating group, announced public hearings will be delayed until next Tuesday because of the absence of Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], a member of the subcommittee, who is attending the American Legion convention at Milwaukee. Nicholas Schenck, president of Loews, Inc., was to have testified tomorrow.

The audit committee normally controls all expenditures of senate funds for special investigations. The hearings by the Clark subcommittee, however, nominally deal only with a request by Senators Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.] and Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] for an investigation.

FOUR SHIPS SUNK BY SPEEDBOATS, GERMANS CLAIM

BERLIN, Sept. 18 [Thursday] (AP).—German speedboats in the English channel pounced on a British convoy Tuesday night and sank four ships totaling 25,000 tons, German military reports said early today.

[German speedboats are about 80 feet long, are powered by aircraft engines, carry two torpedo tubes and a one pounder cannon, and can reach a speed of about 60 miles an hour.]

The reports said a loaded tanker of about 8,000 tons was among the ships sunk.

The high command said U-boats had sunk six freighters totaling 27,000 tons in the North Atlantic.

Swedish Motorship Lost.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 17 (AP).—The Swedish consulate general in Hamburg, Germany, reported today that the newly built 9,050 ton Swedish motorship Yarrawonga had been sunk, but that the crew was saved.

NAVY CONVOYING BRITAIN'S CARGO SHIPS, SAYS KNOX

Guarding Supply Routes, Secretary Tells Press.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox this afternoon said the American navy is convoying British and other vessels carrying lease-lend supplies to England.

The Knox statement, which was the first instance of the use of the word "convoy" to describe American naval operations in the Atlantic, was made at a press conference when he was asked whether the navy is convoying war shipments to Iceland en route to Europe.

"The escort of convoys by war vessels is only one of the methods that can be used and are being used in all of our defensive areas," he replied.

The Knox statement occasioned but little surprise in the capital, as the term "patroling" which the navy had been using was regarded as a subterfuge to avoid the term "convoy."

Hedge on Roosevelt's Words.

The administration had shied away from admitting convoying because in a press conference after his third term inauguration, Mr. Roosevelt said that convoys mean shooting and shooting means war.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed that the navy is convoying British vessels in his speech of a week ago, in which he gave the navy orders to shoot axis sea or air raiders "on sight."

Yesterday Mr. Roosevelt was even more explicit when he told a press conference that amateur strategists should not think there is only one method — convoys — of safeguarding vessels on the seas.

In making his statement, Knox recalled that on Monday he had told the American Legion convention at Milwaukee that the administration would employ every means to assure adequate protection of all vessels, regardless of flag, carrying lease-lend supplies to Britain.

New Methods Developed.

"You must bear in mind that since the first World war, many more methods than the convoy have been developed to protect ships and we are employing all of them," he said.

Knox declined to state how the protection is being provided on the ground he would be betraying military secrets. He was asked about reports that a German raider has been operating off the Panama canal, purportedly using the Galapagos Islands as a base.

"We think there is a raider," Knox said. "One ship has disappeared, but that's all the news we have. Many months ago we searched various Pacific islands that might be employed as raider bases in the interests of our security."

CANNON ELECTED APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE HEAD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 [Special].—The house today elected Representative Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.] as chairman of the appropriations committee to succeed the late Edward T. Taylor of Colorado.

Cannon was nominated by the ways and means committee after Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] declined to enter a contest for the chairmanship.

RUTLAND, ILL., NATIVE DIES.

Holland, Mich., Sept. 17.—Richard M. McJunkin, native of Rutland, Ill., died yesterday at his brother's home northeast of here where he had lived for 23 years. He was a carpenter by trade. Burial will be tomorrow at Sparta, Mich.

CHICAGO . . . A CENTER OF TRANSPORTATION EVEN IN 1865

CHICAGO was the hub of timbered highways and a growing lake and river port back seventy-six years ago when Millers National Insurance Company was founded.

Civic leaders in 1865 boasted of the city's 200,000 population, and its thriving commerce. But little did they realize how strategically their city was located, and how great it was to become as a transportation center in a growing nation.

While Chicago has become the railway center of the world, Millers National Insurance Company with its companion company has grown steadily in importance in the fire insurance field. Today these oldest Illinois fire insurance companies are unusually qualified to insure your property risks. Consult your insurance broker or agent for full details.

I say Coal Heat is Best —and Costs Less

You know, of course, that the thriftiest fuel you can use is coal . . . but are you equally well informed on the thriftiest methods of burning it? Your coal merchant is, providing he's a member of this Association. For in addition to his own long experience he has access to all the scientific data developed by the expertly staffed engineering bureau he helps maintain . . . and he only waits your call to put that information to work for you. So call him now, before the heating season starts, because this year defense requirements as well as your personal budget cry out for fuel conservation!

Automatic heat regulators are now inexpensive. They keep rooms at constant temperature and usually conserve fuel dollars. Ask your coal merchant about them.

TO CONSERVE FUEL— KEEP YOUR HEATING PLANT CLEAN

Before the heating season starts, arrange through your coal merchant to have your heating plant cleaned. Usually the cost amounts to only a fraction of the savings which can result from increased efficiency. For other tips on fuel conservation, ask any member of this Association for the Heating Chart issued by the Department of the Interior's Consumers' Counsel Division . . . it's FREE!

TOM HARMON

Sept. 28th. You were born under the sign of Libra. Venus is your ruling planet. You have great versatility and could be successful in a number of spheres if you would check your venturesome tendencies. Avoid snap judgments and choose your friends with care. You will achieve success through your natural talents rather than speculative ventures, which have too great an allure for you. Important material and intellectual progress is indicated however, and October should prove a profitable month for you. Romance and travel lie ahead of you this year.

KATE SMTH

May 1st. You were born under the sign of Taurus. Your ruling planet is Venus. You are artistic, sensitive and proud without being haughty. There is a slight tendency to be too introspective. Your great natural reserve sometimes makes people misunderstand you, even though you are a loyal and extremely generous friend. You should cultivate diverting hobbies. Be wary about investments in the coming year. All signs point to greater personal happiness for you in the very near future. Fridays should be good days for you.

'POLITICAL UNITY' PERILS LIBERTY, GREEN DECLARES

Tells Continued Need of Two Parties.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Gov. Dwight H. Green, addressing the Union League club last night at Chicago's principal observance of Constitution day, drew a pointed distinction between unity for defense and the kind of political unity which might lead to dictatorship.

"We all desire national unity when the preservation of the nation and the protection of the people are genuinely involved," the governor said. "No one wants political unity, however, when it is not for the best interests of the nation, and when it might mean destruction of the two party system and the vesting of all power in one individual."

"The endurance of America's way of life depends upon the checkrein created by opposition of party against party. That is the only way we can remain as a constitutional republic."

Right of Revocation.

Rather sharply the governor also reminded his listeners that periodically they may reward or recall those they elect if they have been unfaithful.

"Let us hope," he said, "that Americans will never become so indifferent that they will relinquish the constitutional right of revocation.

"If confusion exists in government it is the people themselves, that all-powerful electorate, who can determine what kind of government they will have and what government's acts shall be. Hope of a sane political and economic future will never die if we defend the letter and the spirit of the constitution and the bill of rights."

In his address to the club, which planned the affair both as a Constitution day celebration and a welcome to the governor and his wife, Green expanded remarks on the dangers of centralization which he outlined to the Young Republican convention in Springfield Sunday.

"So that free and constitutional government shall not die let no elected official place himself above the fundamental law," he warned. "Crises come, and crises go, and problems are always present, but history reveals the peril to free government by the people when unlimited power is retained by those who have been granted that power for any period."

WARNS OF CENTRALIZATION

Warren H. Orr, former Illinois Supreme court justice, warned of the increasing tendency to centralize government in Washington in a Constitution day address yesterday. He spoke at a luncheon of the Illinois Sons of the American Revolution in the La Salle hotel. "We must be alert and have courage to see that none of our rights and privileges under the constitution are taken from us," Orr said.

Willard L. King, chairman of the civil rights committee of the Chicago Bar association, last night said he believed this country would suffer no great loss of liberty should it enter the war. King answered questions by Tappan Gregory, former president of the association, in a Constitution day program over W-G-N.

Engineer Misreads Signal; 63 Die in Jap Train Wreck

TOKIO, Sept. 17 (AP).—The misreading of a signal by the engineer of an express train was given today as the cause for one of the most disastrous railway accidents in Japanese history. The revised casualty toll of the accident, which occurred yesterday, was 63 dead and 67 injured. The express, bound for Tokio from Shimonoseki, drove into the rear of a Kyoto bound local.

After Kidnaping

Lillian Hill sipping coffee in the home of her mother at Fort Worth, Tex., after release by escaping soldier prisoners who had kidnaped her.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 17 [Special].—Four soldier prisoners who escaped from Camp Wolters, Tex., were still at large today as authorities hunted them for kidnaping Lillian Hill of Fort Worth and her escort, Corp. James Leath. The soldiers forced the couple to accompany them in Leath's car but later released them. The fugitives, said to be armed and desperate later held up a filling station at Ranger, Tex., and sped away in another stolen car.

FIELD AND F. D. R. CONFER ON NEW CHICAGO PAPER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Marshall Field, Chicago financier and New York publisher, said after a White House conference today that President Roosevelt had expressed "much interest" in his plan to establish soon a new Chicago morning newspaper.

Field, largest stockholder in PM, New York's youngest newspaper, announced last Sunday that a new paper in Chicago would be organized by himself and friends, including Silliman Evans, president of the Nashville [Tenn.] Tennessean.

Evans, who waited in the lobby while Field was in the President's office, said he and Field were pushing plans for the newspaper and hoped to get the first edition off the press "by the time the snow flies."

PEACE WITH CIO URGED ON AFL AT STATE SESSIONS

Danville, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP).—Declaring that the welfare of every working man is at stake, President R. C. Soderstrom of the Illinois Federation of Labor today urged delegates to the 59th annual convention to work for peace between the AFL and the CIO unions.

Denunciation of racketeers and gangster activities within unions continued at today's session. One of the speakers, Steve Sumner of Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers' local, No. 753, told the delegates that his life had been threatened in recent months.

TUGWELL QUITS UNIVERSITY POST IN PUERTO RICO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Sept. 17.—Rexford Guy Tugwell, an original Roosevelt "brain truster," resigned today after one month as chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico. The resignation is effective Friday when Tugwell will become governor of Puerto Rico by appointment of President Roosevelt. University students had protested against him holding both jobs.

U. S. PLANS DRIVE FOR OLD METALS —ON CASH BASIS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 [Special].—The government soon may issue a general call for Americans to round up all their old metal of virtually every kind, officials disclosed today, but it will not commit the blundering now admitted in the recent aluminum drive.

The rearmament program will need scrap iron, steel, brass, copper, lead, nickel, zinc, tin—and more aluminum, according to officials. Almost any day a general request is expected for the gathering of waste articles made from such metals.

However, owners will not be asked to donate them as was the case in the June 21-29 gift collection of household aluminum. The Office of Production Management suggests that owners sell metal articles to junk dealers and pocket the money or use it to finance community projects. The OPM purchasing division then will buy what's needed for war weapons on the junk market.

COURT DECIDES THAT HENHOUSE IS NO DOGHOUSE

Adolph Jozalis, 52 years old, yesterday asked Judge Rudolph Desort to compel Mrs. Anna Jozalis to permit him to move out of the barn and back into their home at 5554 South New England avenue, Argo. Altho Mrs. Jozalis has a bill for separate maintenance pending, Judge Desort ruled that she'll have to let Jozalis share their home with the 11 children and his mother-in-law.

Jozalis, according to his attorney, Victor Frohlich, consented three weeks ago to move into the barn to make room for a community party, only to find that after the party ended his mother-in-law had moved in. Jozalis sighed and stayed in the barn with three cows.

Then his wife ordered him to move into the henhouse. Frohlich said his client would have done so except for a rooster named Joe who dislikes Adolph. When Frohlich added that Jozalis built a large part of his house by himself, Judge Resort ruled in his favor.

Violent 12-Minute Quake in Asia Minor Reported

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 17 (AP).—DNB, German news agency, reported a violent earthquake in Asia Minor today. The temblor started at 4:36 a. m., DNB said in a Belgrade dispatch, with shocks recurring at eight second intervals for 12 minutes.

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A Youth's Vision of Liberty.

I remember all the accounts of the battlefields and struggles for the liberties of the country; and you all know, for you have all been boys, how these early impressions last longer than any others. I recollect thinking then, boy even tho I was, that there must have been something more than common that these men struggled for . . . that something even more than national independence; that something that held out a great promise to all the people of the world for all time to come.

A. Lincoln

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21, 1861.

WHERE ARE THE ARMS?

Mr. Roosevelt's quarterly report on the expenditure of lease-lend funds must have disappointed every one except Herr Hitler. Mr. Roosevelt had coined the boastful phrase "the arsenal of democracy," but there was nothing in this report to suggest that the boast was anything but an empty one.

Many in this country had supposed that the delay in equipping our army with the tools of war was to be explained by the export of these things under the terms of the lease-lend law. Now we know that only 70 million dollars' worth of assorted shooting irons, including guns, ammunition, tanks, airplanes, and everything else of the sort, has been sent overseas. It is 15 months since the rearmament program was launched, six months since the lease-lend bill was enacted, billions have been appropriated for arms, and still there is precious little to show for it all, here or abroad.

The British must be finding it difficult to hide their disappointment. Americans who know the potentialities of our industries are alarmed and indignant at the puny output. Far from being the arsenal of the world, we aren't even as yet an arsenal for ourselves. The facts revealed in the report argue an appalling executive incompetence in Washington. The obvious explanation is that an administration which, from a lack of understanding, distrusted industry, now for the same reason is unable to make it work.

There were other disappointments. Mr. Roosevelt repeated his denial that lease-lend funds were being spent by British officials in Washington for living and entertainment, but he didn't open the books for public examination as he readily could have done. His refusal can hardly have been prompted by a desire to protect military secrets, for the expenditures from the fund which he did report were so small as to preclude the possibility that the details could be of value to any one, friendly or unfriendly.

The report did contain an extended defense of British trade policy. Mr. Roosevelt said it was not true that the British were using lease-lend supplies to compete with American manufacturers in Latin-American and other markets. For proof he cited sharp declines in the totals of British export trade, but the relevancy of these figures may be questioned. Britain's export trade has been well maintained according to recent reports. The loss of the markets in continental Europe could easily account for the greater part of the declines which Mr. Roosevelt cited. Too many American exporters have complained of competitive conditions in Latin-America within recent months to permit an unqualified acceptance of the explanation.

The fact is singular, but true, that Mr. Roosevelt was more concerned to defend Britain than he was to explain the deplorable failure of his administration to obtain military equipment.

Plainly, if our army and the foreign armies to which we have pledged supplies are to get them, congress will have to do more than appropriate. It will have to check up almost from day to day to see what is being obtained for the money. It will be said that if this is done Germany may obtain military secrets, but to say that is to assume that congressmen have neither sense nor honor and that Germany has no spy system. If production becomes satisfactory, the best thing that can happen to this country is to have the world know all about it, in the greatest detail. If ever our industry swings into production at the scale of which it is capable, the word of our government is going to carry a lot more weight in international affairs than it does today. Secrecy, on the other hand, is the protector of incompetence and dishonesty in equipping and training of our defense forces.

SUPPLIES FOR RUSSIA.

There is much loose talk in Washington of unlimited military aid to Russia. Mr. W. Averell Harriman, chairman of the supply mission to be sent to Russia, spoke the other day of furnishing quantities of supplies sufficient to enable the soviets to take the offensive some time in the future. In truth, the amount of aid to be extended must be sharply limited. The physical facts which govern the matter are unyielding.

The Baltic and Black sea entrances to Russia are closed for all practical purposes. The Russians have a northern port open the year 'round at Murmansk, but the railroad from Murmansk to Leningrad has been cut. The other northern ports, of which the principal one is Archangel on an arm of the White sea, are closed for half the year by ice. Within a couple of weeks, if it has not happened already, Archangel will be locked tight.

The Anglo-Russian conquest of Iran has opened a route from the head of the Persian gulf to the Caspian sea. The railroad may be of considerable use in the defense of the oil fields which are no doubt one of Hitler's principal goals, but the war at present is still many hundreds of miles away to the west; the railroad across Persia is described as highly vulnerable because of a great number of bridges, its carrying capacity is limited, and in any event the supply lines from either England or America to the Persian gulf are very long.

The remaining gateway is Vladivostok in Siberia. Its use is more or less subject to interference from the Japanese but that is not the chief obstacle. Vladivostok is well over 5,000 miles from our Pacific coast and 5,000 miles of communist railroad must be added to that before goods shipped to Siberia can reach the fighting front. A supply line 10,000 miles long imposes severe restrictions on the quantities which can be carried.

No doubt the Russians will receive some help from Britain and America, but the total will be small in relation to the demands of such a war as the soviets are now fighting. The Russians know that. The deceit is intended for American consumption, with a view to encouraging the false hope in this country that the war can be won without sending an American expeditionary force to the front in western Europe.

THE REAL ISSUE.

Those who are trying to get America into the war say "the world in which we live will never be the same again. There will be a new social order," etc. The emotionally unstable believe that the new order, born of war, is to be one of sweetness and light with every one receiving high wages and getting all the comforts and luxuries of life, with old age fully protected against want and nothing to worry about forevermore; the world at peace and the freedoms working overtime in every part of the world. They have the same childlike faith that the supporters of the French revolution had and, in later times, the people of Russia, Germany, and Italy.

The fact is that unless the step by step march to absolute power by the present group in control of the government is halted, our country will be governed by a man, call him a czar, a king, a dictator, a President, or something else. His method of rule may be called socialism, Fascism, communism, or New-Dealism—but it will be a totalitarian despotism, with life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness controled by one man and his favored satellites. Any one who calls this kind of régime "new" is ignorant of or ignores past history.

During the thousand years preceding the American revolution most of the people of this world were servants of the state. Our forefathers tried to work out a new pattern, making the state the servant of the people. It proved successful for a little over a hundred and fifty years. It refuted completely the doctrines of Marx and produced a nation which, with only a little over five per cent of the earth's territory and six and a half per cent of its population, has more purchasing power than the five hundred million people of all Europe and consumes more of the world's goods than the billion population of Asia.

Our generation is about to disclose whether it has the intelligence and courage to perpetuate its republican form of government.

A SHORTAGE OF NURSES.

A moderate sized and most capably operated nursing school in connection with a Chicago hospital normally has an entering class of from 25 to 30 nursing candidates. This year it has just three members in the class. This scarcity of nursing candidates is felt, to a greater or lesser degree, by almost every other training school in Chicago and Illinois.

This would be an alarming situation at any time, but it is aggravated by the fact that the army and navy are drawing heavily on the present force of trained nurses for their nurse corps. The army expects to expand its corps from 5,700 to 13,700, the navy from 700 to 1,500, with 1,100 more in reserve.

Nursing was formerly regarded by a great many young women as a profession offering interesting work, a reasonably good income, and a considerable degree of security as regarded employment. Why it should have lost its attraction is a mystery to us. The cause may be economic, but that does not seem to be the whole story. The registered nurse is still paid better than the average woman office worker. With a great many nursing schools virtually begging for students, the profession should receive consideration from young women looking for a career.

THE LITTLE FLOWER FADES.

Mayor La Guardia won the Republican nomination for mayor of New York in Tuesday's primary but the showing he made was anything but brilliant. He won by about 20,000 votes in a total of about 110,000.

His opponent, John R. Davies, had little money to spend in the campaign, no organization to amount to anything, and over the years has had relatively little publicity. Mayor La Guardia had the huge advantage of a patronage following built up over two terms, he has been the beneficiary of an immense amount of publicity over the years, and of late has been widely heralded as the boss of civilian defense.

It looks as if the Little Flower is fading. Republicans even in the east, which is supposed to be interventionist, did not turn out en masse to give their fire-breathing mayor a testimonial. Mr. La Guardia had the blessing of Wendell Willkie, a fact which suggests that the barefoot boy's support is something less than an asset in a Republican primary. If Mr. Willkie had held his peace, Mr. La Guardia might have done a little better, and could hardly have made a poorer showing than he did.

REACHING TO SMALL FACTORIES.

Representative Charles S. Dewey of Illinois has made public a letter he has recently written to principal executive officers of railroads in Illinois, suggesting that each railroad make a survey of industrial enterprises in the territories served by the road with the view to establishing "a system of pooling of plant facilities" for armament contracts and subcontracts.

Every railroad of any importance has a highly organized industrial department which is supposed to coöperate with the road's traffic department in the location of new industries and development of new business. If the railroads themselves are not already actively engaged in such a survey, for their own selfish interests if for no other reason, it is a sad commentary upon their efficiency and lack of initiative.

John Drury's "Old Chicago Homes" is the book of the week. It is a cornucopia of things you never knew until now about Chicago. The architects who are forever speaking of Louis Sullivan as a demigod of their profession can learn from Mr. Drury about the small stone house Sullivan built and lived in at 4575 Lake Park avenue.

* * *

Sullivan was the father of "functional" architecture, but he realized that sheer functionalism required ornament to relieve its bleakness. Hence the characteristic Sullivan botanical patterns that crawl across the façades of many of his buildings in intricate cast-iron designs. [A famous example: the Carson-Pirie portal at State and Madison streets.]

* * *

The domestic architecture of Chicago, about which we never boast, is amazing in its variety of styles. Even the city's bricks and stones are lively. For contrast, inspect the dwellings of the common citizens of New York, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. You will find them exceedingly monotonous.

ROYAL AIR FORCE.

Gadgets agleam on the instrument panel,
Sticks in the bomb-rack packed with doom,
Out from the chalk cliffs, over the Channel,
Racing God's gales thru the moonlit gloom

The blond lads go: the tall and the slim ones;
The talkative ones tensed, staid and still;
The still ones noisy; the gay turned grim ones—
All of them wond'ring, as brave boys will.

Shriek of the wind against slant wings thundering;
Tumult of motors; the bedlam sounds
Of mad-revolutioned propellers, plundering
Space of its power in their flashing rounds—

And a gray-eyed chap with his air-mates banters:
"Saw you out, Tom, with a tricky lass."
"I say, Harwood, beware the decanters—
You're nervy, you know, when you've had a glass."

Blenheim and Spitfire, Hurricane, Bristol,
Soaring and pouring in roaring flight,
While cannons crouch behind curves of crystal,
And machine-guns mouth the astonished night:

Grasped in the clasp of an instrument panel,
Steeled to survive where the red shells bloom,
Out from the chalk cliffs, over the Channel,
The blond lads go—to what glory, what doom!

HARD ROLL ROUNDELAY.

I find, by and large, I'm safe when I barge
Into any affair gastronomical,
Except a hard roll. Then my efforts are droll,
Grotesque—you could even say comical.

I manage soup well, at salads excel,
With lobster my manner is affable;
But when hard rolls explode their crumbs they unload,
And the total effect is, well, laughable.

However you take them, or bite them, or break them,
Hard rolls are so damned unpredictable;
But I'm not above 'em, 'cause, gosh! how I love 'em!
Those armor-plate rolls so delectable!

Still Harping on Hallie.

The diminutive, or shortened form, of a given name may be derived from more than one source. It would, therefore, have several meanings. Thus the name Hallie [Sept. 13], or as it is sometimes spelled Hally, may be attributed to any of 15 or more names beginning with Hal. In most dictionaries Hallie is classified as a diminutive of three names of Teutonic origin: Harelda, meaning "mighty in battle," and Harriet and Henrietta, each meaning "mistress of the home."

COMMON SENSE THINKING.

IN a recent discussion, the expression "to think clearly" was used in relation to good health. A friend takes exception because, as he put it, "You do not explain what you mean. Is clear thinking merely agreeing with you?"

I cannot conceive of normal mental well being as apart from the ability to reason from cause to effect. Furthermore, we desire to form opinions based upon a knowledge of the facts. In other words, blind belief in a cause or a policy calls for no reflection. No effort is put forth when one signs a petition. This probably accounts for the very bad habit which some of us have of subscribing our names to documents without reading them and without the slightest conviction. We do it merely to oblige.

Courts make decisions on the weight of evidence. In addition the testimony presented is measured as to its credibility. Does it dovetail?

About the only phase of life in which reality fails, is love. Then it is that the brain may become so befogged with admiration for a member of the opposite sex that judgment flies out of the window. Little wonder that love has been termed "madness" or a state of mind in which dispassionate scrutiny of the object of one's affections would be less than human. Xantippe hadn't been married very long before she realized that she had made a bad bargain even tho Socrates was the greatest sage of his day.

Whenever passion dominates, logic is absent. I once knew a great lawyer who had the trick of outward courtesy to his opponent, but his every sentence was a stiletto designed to prod him to anger. Calmness is necessary to orderly thought. We can no more argue a patient out of an obsession than we can telephone to Mars. Against ideas of persecution which are fixed, anything that we can say will be of little avail. It is like flinging electric light bulbs against a concrete wall.

Fortunately, the great majority of our citizens—eager for the truth—will attempt to preserve open minds. They are ready, however, at any given moment to decide—using the knowledge at hand. This attitude of alertness cannot be maintained when the faculties are like a fogged photographic plate, incapable of receiving an image.

But this does not mean a cold, impersonal, or unemotional approach. Quite the contrary. We may think of mentality as a saturated solution which has the power to crystallize into a decision, resulting in action at the right time.

The trouble with bias is that it ends in fanaticism, a sense of superiority which can brook no opposition. One's adherents are never mistaken, never in error. Cocksureness then becomes ludicrous. The disciples of such leaders, when the blinds are removed from their eyes, then marvel at their own docility. Later there will ensue a great deal of metaphoric self-castigation. World movements which have been led by those who were certain that they were omnipotent have fallen into oblivion.

It is an easy matter to do ordinary "sums," to add 2 and 2. It is not so simple to take two opposing doctrines, weigh them against each other, and draw a conclusion. This requires discipline, a well nourished body, and quiet. We need to sit down alone, away from all the clatter of the household, and meditate and ponder. The great mass of our men and women cannot be wrong. As a nation we will not make false moves if the people can be heard.

BLOND HAIR.

D. C. writes: I was blonde until I was 19. Now my hair is turning brown. Why do some persons stay light longer than others?

REPLY.

The beautician knows.

The complexion depends upon the amount of pigment [melanin] deposited in the skin, hair, etc. The red coloring matter of the blood enters into its formation. Flaxen hair will darken as the body produces and settles more of this material —an aging process.

NEAR THE TOP.

A. C. writes: Is high blood pressure considered a leading disease?

REPLY.

To my notion, yes. After a time, the heart and the kidneys may be injured, as well as the blood vessels. Diseases are jealous of one another. Each wishes to be supreme—to do more damage than any other. This Hitlerlike malady strikes at our vital defenses—the circulation.

AN EARLY INTERVENTIONIST.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Former President Hoover, in his address broadcast to the people last night, unearthed a fragment of history to show that present day folk who are hell bent for war are no different than those of more than a century ago. Mr. Hoover said on this point:

"Some Americans have perhaps forgotten that we had a vigorous interventionist movement in the United States urging us to join with England in combat with Napoleon. That interventionist movement was led by Fisher Ames, a journalist of that day, one-time member of congress, and said to have been prevented only by illness from becoming president of Harvard university. The leader against joining in war was one Thomas Jefferson.

"Fisher Ames thought Jefferson was reactionary and did not realize the modern forces. Ames insisted that Napoleon would dominate the world, including the United States. He was full of pungent phrases. I give a collection of them: 'I am sure we are to be subjugated by Bonaparte.' 'Let no men in America deceive themselves. If Bonaparte prevails [in Europe] we will be his vassals.' 'We shall be reduced to slavery.' 'In case Europe accepts peace and chains we of the United States are ripe and rotten for servitude and tribute.' 'Britain fights our battles.' 'One single hope of security is the British navy.' 'If Russia is disarmed how long will it be before England is done for?' 'We are infatuated enough to think America is a hiding place for liberty.'

"And Ames had some accomplishments in name calling. Generally he felt Jefferson, and Madison, and Monroe were the fifth column of that day. He says of them: 'Our noisy liberty men are eager for power and indifferent about the fall of our country.'

"And in those times ours was a puny nation of less people than New York City today. Except for the Fisher Ameses the Americans of that day were not scared."

MUST ELIMINATE HITLER.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 15.—Your editorial prompted by Mr. Lindbergh's reference to the American Jews deserves praise. The thoughts you expressed are sane and wholly American in spirit. I cannot, however, agree with your criticism of our government's foreign policy. It appears exceedingly clear that unless Hitler and Nazlism are eliminated, the future peace and security of our country, the United States, will be ever endangered. Say what you will, if peace is made with Hitler, we shall have to do business with him and we cannot do business with Hitler and continue our American way of life. I feel quite confident that in thinking so I am thinking in terms of American interest.

AN AMERICAN OF JEWISH ORIGIN.

FROM A USO CONTRIBUTOR.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—After reading that Paul V. McNutt, in charge of building the army recreation centers, has not produced one building for that purpose, even after the plain people—many by personal sacrifices—had donated $13,000,000 for maintaining the recreation facilities, I have vowed that I will donate no more to any proposition run by our inefficient government agents. There will be thousands like me!

H. JOHNSON.

MUST GET RID OF WILLKIE.

Park Ridge, Ill., Sept. 16.—After a careful survey among friends and fellow workers who voted Republican last fall, I find one thing on which they agree—i. e., get rid of Willkie as spokesman for the Republican party. They have no faith in what he says, and as long as he is connected in any way to our party, they will be belligerent.

The Republican party has a big job to do in the coming congressional election, and if we are to make any gain, or keep what we have, the leaders better get together and officially stop Mr. Willkie from making any indorsements or any speeches that will only be considered "campaign oratory."

JOHN BOURKE.

WHY LINGER IN ICELAND?

Warren, O., Sept. 15.—Don't you think Mr. Churchill should keep his promise and get the British soldiers out of Iceland? When Mr. Roosevelt quarters soldiers of a neutral country with soldiers of a belligerent country, in the declared European war zone—"incidents" are bound to occur. United States soldiers are able to defend Iceland alone. The British could go home and help the Russians—who really need help. This is no time for an Icelandic vacation.

Also, don't you think Mr. Roosevelt should define for the American people just what constitutes our defense waters?

LEONORA GRALEY.

MORE PLAYGROUND NEEDS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—I note Peter J. Peel's letter about recreation facilities in the 34th ward. I call attention to playgrounds in the 45th ward. I think funds have been appropriated to enlarge the play space at the Blaine school but so far the school board has not had the work done. Why not? Children in the vicinity of the Blaine and Hamilton schools, both located in the 45th ward, find recreation only in the streets and alleys. And there are no vacant lots here.

WILLIAM J. FLEMING.

A QUIETER CITY.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—I remarked about the noise of the city last week when I was here. I wish Chicago would take a tip from Memphis. I slept in a hotel in the heart of that city for one week, and it couldn't have been more quiet down on the farm. No street noises. Their street cars and buses run quietly.

MRS. V. S. B.

SEAS OPEN TO ALL?

Elmhurst, Ill., Sept. 15.—May I raise the question: What constitutes freedom of the seas? Shouldn't the other fellow have the same right to be on the sea? If nothing else happens from this radio demand for freedom of the seas but to make Britain realize that she, too, must leave our ships alone his talk will not have been in vain!

R. O.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—A piece of birthday cake was presented to each customer one day this week, and I received my share along with my breakfast. The birthday cake set up a train of thought which brought me back to the caption, "Gay Nineties." It presents a picture of old Chicago of 40 years ago, when John R. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson were taking care personally of their customers in a small place in the vicinity of Van Buren and Clark streets. Can you remember the one-arm chair, the good coffee in just plain mugs, the usual rush at noon, when 15 cents was the highest price charged for a good whole-wheat or rye sandwich, a piece of good apple pie, and a mug of coffee?

Hundreds of Western Union Morse operators would stream out of the old Phoenix building at Jackson and Clark, some to the Drake caravansary [the old Grand Pacific hotel] across the street, where a mug of beer [good beer, too] was a nickel, and some of the best lunch a man ever ate, and a smile from the bartender that gave a zest to your meal, and all for a nickel. But we had a lot of fun and plenty. Those days were as satisfactory as present days with inflated prices and a tax on every commodity. Gentlemen, it gives food for thought.

OLD-TIMER.

SAYS, KEEP UP THE FIGHT!

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 13.—This was a momentous day in the history of American journalism. I wish to take this opportunity of complimenting your organization on the splendid editorial on page 1 of this morning's paper.

In the name of honesty, integrity, and democracy, I beg of you, keep up the fight!

SEWER CLEANED.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A sewer on our corner is filled up to the top with mud and other débris and does not carry the water away. As a result automobiles speed thru this water throwing it over on the sidewalk leaving a pool which makes walking impossible. This walk covers a distance of about 150 feet and lies in front of five store fronts.

I wish to advise that we made a thoro investigation and cleaned the catch basin inlet on July 2d. Satisfactory service now prevails.

GREEN PROMISES WEST SIDE HELP ON TRAFFIC WOES

Refuses Commitment on Congress St. Plan.

BY HAL FOUST.

Gov. Dwight H. Green yesterday told Ald. George D. Kells, chairman of the council traffic committee, that the Illinois highway department will study measures for prompt relief of intolerable rush hour congestion on Chicago's west side. Suggestions include one-way street systems, parking restrictions, and better stop-and-go control.

The main purpose of the conference, attended by a dozen persons in the Union League club, was to get the governor to approve the $40,000,000 Congress street superparkway scheme. Green listened for two hours to arguments in favor of this much criticized proposal, and then declined to commit his administration.

Manifold Objections.

The governor, since his inauguration last January, has been without a chief highway engineer of his own selection to investigate the many objections to the Congress plan. The drive, it is charged, would impede the mails at the postoffice, would be inaccessible to much of the central business district, and inaccessible to rural highways, and would constitute a misuse of gasoline tax revenue to benefit certain realty interests.

Kells and Ald. James B. Bowler, chairman of the council finance committee, said during the meeting that the city, county, and federal governments were blocked in plans to build the Congress parkway until the state announces its policy. They urged, without success, that Green voice his immediate approval.

Says Coöperation Pledged.

President Clayton Smith of the county board told how the board had agreed to coöperate with the city in any superhighway construction within Chicago. Theodore T. McCrosky, executive director of the Chicago plan commission, which is dominated by the city hall, said he believed the Congress route should be the first to be built in a comprehensive superhighway system.

Because it would take five years to build a superhighway, however, the west side traffic problem was described as too acute for relief to await such construction. The governor said state engineers will be assigned at once to the job of devising one way streets or any other measure of relief that could become operative promptly.

$470,200 ADDED TO THE COUNTY'S BUDGET FOR 1941

The Cook county board of commissioners yesterday adopted a supplemental budget for 1941 adding $470,200 to the original appropriation of $20,828,282 for the county government voted last December.

The supplemental appropriations were $94,000 less than total requests of $564,000 submitted by various department heads. In 1940 the county board made supplemental appropriations of $678,000 on top of an original budget of $22,202,961.

The largest item approved yesterday was $145,000 for jurors' fees, in addition to the $479,500 originally passed. Other items included $60,000 for the children's home placing division of the Juvenile court; $70,000 to County Treasurer John Toman for extra work occasioned by the large volume of tax foreclosure suits; $45,000 to County Clerk Michael J. Flynn for operations of the enlarged bureau of vital statistics, and $43,000 to the Oak Forest institution for new water pipes and pumping equipment.

TESTS SEEK WAY TO MAKE BIOTIN IN BIG QUANTITIES

Experiments which may lead to the synthetic manufacture in quantity of biotin [Vitamin H] were told yesterday to specialists attending the closing sessions of a symposium on the biological action of vitamins at the University of Chicago. The symposium was an event of the university's 50th aniversary celebration.

Biotin, which is necessary to plant and animal life, is found in potatoes, potato starches, milk, liver, yeast, and egg yolks. The compound has been broken down in the laboratory and research workers are now trying to solve its chemical makeup.

Much of the work of isolating the compound has been done by Prof. Vincent du Vigneaud, head of the biochemistry department of Cornell university, who told of his experiments yesterday.

SUPERHIGHWAYS URGED AS WAY TO HELP ARMS DRIVE

Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner of Michigan, who for eight years was highway commissioner of his state, charged yesterday that a lag in superhighway construction is causing a serious problem in the nation's armament program. He spoke at the Drake hotel before the convention of the National association of Motor Bus Operators.

Van Wagoner warned that the decentralization of arms production in metropolitan areas "threaten congestion and havoc." As an example, he cited the case of Ypsilanti, Mich., population 13,000, where the Ford Motor company is building a bomber factory to employ 60,000 men. Its source of labor, said the governor, is Detroit, 25 miles away, yet there is only a 20 foot highway between the two cities.

He said that there are three ways to furnish the factory with labor: Building of a new city of 300,000 population, building a shanty town of temporary shacks, or constructing a superhighway. The last, he argued, would be least expensive and would be "of lasting benefit during peace times."

Five Handbooks Raided in Loop Area; Eight Held

Police yesterday raided five alleged handbooks in the loop area and arrested eight men who will be arraigned today in South State street court on gambling charges. The raids were at 188 North Clark street, 223 North Clark street, 725 South Dearborn street, 543 South Wabash avenue, and 1208 Michigan avenue.

SPEEDER CAUGHT TWICE WITHIN 15 MINUTES; FINED

Warren Field Dixon, 20 years old, yesterday was fined $30 in Traffic court on two charges of speeding. Judge John Gutknecht continued a third speeding charge until Dec. 26, when Dixon will return from his studies at Princeton university. The judge also forbade him to drive again before that time.

Dixon said he was arrested twice within 15 minutes on speeding charges on the morning of Sept. 10, when he was returning from a Princeton rally at Winnetka. He was arrested the third time the following evening.

Dixon lives at 232 East Walton street.

DIES AT LEGION MEETING AS CAR DIVES INTO RIVER

Edward Metzger, 57 years old, was drowned yesterday when he lost his way and drove his car off the Jones Island city dock into the Milwaukee river at Milwaukee, where he was attending the American Legion convention. Metzger, a janitor at the Bryn Mawr elementary school, lived at 1117 West 63d street. He was a member of the Board of Education post of the Legion.

Helen Van Abbema, 13, of 10852 Campbell avenue, was killed at 108th street and Western avenue by a car driven by Sander Stroden, 24, of 3357 Morgan street.

Michael D. Malone, 46, of Freeport in Stephenson county, died in the County hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday night when he was struck by an automobile at 52d and Ogden avenues in Cicero. The driver was Joseph Hedjuk, 34, of 4615 South Clinton avenue, Forest View.

Victor M. Reihl, 29, of 623 Virginia street, Crystal Lake, died in Palatine hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when his car and one driven by Milo Briekus, 26, of Rapid City, S. D., collided. Briekus suffered a possible skull fracture and a broken leg. The accident occurred at Algonquin and Rohlwing roads in Palatine township.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 665 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 459 were killed in Chicago, where 17,881 were injured in the same period.

Tavern Murder Sentence Affirmed by High Court

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday affirmed the conviction of Charles Blue, 63 years old, a Chicagoan, who was sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary for the murder in 1937 of Axel Olson during a quarrel in a tavern over a woman.

SOLVE MURDER OF WATCHMAN; SEIZE TWO BOYS

Third Who Made Daring Escape Still Hunted.

One month ago yesterday Mitchell Hetman, 45 years old, a watchman, was found tied to a post and beaten to death in a furniture factory at 2130 Fulton street. His right ear was almost severed, his pockets turned inside out, and a towel which partly covered his mouth was twisted around his throat.

Clues were almost nonexistent, but Acting Captain Walter McGloon of the Warren avenue station, took personal charge of the investigation. He followed all available leads, listened to neighborhood gossip, and finally obtained a photograph of three Negro youths, seated at a south side night club table, whom he thought might know something of the crime.

Raid an Apartment.

Sunday night a squad raided an apartment on the third floor at 1958 Hubbard street, seeking William Norwell, 19, one of the three in the photograph As police pounded on the locked door Norwell leaped six feet from his window into that of a neighboring apartment, risking a fall into the street; raced down stairs in his underwear, and escaped despite a fusillade of police bullets.

Encouraged by this indication that Norwell objected to questioning, Capt. McGloon instructed his detectives to memorize the faces in the photograph, keep a sharp watch for the three, and arrest them on sight. Yesterday Detectives James Hannan and Patrick McNamara were passing Union park, Ogden avenue and Randolph street, when James Norvell, 15, a brother of William, strolled out.

His face was familiar and the detectives took him to the station. There he readily admitted a number of burglaries and named a companion, Edgar Shepherd, 15, of 115 North Leavitt street, who was picked up and also admitted the thefts. Capt. McGloon and a squad drove the two thru the Warren avenue, Desplaines and West North avenue districts as they pointed out places they had robbed.

Drives by Furniture Plant.

Apparently by accident Capt. McGloon drove past the furniture factory where Hetman was killed. There was no reaction. Some time later he drove down the alley and stopped in the rear.

"You robbed this place, didn't you?" he asked. The two said they had. "And you killed that watchman, didn't you?" Again they said yes. "Who beat him," McGloon went on. "Willie," James Norvell answered.

The two said they, with the older Norvell, were in the rear of the factory and accidentally broke a window. Hetman came running out, they said, and Willie tackled him, ordered them to hold him down, then beat him unconscious with a club. Edgar then tied him up and he was dragged inside and left to die. They said they broke open the safe but got nothing.

The two told police they had committed 21 burglaries and obtained about $700, and that they "worked" at night and slept by day, spending their loot on drinks and women. Both Shepherd and the older Norvell have juvenile records.

Capt. McGloon is still looking for Willie.

Tries to Steal 2 Uniforms from Home of Policeman

A burglar stole two uniforms early yesterday in the apartment of Policeman Joseph Shaughnessy, police marksmanship instructor, at 6800 Bishop street. But the burglar was so noisy he awakened Shaughnessy, who gave chase. The burglar dropped the uniforms in his flight, but escaped with three guns.

PLAN CO-OPERATION OF FBI AND POLICE AGAINST SABOTEURS

J. Albert Woll.

Narly 100 law enforcement officers of Chicago and its suburbs attended a meeting yesterday in the United States courthouse at which plans were laid for close coöperation between them and the federal Bureau of Investigation in guarding the internal security of the United States. J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, was the principal speaker. Movies depicting the FBI in action against saboteurs were shown.

DRIVE OUT VICE, COURTNEY TELLS COUNTY TOWNS

A law enforcement session was held yesterday in the office of State's Attorney Courtney. Its announced purpose was to put an end to gambling of all kinds, especially slot machines, in the county territory outside the city limits, and to force the closing of disreputable roadhouses and resorts.

President Bertram J. Cahn of the Chicago Crime commission, one of those present, said there was no doubt or conjecture about what Courtney expects in the future from the law enforcing officers. He said Courtney had told his views in "a very forceful manner" to those who attended the meeting.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien was among the first to be called into Courtney's office. With Courtney then were his first assistant, Gilbert F. Crowley; his chief investigator, Capt. Daniel Gilbert; President Cahn, and Edward A. Zimmerman, operating director of the crime commission.

Following O'Brien into the office were George Stedronsky, president of the village of Cicero; Martin Wojciechowski, Cicero police chief; Philip W. Howard, police chief of Chicago Heights; Mayor John Jaranowski and Police Chief Henry Wieklinski of Columet City, and Police Chief John R. McEvoy of Blue Island.

MORESCHI WINS BATTLE TO KEEP AFL UNION OFFICE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 17 (AP).—Joseph W. Moreschi, named president of the Hod Carriers', Building and Common Laborers' union [AFL] by other international officers in 1926, today was elected to a five year term at the union's first convention since 1911. In the last 30 years, the union's executive board of eight members had appointed all international officers.

Opposition of a minority faction to the Moreschi administration collapsed and his nomination was the signal for a demonstration by delegates. They shouted, whistled approval and snakedanced thru the hall for 12 minutes.

The minority, headed by Brian Feeney, business agent for New York's "sandhogs," had been beaten in every convention maneuver by the administration forces. Efforts to limit the term of union officers to two years was voted down this afternoon in favor of five year terms.

HOLC, CROWDED OUT OF CAPITAL, MOVING TO N. Y.

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The Home Owners Loan corporation, crowded out of Washington by expanding New Deal agencies, will set up headquarters on six floors at 2 Park avenue.

A staff already is on duty there and the actual transfer of equipment and furniture started yesterday. By next week 1,000 employés will take over the new offices.

Louis Schramm, of the company which is doing the moving, said 60 freight cars will be required to move the furniture, equipment, and records.

GAMBLED, LOST! THAT'S STORY OF INSURANCE HEAD

Carlin Says He Had Right to Speculate.

Gallup, N. M., Sept. 17 [Special].—Francis R. Carlin, former supervisor of the St. George Fraternal Insurance society, which has headquarters in Chicago, sat in his cell here today and talked freely of how he had speculated with the organization's funds—and lost.

Carlin is charged with embezzling $130,000 of the funds and had been sought thruout the country since he disappeared from Chicago in May. He was arrested here yesterday. He had started a prosperous electric sign business in Gallup, but his British accent aroused the suspicions of Sheriff D. F. Mollica of McKinley county.

Says He Had "Right to Trade."

"I had a supervisor's right to trade, sell, and deal in bonds and securities belonging to the society," Carlin said. "I made $25,000 for the society in a month, using some of their stocks, and decided to do some trading for myself.

"But it didn't work right for me. Now I'm going to take my medicine and not wash any dirty laundry doing it. I know some of the losses charged against me were in ordinary business dealings, but I guess whether those losses were 30 cents or $130,000, it's all the same when it's outside the law.

"I plan to plead guilty and offer extenuating circumstances. I have had difficulties and illness."

Carlin, who is 41 years old, was in the British air corps during the World war. He said he would "like to get back over there."

Wife Still Is Missing.

Carlin's wife, Hazel, with whom he formerly lived at 650 Essex road, Glen Ellyn, is still missing. He said he didn't know where she was, but added she was ill and hoped there were no efforts made to find her.

"All that rot about my marrying some one a month ago in Arizona is balmy twaddle," he declared in clipped accent. "Don't ask me about my former life in England. That's something that won't do any good to reveal. I've got a mother and a sister over there. They're under bombing raids and have enough to worry about."

Sheriff Mollica is holding Carlin for Chicago authorities. The state's attorney's office there has dispatched a detective to Gallup to bring back Carlin.

SOCIETY HAS 1,511 MEMBERS.

The fraternal insurance society of which Carlin was head has 1,511 members. They are British or of British descent, half of them having paid up insurance aggregating $200,000. The securities left in the society portfolio are now valued at only $25,000 and a court order has been entered for the society's liquidation.

Stritch Dedicates New Center for Service Men

Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch yesterday dedicated a new Catholic recreation center for service men at 1022 South Wabash avenue. The center, to be operated by the National Catholic Community service of United Service organizations, is a two story building with an English basement. Reading rooms, an auditorium, and game rooms feature the equipment.

Electric Cooking

helps keep vitamins in the food—saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better—are more nourishing

Why pay good money for nourishing food—and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it?

Electric range cooking saves precious vitamins and minerals, makes your meals tastier and more nourishing.

Vegetables cooked with electric heat require little or no added water. Healthful vitamins and minerals are not "boiled out" and then poured down the drain.

In roasting and baking, the odorless, draftless electric heat protects rich natural juices. Meats shrink less . . . retain more nutritive juices.

Cook the modern electric way and give your family the extra nourishment they deserve.

You'll find a wide variety of attractive electric ranges to choose from—priced to suit every budget!

The average electricity cost for electric range cooking in Chicago homes is only $2.11 a month.

STRIKE BLACKING OUT KANSAS CITY QUICKLY BROKEN

Six Arrested; Home Guard Units Mobilized.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 17 [Special].—Prompt official action today halted the paralyzing effects of an unheralded AFL power strike which blacked out this city of 400,000 for four hours last night, causing untold damage and inconvenience.

Pulled switches plunged hospital operating rooms into darkness, stalled laden street cars and trolley buses, damaged property at preparedness plants, and threatened the city's water supply.

The life of Hebert Schnieders, 2 years old, an infantile paralysis victim, was threatened when electricity was cut off from his respirator. Hospital authorities set up an emergency line from nearby Kansas City, Kas.

Operate by Flashlights.

Surgeons were forced to perform operations with only the illumination of flashlights. Several babies were born, one by means of a Caesarean operation, under candle light.

Aroused by what Mayor John B. Gage termed an outlaw strike, officials took swift action. Gov. Forrest C. Donnel mobilized home guards and police swore in 250 special officers to serve thru the emergency.

Nonstrikers were sent back to work under police protection, Mayor Gage and Police Chief Harold Anderson heading one detail that ejected some 25 strikers from a power station of the Kansas City Power and Light company.

Police arrested five strikers and one of their leaders, Albert F. Wright, representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers [AFL]. Charges of trespass were filed against Anderson and malicious destruction of private property against the other five.

Didn't Realize Hazards.

"Did you realize all the hazards to the public involved, such as lightless hospitals and stoppage of the city's water supply?" the chief asked Wright.

"No, I didn't realize about all that," Wright replied.

Day by Day on the Farm

By BOB BECKER

Cram Ducks with Food.

Sept. 17, 1941.

TWO groups of poultry on the Du Page county farm are being urged to eat heartily and often this week. In the poultry yard about 27 fuzzy little Muscovy ducklings are being crammed with food in an effort to speed up their growth and put warm plumage on them because it won't be long until nippy autumn nights will make any duck wish for plenty of warm feathers.

Right now it's a sort of race between these ducklings [from very late hatches] and the inevitable Jack Frost. In an alfalfa field not far from the sheep barn about 15 turkeys are getting lots of corn and other foods for an entirely different reason. The flockmaster said this week that these turkeys are being fattened up ["finished" as he described the routine] because a little later they will make their final appearance on a dining table as roast turkey with cranberry sauce.

They're Amusing.

The amusing little Muscovy ducks aren't more than five inches long. Clumsy but attractive on their wanderings around the poultry yard, they don't have to worry much about the daily program because they are constantly under the protective watchfulness of three old Muscovies. The three old birds seem to be pooling their work of looking after the young ducklings. The flockmaster remarked that he had a late hatch of Muscovies last fall and they came thru the winter all right. He is hoping he'll have the same good luck this fall with the young birds on the farm.

The farm workers staged a sheep roundup this week and the sheep didn't enjoy the proceedings at all. They were herded in the barn where they could be brought out one by one to get their identification numbers checked and recorded on paper. As soon as this was done, one of the men would get a good hold on the animal, wrestle it close to a table and there it was given a little drink of copper sulphate, a green colored liquid that is a specific against stomach worms.

Hard to Handle.

We watch this routine for several minutes and it was very evident that not one of the animals thought there was any fun in being forced to drink a few ounces of medicine. Several of the husky ewes gave the boys some pretty strenuous workouts when they struggled to get away.

Even the longhaired Karakul sheep had to get in line and receive treatment. One of the men was commenting on the fact that Napoleon, the good natured Karakul ram, is even more tame now than when he came to the farm several months ago. He's been around the chickens and guinea hens so long that the latter walk all over him when he stretches out for a rest. As many as three White Rocks have been seen on Napoleon's back at one time while he dozed in a corner of the poultry yard.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR ROGERS PARK STRANGLE VICTIM

Funeral services were held yesterday for the unidentified young woman who was found strangled to death in Rogers Park on Aug. 21. More than 350 persons attended the services, held in a funeral home at 2064 Polk street. The body was buried in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Thomas and Carmen Coglianese, the undertakers, volunteered to pay all the expenses of the burial to prevent the young woman's body from being placed in a grave in Potter's field. County hospital chaplains of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish faiths read the services. Pallbearers volunteered their services.

Thousands of persons viewed the body while it was in the county morgue and at the funeral home. None could identify the young woman. Police believe that she was a resident of another city. No clews were found.

Lee Stewart, Rockford Store President, Dies

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Lee Stewart, 70, president of D. J. Stewart and company, local department store, died last night at his home. He began work for his father 56 years ago and became president of the firm 38 years later. He leaves his widow, two sons, and four grandchildren.

NEWSPAPER USE OF RADIO TOLD AT FCC HEARING

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Testimony that William Randolph Hearst had a firm conviction his newspapers should use radio to promote their own interests was heard today by the Federal Communications commission.

The testimony was given as the FCC resumed public hearings in its investigation to decide whether to promulgate rules for handling future applications by newspaper interests to acquire radio stations.

Emile J. Gough, former general manager of Hearst Radio, Inc., the first witness today, identified correspondence dealing with relations between Hearst newspapers and Hearst radio stations.

A letter from J. V. Connolly, president of King Features syndicate, a Hearst enterprise, said Hearst had written Connolly "with regard to his firm conviction that his newspapers should use the radio for exploitation."

C. H. SCHWEPPE ESTATE IS LEFT TO 2 CHILDREN

The will of Charles H. Schweppe, admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Martin C. Decker in Waukegan, leaves his personal property with an estimated value of $175,000 to his daughter, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., and his son, John Shedd Schweppe, a junior in the Northwestern university medical school.

Until they reach the age of 30 the children are to receive the income from the property, with the Northern Trust company and Attorney Cyrus H. Adams as trustees. Then the principal is to be divided equally between them. Mrs. Armour is 27 and young Schweppe is 24.

Schweppe ended his life Aug. 26. He was president of the Lee Higginson corporation, investment bankers, and president of St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Laura Shedd Schweppe died in 1937, leaving most of her 5 million dollar estate to the son and daughter.

CALL DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday at an inquest into the death of John J. McCarthy, Fort Wayne, Ind., 44 years old, a locomotive engineer. He was fatally burned when the locomotive of a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train overturned at Canal street and Cermak road Tuesday morning.

SYNOPSIS.

Gay Ripley, young American girl sent by a New York firm to Paris to buy antiques, runs into her snobbish Cousin Lou, who is Mrs. Hiram Rentrew, a rich widow. Her cousin insists that Gay stay with her, but soon after Gay moves in her cousin is taken to a hospital, ill, and Gay is left in the apartment with her cousin's brother-in-law, Horace Rentrew, and the servants, Hortense and Manx. Gay goes to visit Cousin Lou in the hospital and runs into Miles Dorsey, a young Englishman, who is a junior partner in a firm that looks after Mrs. Rentrew's affairs; Raoul de Chabenil, a handsome young Frenchman, and Estrella, her cousin's dressmaker. Her cousin insists that Gay take her jewel box, with a valuable necklace in it, home and put it in the wall safe. Raoul insists on driving Gay home and during the drive he bumps into another car, and at the same time the jewel box is thrown to the floor of his car, but Gay retrieves it. That night Gay goes to dinner with Geoff and Catherine Macadam, old friends of hers, and Miles Dorsey. They see Raoul and Estrella in the café together and when Gay asks them about Raoul they act mysterious. Gay asks Miles to persuade her cousin to send the jewel box to the bank. When Gay gets home that night she learns her cousin has died. Gay, unable to sleep, is sure she hears some one in her room.

INSTALMENT X.

INQUEST DEMANDED.

The darkness seemed now to be separating into planes, some inkily solid, some less so. Bang opposite, I said, was the fireplace, 12 feet from the foot of the bed. Immediately to the right of this was the Marie Laurencin portrait and under that the safe.

Continuing in this direction there came in order the Riesner table, two big windows with a dressing table between, a three fold Coromandel screen, then the dressing room door. Left from the fireplace a Louis Seize commode, a chaise longue, and nothing else I could picture till you got to the hall door.

Left and right I watched for the shifting solid mass which would tell which way the person would be heading. Minutes, I couldn't have told how many, dragged torturingly by and nothing happened, no, nothing at all.

And then suddenly I smelled something. A whiff, but strong. It brought my scalp up in prickles. Wintergreen! A blast of it straight in my face.

There was no one there.

Yes, I'd got the lamp on now, and I was up on my elbow, combing every softly lit corner. No one! And the panel over the safe tightly closed.

The long curtains bellied out into the room. Some one could have slipped behind them on the passage to the dressing room, coming into the open only where they ended in a line with my face. The door on my right was just a tiny crack ajar, I couldn't swear I hadn't left it like that, but . . .

The dressing room was empty as well.

I wonder I'd nerve enough to go poking into Cousin Lou's huge wardrobe closets. It didn't matter, there was no one inside. I was about to decide the wintergreen odor had simply been left behind from Hortense's known visit when I touched a Persian prayer rug hung flat against the wall and felt it give.

Behind the rug was one of those flush, papered-over doors one sometimes finds in French houses. It led quite obviously into the hall, but it was locked, it might well be from the outer side.

If nothing had been taken from the safe, how was I ever to know whether or not the whole business was imagination.

And now, of course, I couldn't open the darned contraption! It had looked so simple when Horace finally managed it, but not one of my twiddles brought any result.

The hall? Not a stir in all its expanse of close, flower scented darkness; but there was no occasion for any now.

In bed once more I read a magazine, or tried to, determined not to close an eye till Manx brought my coffee.

* *

"I couldn't catch Horace," I confided to Catherine over lunch. "He got off to the nursing home while I was having my bath. I still don't know if that safe was raided. It's like wearing a hair shirt."

"Why worry, Gay? It isn't as tho you were sure some one did get into your room."

I wasn't sure. Couldn't be. It made me hate telling Horace and rousing his suspicions against his beloved Hortense.

"But supposing something is gone," I said. "Will he take my word against hers? I might have done the lifting. I'd a far better chance."

"Yes, but how about getting rid of what you'd taken? Horace Rentrew's no fool. He's bound to credit you with more sense than to go stealing valuables you couldn't hope to sell. Aren't all those jewels insured?"

"One isn't." I whispered what it was and Catherine drew in her breath. "And," I added, "I suppose I might manage to place antique necklace like that if I tried hard enough. O, I expect you're right, I'm getting jitters over nothing! Now then, what is this mystery about Raoul de Chab."

"Ssh! Will you look who's coming to join us?"

It was Miles Dorsey, glum faced, treading toward us between the tables of women lunchers. Looking as tho he loathed being in a department store restaurant and the purpose that brought him there even more.

"Well, Miles! Sit down."

Catherine cleared her parcels off the third chair. He accepted it none too graciously, I thought, and announced that he had already fed.

"I knew I'd find Miss Ripley with you. It's my sole reason for barging in."

"Frank, anyhow!" Catherine's mirth struck me as misplaced. "What's your excuse, walking off with her bag?"

He didn't like being ragged. He leaned his elbows on the table and spoke pointedly to me.

"It's your cousin's death, Miss Ripley. Could you get back to America on extremely short notice—that is, if it seemed advisable?"

I gaped at him. "Are you raving, or am I?"

Catherine patted his sleeve. "Miles, dear, aren't you feeling quite the thing?"

He took hold of her hand and firmly removed it. "I think," he said, "it might be a wise move." He started rumpling his smooth hair, caught himself up, and repaired the damage. "O, the whole thing's absurd, preposterous," he exploded under his breath. "It will turn, I imagine, on—see here, Catherine, what precisely do you know against Hornton's ability?"

Her eyes were dark pools of bewilderment. "Miles," she whispered, "you can't mean this? Well! Now you're asking. It's entirely a matter of what I've been told."

"What have you been told? That he relies largely on social pull, neglects his patients, makes occasional mistakes?"

"Let's leave it at that. If you'll kindly explain what Charles Hornton has to do with——" Catherine stopped. "I know he was Mrs. Rentrew's doctor, but——"

"Hush! He was. I don't say anything's wrong, in my opinion nothing is less likely, but—there may be an inquest. So now you know."

"Inquest!" Catherine gasped, her hand now on mine. "You're talking nonsense. Why?"

"Don't ask me. Yes, naturally I'm irritated. So is Geoffrey. So will Hornton be when he hears—and he'll fight tooth and nail to stop it, make sure of that. Some old woman's notion, utterly groundless, I daresay, but unless it can be squashed——"

"Who wants this inquest?" I pinned him down.

"Who? Why the one person who can call the deal. Horace Rentrew. Who else?"

Horace? But last night . . .

"Let's get this straight, Mr. Dorsey. I was with Horace right after he got the news. It was a terrible blow, but he seemed to be accepting what the doctor had said—sudden stroke, more or less expected. Has something happened to——" I broke off, remembering. "No, it can't have been that. I mean it was after I'd told him he broke down and cried."

"Told him what?"

"Why, about the fire. He'd no idea. O, he was wild for a second, but as I never let on who was with her the very next moment——"

"With Mrs. Rentrew! Yes, I remember."

For a quarter of a minute the three of us sat perfectly still. Then, reluctantly, Miles Dorsey shook his head.

"Rentrew's said nothing about the fire rumpus. Nothing coherent at all beyond a categorical assertion concerning a blood pressure test done on his sister-in-law just over a year ago. He's irrational, that's the mischief. And mule-headed. Says it's a public duty to bring a careless practitioner to book and that Mrs. Rentrew herself would be the first to approve his action."

I let that pass. I'd felt Dr. Hornton wasn't going any too strong with Cousin Lou.

"If it should happen," continued our lawyer friend, more diffident but still determined, "you, Miss Ripley, may find yourself drawn into a fairly unpleasant mess. That's why I suggest you simply clear out while the decision's hanging fire"

"I can't," I said shortly and looked him in the eye. "Would you care to hear why?"

He listened sharply to my story of the night before, then shrugged it away. The safe could be opened this afternoon. If its contents remained intact, I'd have nothing to fear.

"Think those servants would risk a thing like that with a man in the apartment? Yes, Catherine Macadam, I meant that for you. Your pair of brutes were all on their own. Quite another situation, don't you agree?"

As always, Catherine had gone a little white at the reference to her own ghastly experiences. It made me realize how only broadmindedness kept her from thinking the worst of Hortense.

"I think he's talking sense, Catherine," I said. "I hope so, because no pending death inquiry is going to scare me out of Paris. Thanks some more, Mr. Dorsey, but don't hold it against me if I decline your good advice."

SARA ROOSEVELT ESTATE TO BE KEY TO REALTY VALUE

Appraisal Is Expected to Indicate Trend.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—Appraisal of the estate of President Roosevelt's mother, the late Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, is expected to indicate the trend in value of fashionable real estate in the old Dutch country along the bluff overlooking the Hudson river.

Old ancestral estates in the vicinity have been breaking up in recent years. Keeping the large mansions and surrounding land is an expensive proposition, and some members of the younger generation are giving up their inherited properties.

The Roosevelts' Hyde Park estate on the Hudson will pass to President Roosevelt in the disposition of his mother's estate, an appraisal of which will be filed here in about six months, according to Attorney Henry T. Hackett, one of the executors.

Title Passes Tax Free.

The ancestral part of the estate, the rambling stone mansion and about 400 acres, will go to the President entirely free of inheritance taxes. Title passes automatically to him under the will of his father, James Roosevelt, who bequeathed the property to his wife for her use during her lifetime and upon her death to their son, Franklin.

At the time of James Roosevelt's death 40 years ago a small state inheritance tax was paid. A federal estate tax also was paid at that time but was later refunded because the federal statute was held unconstitutional. There was no state tax then on real property left to direct descendants.

The President's father, who was president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Hudson River railroad and who had inherited a fortune made in the sugar business, left a gross estate of between $700,000 and $800,000. In addition to his bequest of the Hyde Park estate, the elder Roosevelt left some real estate to his son by his first marriage, James R. Roosevelt, a half brother of the President. When James R. Roosevelt died in 1927 he left to Franklin property valued at $100,000.

Remainder Divided in Three.

The remainder of the estate left by the President's father, aside from several minor bequests, was divided into three parts. One part went to James R. Roosevelt absolutely. Another part was held in trust for Franklin and was paid to him when he became 21.

The third part was held in trust, the income paid to Sara Roosevelt during her life, and upon her death was to be divided equally between James R. Roosevelt and Franklin. It is understood the President's share of this part also will pass to him tax free, the tax on it also having been paid by his father's estate.

In addition to the property Mrs. Sara Roosevelt held in trust from the estate of her husband, she was reputed to have owned considerable wealth in her own name, having inherited property from the Delano family. This was disposed of by her will.

President's Children Share.

It directed that nine-tenths of her personal property be given to Franklin. The residuary estate is to be divided equally among her daughter-in-law — the President's wife — and the latter's daughter and four sons.

Mrs. Roosevelt owned in her own name a small house in Hyde Park, the James Roosevelt Memorial library, and a summer estate at Campobello, N. B. This property also was bequeathed to the President, being part of her residuary estate.

Under present inheritance laws, the President is required to pay a federal inheritance tax on that part of the legacy from his mother which exceeds $40,000 and a state inheritance tax on that part of his legacy over $5,000.

Mint Inspector Sentenced for Stealing Small Coins

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP).—George Norris Kirby, 51, who lost his $2,100 a year inspector's job at the United States mint for stealing nickels and dimes, got a jail sentence of three months after explaining he used the loot to treat women employés to ice cream and soda pop. Thefts extending over four months never exceeded 75 cents a day.

Rainbow Garden of Giant Tulips

40 Bulbs for $2

Prepaid 600 miles

Early tall, giant late tulips, eight each of five named varieties separately bagged and labeled embracing these colors:

RED, PINK, ORANGE, YELLOW, LAVENDER

You saw them at the Flower Show last spring, or at the Lasker Estate—gorgeous giant tulips from Vaughan's great fields in Oregon, largest American plantation of these beautiful flowers. This fall you may plant them and have one of the few gardens which will be glorified by tulip displays next May. Eperts are unanimous that American grown bulbs have proved the equal of tulips formerly imported from Holland.

25 Daffodils, prepaid, $1.50

Daffodils are the first major flowers to bloom in spring. They last for years and usually multiply. A purchase of bulbs should pay in bloom for a lifetime.

Tommy Argo, the lost boy of Brookfield zoo, leaving Juvenile home in custody of Mrs. Beulah Brashear, Detroit social worker.

Tommy Argo, 3 years old, a guest of the Juvenile home here since July 13, when he was found wandering alone in the Brookfield zoo, departed for Detroit, Mich., yesterday. Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court relinquished control of the boy to the juvenile court of Wayne county, Mich., when he was convinced the youngster was a native of Michigan.

Judge Bicek said he wanted the state's attorney's office to continue its investigation into the abandonment and to take whatever steps are necessary to prosecute the guilty person. Assistant State's Attorney Irving Lang said it was possible action would be taken against the boys father, Walter Argo, a Detroit truck driver, believed to have brought the boy here.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Lillian Argo, employé of a Detroit night club, who is separated from her husband, wants custody of the child, Judge Bicek was told. The future of the boy is up to Michigan authorities, Judge Bicek said.

Bandit Pauses to Look at Shoes and Is Seized

A gunman yesterday entered the Feltman-Curme shoe store at 5942 Cermak road, Cicero, and emptied the cash register of $41.90. Then he made the mistake of lingering to examine a pair of shoes in the window. Two clerks, Walter Lawler and Theodore Samolawicz, leaped upon him, disarmed him, and held him for Cicero police. The bandit identified himself as Joseph Esposito, 25 years old, 1635 Spaulding avenue.

FIND CALDWELL'S FLEET OF AUTOS BOUGHT BY UNION

Uncover New Evidence on Missing Funds.

New evidence to show that Max Caldwell, ousted czar of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association, used his dictatorial power to enrich himself with dues wrung from thousands of working members, was made public yesterday by Assistant State's Attorneys William B. Crawford and Gordon Nash. This evidence fell into two main classifications:

1. The union paid for a number of automobiles used by Caldwell and his brother, Michael Pollack. One of these cars went thru a series of deals in which Caldwell, according to Crawford, kept the proceeds of sales and the union paid each time the car was repurchased.

2. Two collectors for suburban locals asserted they had paid to Caldwell in two years a total of $35,761. Caldwell, in reports to the international, listed these collections at $25,473, leaving a discrepancy of over $10,000.

Car Purchased in 1937.

The assistant prosecutors, who have been instructed by State's Attorney Courtney to gather testimony on which an indictment of Caldwell, a former bootlegger, may be obtained, said the oft sold auto was purchased July 30, 1937, for $2,368.

The union paid the total bill in instalments of $96.40 a month. In October of 1939 the car was sold to one Leo Gorski for $795. Of this sum, $550 was turned over to Caldwell. Two months later the union repurchased the car on time for $727. On May 14, 1941, the car was sold again by Caldwell for $300. The union still owed $121 on it and Caldwell got the $179 remaining.

"We can find no record to show that Caldwell ever turned over to his union a nickel he received in these deals," Crawford said.

List Other Autos.

The other cars purchased by the union included:

A 1939 coupe for Caldwell on Jan. 7, 1939, $676.

A 1940 convertible for Caldwell on Oct. 17, 1939, $1,236.

A 1940 coupe for Caldwell on May 16, 1941, $1,660.

A second hand car for Michael Caldwell [Michael Pollack] on April 9, 1939, $233.

A new car for Michael Caldwell on April 12, 1938, $1,101.

A new car for Michael Caldwell on April 25, 1939, $1,130.

A new car for Michael Caldwell on July 5, 1940, $1,960.

[Max Caldwell's real name was Pollack, but he changed it several years ago.]

The list also showed the union paid $749 on Aug. 24, 1939, for a car for Michael Savachka, its nominal secretary. Savachka has been missing since June 5 and, according to Caldwell, is the only man who knows where the local's books are.

Part of Sum Not Reported.

One of the suburban collectors, Arthur G. Swanson of 553 Oakdale avenue, said that between June 18, 1939, and June 16, 1941, he collected $26,036, which he paid to Caldwell. This sum was represented to the international as $20,108.

The other collector, Howard Morby, 803 Monroe street, Evanston, said from August, 1940, to May, 1941, he collected $9,725. This was reported as only $5,365. Crawford said that Swanson and Morby were willing to testify to their figures in court.

RESTRICTION ON SALE OF SLEEP POTIONS IS URGED BY CORONERS

The National Association of Coroners, at its convention yesterday in the Edgewater Beach hotel, urged that sleep drugs be included in the narcotics which are barred from indiscriminate sale.

The convention also adopted a resolution recommending that all forms of gas stored in containers be marked with conspicuous danger signs. These reforms, it was held, would aid in preventing accidental deaths.

A. L. Brodie, coroner of Cook county, was elected president of the association. The 1942 convention of the coroners will be held in San Jose, Cal.

Roosevelt Approves Six Public Projects for Illinois

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt today approved six public works projects in Illinois costing a total of $224,661. The largest project was a $91,985 recreation center for Scott field at Belleville. A recreation field for Fort Sheridan was down for $83,730. Other projects were waterworks addition at Hanover, $17,000; sewer extensions at Wilmington, $15,946, and alteration of existing school and construction of a two room addition at Silvis, $16,000.

WOMAN VISITOR ROBBED.

Miss Agnes Hansen, 22 years old, of Schenectady, N. Y., reported to police yesterday that thieves took clothes and jewelry valued at $400 from her car parked in front of 7840 South Wolcott avenue.

Wheel Chair Is Sought for Clinic Patient

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

A south side clinic worker has requested a wheel chair for a very energetic little woman in her sixties. She has been a clinic patient for a long time and has been most coöperative. If she is on her feet she has a tendency to gangrene so the doctor has advised that she should not walk. For a time, she rented a wheel chair, but could not afford to keep it more than a few months because of the expense. She lives with her two sisters, both elderly, who between them earn enough for their bare living expenses, but nothing more.

This woman has always led an active life, and is finding invalidism difficult. She feels she could be much more helpful in the home if she had a chair and help to ease the situation by getting around to do the dusting, answer the door, telephone, etc. She has a delightful sense of humor, and seems to enjoy living in spite of her handicap.

With the aid of a wheel chair she would be able to use her time well and be less of a burden to her family. She is a small person, about 5 feet 3 and weighing about 130.

The address is on the north side of the city and the worker will be glad to arrange to move the chair if one is available.

His Old Girl Returns, but Much Too Late

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Some years ago Luke was Millicent's favorite "date," which evening occupation kept the man engaged for several happy years. Everything was going along so congenially that Luke overlooked asking Millicent if she'd like to go solitaire shopping sometime. Or, that's the way we interpret Luke's confession to us.

As with many another tongue-tied man, a day came when he found himself on the outside without even a look-in. And still he wasn't bestirred to the action which might easily be expected of him, since now he tells that he and the Millicent were perfectly attuned in every respect, the same religion, the same nationality, the same taste in sports, entertainment, etc.

To shorten Luke's story: he even let the girl be carried to the altar and off to another town before he woke up to his loss. Since she departed his life four years ago, no other girl could fill, or has filled, the bill. No other girl can or will. But back into his life now comes Millicent, with two infants on her hands and a tale of disillusionment and marital unhappiness.

Luke rises to this moment as he should have when the way was clear for him to act. He wants to do what he can for this old flame. He wants to do for her children. Millicent has told him that she never stopped caring for him, too, but she gave her word to her husband, the father of the two youngsters, and her religious teachings forbid deserting him now for Luke.

"Isn't there any way I can persuade her that she is a fool to stick by a man who can't make her happy?" is Luke's question.

No, Luke, we think you ought to step out of the picture for life. You had your chance, and while the woman was weak about admitting caring for you, that may have been just a human error. She obviously has commendable principles about holding to her marriage vows. So, step along, Luke, and let her cling to them for the youngsters' sake, who have no right to be sacrificed for your own stupid error.

LOOKING AT HOLLYWOOD

By Ed Sullivan

Water Under the Bridge.

"Lina Cavalieri plays the part, in the great picture of a daughter of Eve whose beauty was far too great. It wasn't that she did not love her husband, but simply that she drew other men to her almost unconsciously, as the candleflame does the poor doomed moth." That was the gist of a full page advertisment in the Evening Telegram on Sept. 21, 1918, for the Paramount picture, "A Woman of Impulse." . . . It was in those happy naive days before beauties of the screen were described as "glamour girls"; the press agents still viewing them as "daughters of Eve," or "poor doomed moths."

The Chicago Cubs, acting on strong recommendations from Grover Cleveland Alexander, playing with an AEF team in France under Johnny Evers, announced that they would send scouts to France. . . . At Chicago, Producer Jimmy Coffroth told loop newspapermen that he was on his way east to match Champion Jess Willard against Joe Jeanette, Harry Wills, Jack Dempsey or Battling Levinsky for the United War Work council. . . . He said that Willard, stung by criticism for failing to appear at war benefit boxing matches, was anxious to square himself with boxing fans. . . . John J. McGraw, answering the liberty loan appeal of New York Gov. Charles Whitman, subscribed $40,000; Jim Butler bought $50,000 worth; Arnold Rothstein subscribed $120,000; George W. Loft invested $100,000 in bonds, and other big buyers were Charles Elwell, the bridge whist expert, and Maxie Blumenthal.

The influenza epidemic had canceled racing in Maryland, delaying the match race at Laurel between the 2 year old stars, Eternal, racing for George W. McClelland, and Billy Kelly, owned by Commander J. K. L. Ross. . . . It was to be decided at six furlongs, each carrying 122 pounds, and $20,000 in side bets going to the Red Cross. . . . But Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for governor, contended that the Republicans were taking advantage of the flu epidemic to cancel his speech at Hornell, N. Y. . . . He set forth that the Republican board of health had canceled his speech, altho theaters and all other assemblies were permitted to function. . . . Said Nominee Smith: "What is becoming of the good old American spirit of fair play?" . . . There was no good old answer to the good old question!

The Sunday concert at the Winter Garden offered Charles [Chick] Sale, Harry Carroll, and Ann Wheaton, J. C. Nugent, Harry Rose, Laurie and Bronson, and, among others, Fred and Adele Astaire. . . . Charlie Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms" was playing at the Strand theater as part of a double bill with "Shooting Mad." . . . At the Belasco the impresario was producing "Daddies," and in the cast were a girl named Jeanne Eagels and an actor named George Abbott. . . . Jane Cowl was playing at the Selwyn theater in "Information, Please." . . . At the Plymouth, John Barrymore was starred in "Redemption." . . . Sam Bernard and Louis Mann were in their 10th week of "Friendly Enemies" at the Hudson, and Author Sam Shipman was beaming his gargoyle smile.

Out-of-towners visiting Broadway had their choice of Rector's, at 48th street. . . . Rector's special dinner at $1.75, served from 6 to 9 in the Futurist ballroom. Two orchestras and Fuller's Jazz orchestra with Ted Lewis, the great jazz comedian." . . . "Tea dancing 3:30 p. m." . . . Hotel Martinique, in the Omar Khayyam room, offered Gus Edwards' "Attaboy." . . . Reisenweber's, Columbus circle and 58th street, offered a beefsteak dinner for $1.75, plus Joan Sawyer in "Paradise." . . . Murray's 42d street, west of Broadway, offered a 70 cent luncheon and $1.50 dinner, plus a revolving dance floor. . . . This ad shrieked: "Prewar prices. Prewar portions, prewar satisfaction." . . . For $1.75 you could go to the Golden Glades of Thomas Healy, Broadway and 66th. . . . Maxim's, 110 West 38th street, did not quote any prices, but the two column ad was bounded on the north, south, east, and west by "Girls, Girls, Girls," etc.

Such drama items as this appeared in the Sept. 21, 1918, issue: "Arthur Hopkins will present "Be Calm, Camilla," a new comedy by Miss Clare Kummer, at the Booth theater. Miss Lola Fisher will play the title rôle. Others in the company will include Walter Hampden."

Or this: "On the Rivoli program this week will be the Rivoli animated pictorial, personally edited by Mr. Rothafel [Roxy]. . . . Also 'Midst Peaceful Scenes,' a scenic study of rare beauty."

Propaganda was pouring out of France, picturing American soldiers as gay troubadours. . . . There was one story of a soldier who refused an anesthetic during an operation because "I wanted to think of 'Old Glory.'" . . . There was another, credited to Johnny Evers, serving as a K. of C. secretary, from the Argonne sector. . . . "The Huns were in fine pitching form," said Evers. "They sent over high and low ones and vicious inshoots. I moved the home plate so fast he couldn't put anything over on me and went to base on four balls." . . . But it made good reading. . . . War was a pleasant adventure, according to the stories, more informal than a ball game.

Prohibition had not arrived but there was a straw in the wind. . . . At the 14th Street theater, on 6th avenue, Robert Downing, actor-evangelist, was advertised in a revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." . . . In a footnote, this was inserted: "The most vital plea for prohibition ever written." . . . Less than a year later, the prohibition law had been passed.

There will be a dinner-dance at the Saddle on Saturday, Sept. 27, but it will be a club party, the first one of the fall, so those who attend it will be older than the ones who will dance at the club at the eight meetings of the Dinner-Dance club.

Phoebe Storrs Engaged to Stuart J. Stebbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Adna Storrs of Hanover, N. H., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Phoebe, to Stuart John Stebbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Stebbins of Evanston. Mr. Stebbins is in the east at present visiting his fiancée's family.

Miss Storrs received her degree last year from Wellesley college. Her fiancé, a graduate of Exeter, of Princeton, and of the Yale law school, just has passed his bar examinations. A first lieutenant in the army, he expects to be stationed at Springfield, Mass. The wedding is planned for the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins, former residents of Kenilworth, are building a new home in that suburb.

Mrs. Ferdinand W. Peck will celebrate her 93d birthday quietly today, for she has been bedridden for the last six months. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence K. Peck and Ferdinand Peck Jr. will be with their mother, and Mrs. Arline Warwick is arriving today, just in time for the celebration, from Brewster, N. Y., where she has been visiting Mrs. Charles Freeman for six weeks. Missing from the family circle will be the other three of Mrs. Peck's six children—Mrs. Charles H. Simms of Dayton, O.; Spalding Peck of Russell's Point, O., and Walter V. Peck of Florida. Mrs. Simms, whose husband died unexpectedly three weeks ago, will come to Chicago the first of October. Mr. Peck Jr. is leaving tomorrow for a 10 day stay with his brother in Russell's Point.

Ushers to Fly Here for Wedding Party.

If weather conditions today permit flying, six West Point classmates who are to usher on Saturday at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Schutter and Lieut. Norman McGowan will arrive in time for a steak fry which the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Schutter of Glencoe, are giving tonight on their farm near Woodstock. Flying in from their army posts will be Lieut. Jack Pickard of Boise, Idaho; Lieut. W. T. Martin of Geiger Field, Spokane, Wash.; Lieut. Lewis W. Stocking of Sikeston, Mo.; Lieut. Frank Iseman of Cochran Field, Ga.; Lieut. Joseph T. Kingsley of Langley

Uproarious Fun at Dinner-Dance

Miss Carol Gardner, debutante daughter of Albert S. Gardner, and Robert, son of the Roswell Fields, were enjoying themselves hugely when this picture was taken at a dinner-dance in Camellia house given by Mr. Gardner for his daughter. Miss Gardner will be a mannequin in the fashion show to be given on Sept. 27 in Winnetka for the benefit of Northwestern university settlement. She is staying at home this winter to study in the Symphony School of Music and at the Art institute.

Good Morning!

In the days immediately succeeding the Civil war there were the James boys and the Younger brothers. . . . In "Jesse James" you were told with some truth and a lot of fiction how Jesse and Frank operated. "Bad Men of Missouri" depicts the lives and works of the Younger brothers.

The story proper is much on the same order as those told about the Jameses. The finale, however, is happier. . . . For the Younger brothers come to no bad end. . . . They sin—and they suffer, but because—probably—their hearts are potentially pure—and they wrought what they wrought because they thought that they ought—death permits them to get by with, figuratively speaking, just a darn good spanking.

The Younger brothers come back from the war to find that an unscrupulous banker has been dispossessing all their old friends and neighbors. . . . Pa Younger with an old Negro servant and the two younger Youngers—a boy and a girl—has refused to be driven off his land. . . . After Cole, Bob, and Jim come home the banker seeks to get the family out by violence and in a gun fight the father is killed. . . . This dire event is the deciding straw. . . . The Younger brothers become western Robin Hoods, robbing the rich to reinstate the poor. . . . Inadvertently they fall in with Jesse James and work with him for a time. . . . But after a while paths diverge and Jesse goes to join his brother, Frank. . . . The Youngers, all for one and one for all, proceed about their business. I'll let the picture go into detail.

The leads are aptly taken by Dennis Morgan, Wayne Morris, and Arthur Kennedy. Mr. Morgan sings once—and very delightfully. Walter Catlett has the audiences in stitches with his portrayal of the bad banker's Man Friday whose fate it is to be forever talking to outlaws ABOUT outlaws without having the faintest idea that they ARE outlaws. . . . Victor Jory is properly cold-blooded as the wicked dispossessor and Jane Wyman does not much very nicely.

"Tanks a Million," also on the program, is a comedy which will be reviewed at a later time.

See you soon.

New Darrow Biography.

Irving Stone's biography of the late Clarence Darrow, Clarence Darrow for the Defense, will be out next month. "If Clarence Darrow knew you, he was your friend," says Papa Kroch, dean of Chicago bookmen. "He was mine, I am proud to say, and this was one of the reasons why I was instrumental in inducing Irving Stone, the famous author of Lust for Life, to write Darrow's definitive biography."

Mrs. Darrow has, by the way, clipped a hundred of her husband's signatures from checks, to be inserted as autographs in first editions of the book. Ruby Darrow once said, many years ago, that she was going to write a book. It would be called, she added with gentle malice, "And You, Too, Mrs. Darrow." The inspiration for the title came from the many occasions when acquaintances and friends of her husband's would invite him to dine, or to come and see first editions or to visit, then would turn to her and add politely, "And you, too, Mrs. Darrow."

• • •

Clarence Darrow's autobiography, Farmington, was first published in 1904, a quarter of a century before the end of his full life. A copy of it is at hand, with an inscription in his close knit handwriting, dated Aug. 4, 1924. It was that August that Darrow was defense counsel in one of the hardest fought cases in a long legal career—the Leopold and Loeb case. Beside his biography stands a thin volume of poetry, also with an inscription in Darrow's hand, and the date Aug. 23, 1924. The verses are A. E. Housman's, and the date was that on which he, long an adversary of capital punishment, began his closing argument in the attempt to save the necks of the youthful criminals.

A young reporter who had a story to write for an early edition of her paper, before the court procedure got under way, had asked him in advance what he was going to say. He told her of the verse he expected to quote from his favorite poet. She confessed she did not know the book. Late that afternoon when she returned to the newspaper office after spending the day in court, she found a copy of the book, inscribed by the sender.

On one of the busiest and most important days in a long career, Darrow had remembered, during court adjournment at noon, to get hold of a copy of the book, to inscribe it and to send it to the young woman who did not know Housman's verse.

Papa Kroch's comment again comes to mind:

"If Clarence Darrow knew you, he was your friend."

Conditioned Reflex.

Nan D. McCulloch has just returned from a trip thru the east with her niece and two nephews, ages 9, 10, and 4. While visiting the Lincoln museum in Washington, the two older children discussed his death and John Wilkes Booth. Hours later, John, the 4 year old, inquired, "Aunt Nan, did Willkie really shoot Lincoln?"

Silent Bath Mat Duel.

A career girl who recently received a raise and moved into the Knickerbocker hotel was pleased with the daily luxury of fresh bath towels, but it bothered her to have hand towels on which she might only have dried her fingertips whisked away to the laundry. She tried drying her hands on the rear fold without disturbing the front creases, but it was always discovered. Imbued with depression years of thrift, she finally hit on the idea of utilizing the slightly used hand towels as bath mats. The real bath mat hung unused on the shower rod. Once she came home to find the bath mat changed to a gayer pattern. Another time it was more prominently, almost pleadingly, draped over the side of the tub. Still another time there were two bath mats. She finally gave up and used a new one every day. She says the maid is so pleased.

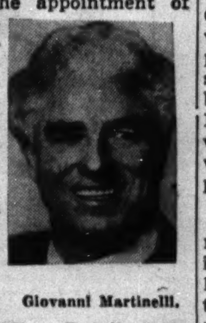
Martinelli and Gallo to Begin Opera Planning



Giovanni Martinelli.

The Chicago Opera company yesterday confirmed the appointment of Giovanni Martinelli as artistic director. The renowned Italian-American tenor came here Tuesday and conferred with Robert Hall McCormick, chairman of the board of trustees of the opera company, and yesterday saw Fortune Gallo, general director. Details as to just how Gallo and Martinelli are to share the direction of the company will be worked out in a series of conferences beginning today. It was emphasized that Martinelli's new duties here will not interfere with his appearances in opera in Chicago and New York nor with his recital engagements.

Business Girls Stage Style Show

Plushy stylists have long been telling the business girl what to wear to climb the ladder of success. Their advice has been good, and mostly good and expensive. They forgot that the business girl's pocketbook is her arbiter.

Last evening a group of successful Chicago business girls, who know the wear and tear it takes to climb that proverbial ladder, moved in on the stylists. They staged a style review before 5,000 working girls in the Fair store showing the right and wrong clothes to wear for business with no strain on the eyes or the pocketbooks.

They compose the American Business Girls council, an advisory body incorporated in seven states which has taken it upon itself to question thousands of business girls on their needs and likes and then to inform manufacturers of the findings. In Chicago, they have even interviewed 400 young men executives who belong to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to find out pet peeves on feminine office apparel.

It was obvious last night that their efforts have met with success. The costumes modeled were practical and perky. They were modified versions of this season's be-pleated, frilly, and drapey modes. Many of the materials were nonwrinkable. Several outfits were two-timers and with slight additions could change from a tailored office frock to that perfect outfit for that special date.

The "don'ts" in office apparel suggested by the Junior Chamber of Commerce were demonstrated to giggles and laughter. One pretty model lost charm in an ill-fitting suit, rumpled blouse, and twisted stocking seams. Another wreaked havoc with herself in a frilly white lace blouse and ruffled silk skirt. She chewed gum so hard that her fancy earrings jumped up and down. A third model in a good looking green wool frock ruined its effect with the "Susabella" slouch.

THE COSSACK TURBAN
by Sally Victor

The eyes of the world are on Russia, and from Russia Sally Victor has drawn her newest, most exotic design—the Cossack Turban. It is a style of theatrical, unparalleled beauty . . . its towering crown rich with fur, encrusted with gold thread embroidery, or knit of flamboyant yarn.

Sketched: Cossack Turban with the new knitted look in red and green, red jersey drapery.

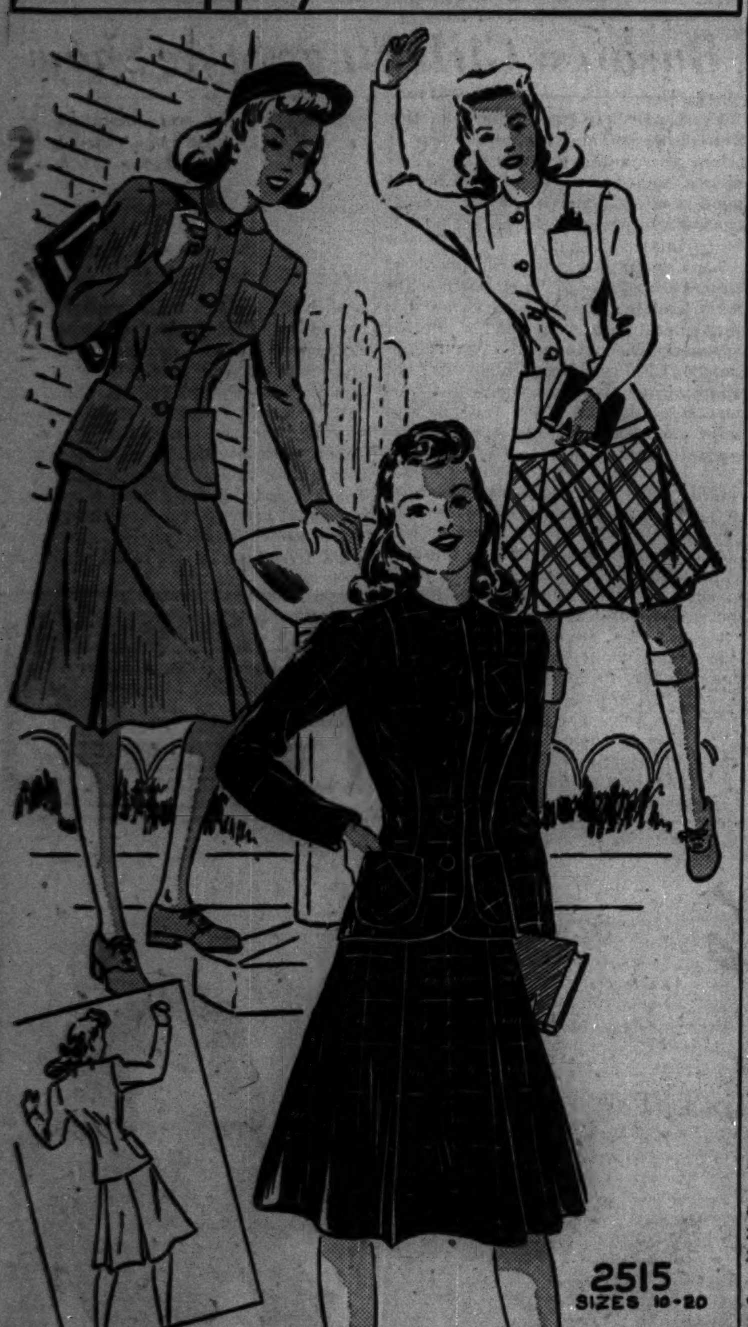
Snappily Tailored Suit



MISS' AUTUMN SUIT.

In tweed, plain woolen, or corduroy, this snappily tailored and youthful suit will do good service on the campus, for cold weather spectator sports occasions, and for business wear. The two pieces may match or contrast.

Style No. 2515 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 54 inch material for suit of one fabric; 1¾ yards for skirt, 1⅝ yards for jacket.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly. The summer pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Teacher Must Learn to Give Sex Education

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Perhaps one of the most difficult things for the average teacher to deal with, in a way truly to help a child, is sex problems. This is partly because most adult human beings are themselves not natural about this aspect of life and not informed enough to be wise and detached. It also is partly because the subject is one toward which the child himself has unnatural and secretive attitudes, due to the failure of his parents to rear him wisely in this phase of his development.

However, the sex problems of her pupils provide a teacher with such a marvelous opportunity to help them, perhaps for their whole lives, that she should try to educate herself to deal well with them. If they exist, it probably means that the boy or girl has had no adequate home information and training, and may never get it if not thru school and teacher.

A certain casualness is the thing. It tends to make a child feel that here is something "nice" grownup people will talk about openly, and it will also make whatever has happened, whether words or acts, seem less important, from the ordinary "moral" angle. At the same time, he must be led to see that there is a difference between a natural curiosity which should be gratified, and an unwholsome attitude and undesirable experimentation.

Once the matter has been discussed, children who have sex problems are best helped by filling their lives with satisfying interests and athletic activities, by stimulating their self-esteem, and by simple, straightforward information imparted at the right time in the right way.

I cannot close today's talk without stating forcibly that, primarily, sex education is the job of parents.

Universal day—Keep your emotions under control and try being unselfish.

Names and numbers—Petain has the diffident, rather fateful seven for his first letter. It is unfortunately followed by the erratic five of the "e" and then the lowly two of the "t." This isn't a strong combination with which to combat a lineup of destructive eights. The fogginess of the seven is here being stressed and the dual quality of the two. Darlan is not much better, for here the "D" is a four, a little more practical minded than the other combination, but still not too strong. The one of the following "A" helps. The three of the "L" in Laval is more showy and the following "a" one strives for leadership.

Dinner-Dance Club to Begin Party Season

Field, Va., and Lieut. J. T. Walker of Fort H. G. Wright, N. Y.

Tomorrow Mrs. Frank Barrett will entertain the bridal party at luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Schutter will give the bridal dinner tomorrow night at the Knollwood club. A reception in their home will follow the wedding on Saturday in St. Francis Xavier church, Wilmette.

Miss Mary Adams is leaving today for a visit with the junior John Stuarts in Peterboro, Ont.

Mrs. Harold C. Smith has taken an apartment at 220 East Walton place for the winter. She will move into it from her Lake Forest home shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crowder are enjoying their first visit from their grandchild, Audrey Crowder Wakeman, 6 months old, who flew in from Massachusetts on Tuesday with her young mother, Mrs. Richard V. Wakeman. The former Sally Crowder and her baby will be here until Nov. 1. The Wakemans will be commuting next winter between Hyannis and Brookline, Mass., as Mr. Wakeman's business is in Boston.

Mrs. Stevenson to Depart for Capital Sept. 28.

Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson and her sons will depart for Washington on Sept. 28 to join Mr. Stevenson, whose work has taken him to the capital. They are among the fortunate ones who have found houses right in the city, which is so crowded just now.

The Walter R. Kirks returned to Chicago on Monday after a summer in California. They had a house in Beverly Hills for the season.

The Benjamin Allens have returned from a pleasant summer at Rye Beach, N. H., where their daughter, Mrs. Hugh M. Groves, spent the season with them. Mrs. Groves has gone back to Ottawa to join her husband, Maj. Groves. They are expected to spend Christmas in Chicago.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

I've checked as worthy of publication several recipes which have been lurking about my desk and my kitchen recently. One of them is "butter balls," which you may make with margarine, if you wish. Butter balls are good little cookies for a tea party, but I'm afraid you can't expect them to last long!

BUTTER BALLS.
[7 dozen tiny cookies.]
¾ cup butter or margarine
' cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
½ cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening and brown sugar thoroly [you may need to sift the sugar, if it's lumpy]. Add beaten egg and vanilla. Sift flour with salt and baking powder and add, mixing well. Chill dough for several hours. Roll into marble sized balls. Mix sugar and nuts and roll cookies in the mixture. Bake on greased cookie sheets at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. The balls will flatten during baking.

This loganberry ice is good. You can make it with loganberry juice now that this drink is being canned, intead of using the berries themselves.

LOGANBERRY ICE.
[Serves six.]
1 cup sugar
2 cups water
1 teaspoon gelatin
1 can loganberry juice
¼ cup lemon juice

Boil sugar and water 5 minutes. Soften gelatin in a little cold water and dissolve in hot sirup. Add fruit juices. Cool. Freeze until firm in refrigerator tray. Turn out into a chilled bowl, break into pieces, and beat until light. Return to tray and freeze again.

Sausage stacks are handsome meat for an easy to get dinner. Good, too.

SAUSAGE STACKS.
[Serves six.]
1½ pounds pork sausage
1 large onion
3 tomatoes, cut in halves
12 slices bacon

Make patties an inch thick from the sausage. Brown them in a skillet. Cross two strips of bacon and lay a patty in the center. Top with a tomato half and a thin slice of onion. Fasten ends of bacon together on top, using a toothpick. Arrange the combination in a baking pan and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, or until sausage is thoroly cooked. Baking time may be shortened if meat is fairly well cooked to begin with.

BEG YOUR PARDON

We're very sorry an error was made in the recipe for bread which appeared in this column on Tuesday. Here is the correct recipe:

WHITE BREAD.
[4 Loaves.]
2 cakes yeast
2½ tablespoons sugar
3½ cups scalded milk
4 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons melted shortening
10 cups bread flour

Crumble yeast into a bowl, add sugar, and let stand until yeast bubbles. Add lukewarm milk, salt, and shortening. [Be sure to cool milk to lukewarm after scalding, or it will kill the yeast plant.] Add flour and work it in thoroly with the hands. When dough is well mixed, knead until smooth. Round it up, cover, and let it rise about 2 hours, or until bulk has doubled. Punch down, knead a few strokes, and let rise again until double, about an hour. Divide into four parts and let stand 15 minutes on a lightly floured board, covered to prevent cooling and crusting. Shape into loaves and place in greased pans. Let rise 1 to 1½ hours, and bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake 30 to 40 minutes longer.

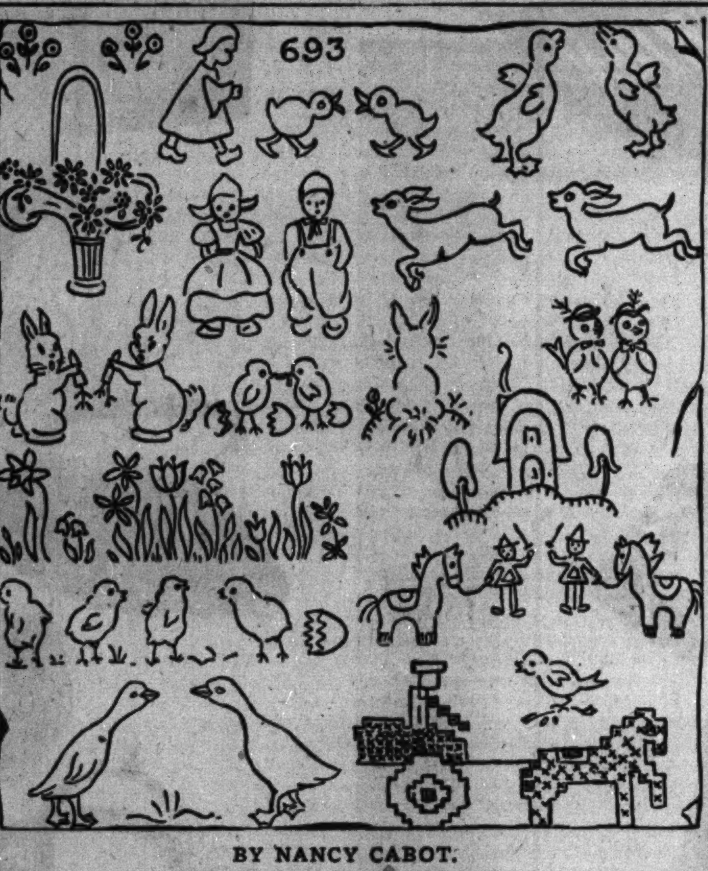
Two Dozen Transfer Motifs



BY NANCY CABOT.

Here is a hot iron transfer group which contains two dozen motifs averaging three by four inches in size. These figures are ideal for towels, bibs for children, pockets, nursery items, and any of two dozen more pieces to which embroidery may be applied. There is a detailed chart including illustrations of stitches and complete instructions.

For the hot iron transfer, No. 693, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The player who opens the bidding takes on a definite partnership responsibility, and for him to repudiate it later on is one of the worst of all bridge crimes.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 club	1 heart	2 diamonds	Pass
Pass [!]	2 hearts	3 spades	Pass
4 spades	5 hearts	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

East could thank his opponent, South, for the splendid match-point score East-West received on this board. Certainly East had done nothing commendable. As a matter of fact, by passing to West's forcing bid of two diamonds, he had been fairly begging for a "bottom." Afterward, he tried to alibi himself by grumbling that he could not find a good rebid to two diamonds—could not bid two spades since that would be a "reverse," had no heart stopper for two no trump and, finally, that his hand was much too weak to warrant a diamond raise.

East overlooked the fact that none of these arguments had any bearing on the situation. He had opened the bidding and West had responded with a bid that was forcing for at least one round. If South's bid had not come in, and West had bid only one diamond, East would have been forced to rebid. Surely the fact that West had bid freely over an intervening call should have made the force more, instead of less, absolute [to resort to a silly solecism]. When a player is forced to bid, it is far better to make the wrong bid than to make none at all. Actually, despite the superlightness of his opening club bid, East should have bid three diamonds.

South had a grand opportunity to let the bidding die with the opponents in a measly two diamond contract, and his failure to do so was deplorable. It did not require great imagination to sense that something had gone wrong in the enemy's machinery, but apparently it required more than South had. He reopened with two hearts and now West, who had been horrified by his partner's unexpected pass, took no more chances. This time he jumped in spades. East came to life with a spade raise and now South, mentally kicking himself, went to five hearts as a sacrifice.

The sacrifice did not turn out well. West opened the spade king and, when he saw dummy's doubleton in spades, promptly shifted to a trump. Declarer was prevented from ruffing a spade in dummy and thus could win only his seven heart tricks. The 700 point penalty was ample compensation to East-West for their lost game but, as I said originally, East could not flatter himself that he had contributed to the top score.

These Gowns Are Equal to Any Occasion

BY REA SEEGER.

No wonder there's a rush on the first hostess gown showings, since any number of them can be worn for dinner clothes. This season they live up to that tradition handsomely. The first sleek black velvets are equal to any occasion, they take inches off the streamline with magic ease, no other materials can make a similar record.

Most of the skirts are very wide around the floor line, but smooth over the hips and define the waistline. The new sleeves are the practical and effective crush cut, ready to wear below the elbow or shirred even more thickly just above the elbow. Nearly all the necklines are rather shockingly low, but with decorative pins and clips any vee line is available.

Huge glittering jeweled buttons provide the only decoration on some of the new finds. There are wide barbaric belts on others and with any of these black beauties belts of jet, belts of massed sequins in glittering black, or gay colors can be added to make them 1941 dress parade. They will be ideal background gowns for all the newest jewelry pieces.

Just about the most glamorous creations ever unpacked are the new gold and silver satin-cloth hostess gowns. You've no idea how exquisitely this lovely material shimmers either in candlelight or under artificial lights. The model is extremely simple, with long wide loose sleeves cuffed with a two inch band.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Hair that IS oily, looks oily, and even takes on an unpleasant oily odor is a terrible trial to the fastidious woman. And it's a situation that isn't too easy to deal with.

Correcting the underlying cause of the excessive oiliness with intelligent treatment is the best step to take. And then, too, there are some good little tricks—purely external in effect—that help considerably.

Oily hair shouldn't be doused with brilliantines, of course, but it should be brushed, which many women don't realize. Wipe off the bristles with a clean towel after each few strokes. Another wise thing to do is to rub down the hair strands with a clean cloth; you'll be pleasantly surprised at how much of the oil and dust will come away.

Then there are the hair perfumes, which we will always think constitute one of the best brain waves a hair specialist ever had. These are sprayed on the hair with an atomizer; they neutralize any oil odor the hair might have and in addition give it a light, clean, most attractive fragrance.

The hair perfume also serves as a dressing for oily hair, helping to take away that limp, stringy look that it acquires when each strand is laden with too much oil. It seems to us an invaluable hair beauty aid for the woman who can never be certain that her oily hair doesn't have an unpleasant look and scent.

Of course the hair perfume doesn't substitute for cleanliness. Perfuming dirty hair would be criminal. But even clean hair that's too oily has its drawbacks—and charming hair perfume minimizes them.

Reception Center Keeps Anniversary at Fort Sheridan

Men and officers of the reception center at Fort Sheridan, thru which more than 30,000 conscripts have passed on their way to army training camps, celebrated the center's first anniversary yesterday with a field day, special dinner, and a dance.

Lieut. Col. Thomas B. Catron, commander of the center, said that last week the 30,000th conscript, Private Ronald J. Lee of Janesville, Wis., passed thru the center.

The anniversary celebration began at 1 p. m. yesterday. The 300 enlisted men of the reception center personnel were divided into two groups, the Goldbricks and the Yardbirds, and spent the afternoon in competitive sports. The holiday dinner and dance followed.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

Napoleon started it. He demanded meats which would keep unspoiled on the march. And for more than a century the aim in canning meats was to preserve keeping qualities. But Wilson & Co. considered it equally important to preserve flavor, too. So they developed "Lasting Flavour" products—the aristocrats of all canned meats—often far more delicious than the same choice meat cooked at home.

This "Lasting Flavour" process brings you meat with all its nourishment, proteins, minerals, and vitamin B_1—all its rich flavor and juices sealed in.

CARDS WIN TWO; TRAIL DODGERS BY GAME

CHICAGO CYO BOXERS DEFEAT HAWAIIANS, 6 TO 4

HOOD'S VICTORY IN CLOSING BOUT GAINS DECISION

Isaiah Wells Scores Only Knockout.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Chicago's Catholic Youth Organization amateur boxers still are undefeated in intersectional, intercity, and international competition. They maintained that record last night in Soldiers' field by beating Hawaii's best, 6 bouts to 4.

While 26,381 spectators cheered, these fighters were crowned 1941 CYO intersectional champions:

112 Pounds—Harold Dade, Chicago.

118 Pounds—Tony Bausone, Chicago, and Fred Dawson, Chicago.

126 Pounds—Ray Brown, Chicago.

135 Pounds—Willie Minn, Hawaii, and Frank Fernandez, Hawaii.

160 Pounds—Isaiah Wells, Chicago.

175 Pounds—Ray Quintal, Hawaii.

Heavyweight—Hubert Hood, Chicago.

Those who left early missed the most exciting part of the card. The last three matches—those in the middleweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight divisions—gave the gathering thrill after thrill after it had sat thru several colorless matches.

Pane Wades In.

Until the last match was over the result was in doubt. When Pane Meatoga, 207 pound representative of Hawaii, entered the ring against Hood, his team still had a chance to earn a draw. Pane realized his responsibility. He waded into his Negro rival and lambasted him with both hands to the head and body. Hood was 25 pounds lighter, but he was faster and possessed more skill. He could not surpass Meatoga in courage, however.

The men fought after the bell in the second and in the last round. Pane scored with a right which cost Hood his mouth guard. Hubert retaliated with a barrage of punches which rocked the Hawaiian and won him the decision.

Hawaiian Team Improved.

The invaders bettered their showing of a year ago when the Chicagoans beat them, 8 to 3. It was interesting to note, too, that whereas Hawaii scored all its triumphs in the lighter weights last summer—two in the flyweight ranks and one in the featherweight class—last night the Islanders did all their scoring in heavier brackets. They registered two decisions in the lightweight and one each in the welterweight and light heavyweight classes.

Previous to the decisive bout the Hawaiians twice had reduced Chicago's lead to one bout. The CYO team won the first four bouts when Dade, Bausone, Dawson, and Brown gained decisions over Paul Inamine, Henry Oshiro, Richard Chinen, and Charles Sanico, respectively. Then Minn and Frank Fernandez, Hawaiian lightweights, beat Jack Ballangee and Al Reasoner, and Dan Fernandez, Frank's brother, scored over Ed Conroy.

Wells Makes Tie Certain.

Wells' knockout of Timothy Cruz in two rounds in the only bout on the card that went less than the regulation distance, made the score 5 to 3 and assured Chicago of at least a tie. Quintal then beat Harry Stephens in the light heavyweight bout and set the stage for Hood's final victory.

After the last preliminary match was held a 20 minute patriotic pageant was presented. Participants included the Catholic Casino Male chorus of 60 voices, under the direction of Adalbert Huguelet, the 100 piece C. Y. O. band, led by Thomas Fabish, and more than 3,500 United States soldiers, sailors, and marines from posts in this vicinity.

Results of final bouts:

112 POUNDS—Harold Dade, Chicago, defeated Paul Inamine, Hawaii [3].

118 POUNDS—Tony Bausone, Chicago, beat Henry Oshiro [3]; Fred Dawson, Chicago, beat Richard Chinen [3].

126 POUNDS—Ray Brown, Chicago, beat Charles Sanico, Hawaii [3].

135 POUNDS—Wilbert Minn, Hawaii, beat Jack Ballangee, Chicago [3]; Frank Fernandes, Hawaii, beat Al Reasoner, Chicago [3].

147 POUNDS—Dan Fernandes, Hawaii, beat Ed Conroy, Chicago [3].

160 POUNDS — Isaiah Wells, Chicago, knocked out Timothy Cruz, Hawaii [2].

175 POUNDS—Raymond Quintal, Hawaii, beat Harry Stephens, Chicago [3].

HEAVYWEIGHT—Hubert Hood, Chicago, beat Pane Meatoga, Hawaii [3].

Preliminary results:

112 POUNDS—Henry Vera, St. Francis, beat Don Gallardo, St. Rose of Lima [3].

130 POUND—Henry Nichols, Holy Name, stopped Dan Hickey, St. Ethelreda [3].

147 POUNDS—Joe Dugo, Our Lady of Pompeii, beat James Martin, Corpus Christi [3].

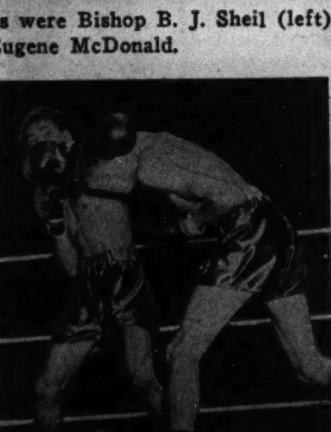
Army and Syracuse Will Hold Joint Workout Today

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—The Army and Syracuse university football squads will hold joint workouts here tomorrow and Friday. It will not be decided whether they will scrimmage until the coaches, Earl Blaik of Army and Ossie Solem of Syracuse, get together before the drill starts.



Jack Ballangee, Chicago (right), corners Wilbert Minn and lands a right to the mouth in their lightweight battle which the Hawaiian won by a decision.

A SECOND STRING GUARD PILES UP ILLINOIS ATTACK

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Bob Wilson, second string sophomore guard, almost single handedly held Illinois' first team scoreless today, but a back field composed of Johnny Worban, Bob Falkenstein, Buck Correll, and Dick Tumilty scored after Wilson, Full Back Tony Butkovich, and several other second team men were replaced.

Myron Pfeifer and Don Griffin of the original first back field were best ground gainers. Jimmy Smith's bruised shoulder and Maurie Gould's absence from the afternoon session postponed their growing rivalry for the No. 1 right half back post.

IOWA'S ELEVEN IS PROMISING—EXCEPT AT ENDS

Injuries Take Heavy Toll of Wingmen.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 17.—Who will play end for Iowa this fall?

This is the immediate question as the Hawkeyes prepare for a third season under Dr. Eddie Anderson, whose 1939 Iowa eleven finished second in the Western conference and won national recognition.

Iowa divided with opponents last year, winning four games and losing four. Wisconsin and Illinois were defeated in the Big Nine. The triumph over previously undefeated Notre Dame, 7 to 0, matched the 1939 victory over the Irish and made possible a successful November finish.

The 1941 Hawkeyes probably should be better because of experience were it not for this vexing end problem. Iowa might have one of the most accurate forward passing attacks since Nile Kinnick's brilliant performance two years ago, so the situation at end concerns the attack even more than it does the defense of the flanks.

The Picture Changes.

Strangely, the prospectus issued after the spring practice rated the ends as good. This has happened since: Steve Mizen, 215 pound junior from River Grove, Ill., star of the spring games, joined the army; Glenn Mentzel, a minor letter man and a junior, left to take a job in the east. Bill Parker, junior major letter man, who recovered from his shoulder injury last year, now is bothered by a leg injury; Jim Thompson, 205 pound sophomore from Des Moines, Ia., cut his foot three weeks ago and the date of his return is uncertain.

Iowa has Bill Burkett, a junior, at right end. Burkett proved his merit last year and in November was playing splendid defensive football. He played 60 minutes against Notre Dame, and previously had scored on Purdue by recovering a fumble and also returned a Nebraska kick seventy-seven yards for a touchdown. Parker still is listed at left end, but currently Ed Thomae is paired with Burkett.

Team Has Passers.

In support of these men is a pair of sophomores, Bob Yelton, left end, 6 feet 6 inches, 210 pounds, from La Porte, Ind., and Henry Miller, right end, 6 feet 5 inches, 207 pounds, from Ida Grove, Ia. If they fail, Dick Johnson, another sophomore end, and Jim Davis, a sophomore tackle who is being considered for end, may have a chance.

Coach Anderson said today that none of the ends was an exceptional pass receiver. He didn't describe his standard for exceptional, however. Certainly, a pass catching end would be a blessing to a team with passers like Jim Youel and Tom Farmer.

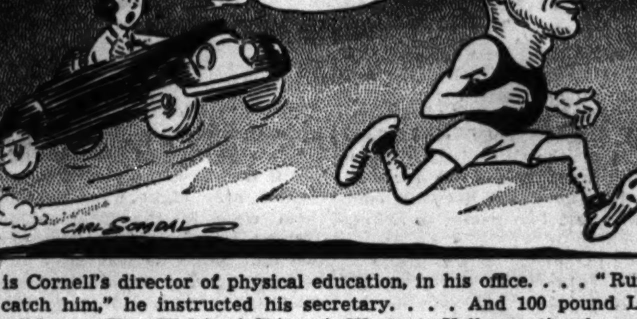
COACH DUTCH MEYER of Texas Christian has caught the patriotic motif of the day. . . . He has three teams working out—one in red jersies, one in white and one in blue. . . . Piggy Lambert, famous coach of basketball champions at Purdue, was a pupil at a recent coaching school conducted by Bud Foster, who guided Wisconsin to a national cage title last season. . . . Pane Meatoga, Hawaiian heavyweight who fought on the CYO card at Soldiers' field last night, would have enjoyed his stay in Chicago much better, if he had been able to obtain his favorite dishes, Poi [Hawaiian potato] and pickled raw fish. . . . High school coaches are so scarce in Nebraska that Verdon delegated the duties of coach to its school janitor, Walter Knickerbocker. . . . President John B. Magee of Cornell [Ia.] college wanted to see Glenn Cunningham, famous mile runner who now is Cornell's director of physical education, in his office. . . . "Run out and catch him," he instructed his secretary. . . . And 100 pound Louise Haug did. . . . Tom Walsh of Chicago's Westgate Valley, national president of the Professional Golfers' association, claims a tie with his brother Frank of Rumson, N. J., as a golf prophet. . . . Three years ago Frank said Craig Wood would some day win the National Open championship. . . . A week before the Open at Fort Worth in June Tom also was selling Wood. . . . Wood won. . . . The night before the P. G. A. tourney began in Denver Frank said Vic Ghezzi would be the winner. . . . Vic was. . . . Three days before the recent Tam o' Shanter Open started Tom named Byron Nelson as the winner. . . . Nelson won. . . . This department solicits the coöperation of the Walsh brothers in forecasting football winners this fall. . . . Pete Reiser, whose up-to-date batting average gives him a 19 point lead over his nearest rivals, seems certain to be the National league batting champion of 1941. . . . If he is, he will be the youngest major league batting champion since Ty Cobb won his first American league title in 1907. . . . At that time Cobb was only 20. . . . Reiser was 21 on March 17 of this year.



WILL YOU STEP INTO THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE, PLEASE?

Johnny Paycheck, former heavyweight boxer, has been released from a Milwaukee sanitarium where he had been receiving treatment for an ailment contracted while in army service at Camp Forrest, Tenn. . . . Jake Atz, manager of the Winston-Salem club, says Dick Wakefield, Detroit's $45,000 recruit, can't miss as a big leaguer. . . . "He's a better outfielder than some think and he's a natural hitter," Atz states. . . . He never has learned to slide, according to the Atz. . . . Coaches in the Southeastern conference are picking Alabama to win the 1941 gridiron championship.

To My Mother.

Upon the day when I must face
The judgment of my life
And learn the greatness or disgrace,

I'll feel that you are near.

As when, upon that yesterday,
You held my tiny hand
To guide my footsteps all the way
'Til I had learned to stand
Without you ever near.

Tho now your face is lined with care,
You've known thruout the years,
And tho I helped to put them there
And brought about your tears,
You never would complain.

Instead you eased my aching heart
Whenever things went wrong.
And tho your joys were far apart,
You always sang a song
And prayed to God above.

And ask that He keep watch o'er me,
To keep me from all harm,
So when I'm faced with eternity,
I will never feel alarm,
For then I'll know you're near!

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Bill Terry's Giants, who aren't what they used to be, provided no confusion for the Cubs yesterday in their penultimate baseball debate of the season. Apparently not at all concerned that sixth place is waiting to catch 'em, the New Yorkers devoted themselves to rookies and loose fielding. This combination fitted in so pleasingly with the Cubs' bats that they breezed to a 7 to 3 victory to trail the Giants by only half a game.

Anxious about his recent purchase from Milwaukee, Boss Terry treated himself to his first glimpse of Dave Koslo, a southpaw. But the young fellow's own wildness, linked with an error, let the Cubs score two runs at the start without a hit and another a bit later on two hits, one questionable. But what the Cubs neglected to do to the freshman they did to Bill Lohrman, who in three innings was hammered so thoroly that Vern Olsen had easy travel to his 10th victory.

Koslo Wild at Start.

The Cubs' first inning began with passes to Stan Hack and Barney Olsen, but Lou Novikoff dispatched a fly to Johnny Rucker. Koslo continued his charitable work by walking Bill Nicholson. Then Babe Dahlgren bounced to Bill Jurges for what threatened to be a double play, but after Nicholson had been forced at second, Nick Witek heaved the ball away, Hack and B. Olsen scoring.

Novikoff's single and Dahlgren's fly which blew away from Rucker for a triple made it 3 to 0 for the Cubs in the third, after which the Giants nicked V. Olsen for three hits and a run in the fourth. The next outbreak occurred when Nicholson and Dahlgren opened the sixth against Lohrman with singles. He helped them along with a wild pitch. Nicholson scored by beating Jurges' throw on Clyde McCullough's grounder and Bob Sturgeon singled to drive in Dahlgren. In the seventh Jurges booted Novikoff's grounder and it became a run on singles by Dahlgren and McCullough.

Hack Walks and Scores.

Lohrman finished the seventh stylishly by fanning Lou Stringer and Sturgeon. He fanned V. Olsen to open the eighth, but Hack walked, advanced on Charley Gilbert's tap, and was driven home by Novikoff.

The Giants hopped on V. Olsen's foolers for two hits in the ninth, thus accumulating as many runs. John Davis, from the Giants' Jersey City farm, led off with a bouncing single over Hack's head and Morrie Arnovich, batting for Lohrman, walked. After Rucker forced Arnovich, Witek singled to right, scoring Davis and putting Rucker on third, whence he counted while Ott was retired.

LEFTHANDERS WHIP BOSTON, 6 TO 1 AND 3 TO 1

Brooklyn Triumphs in Ninth, 6-4.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 17 (AP).—The Cardinals edged a little nearer to Brooklyn by sweeping a double header from the Boston Braves today, 6 to 1 and 3 to 2, and now trail the National league leaders by only one game. Estel Crabtree, 37 year old outfielder, hit a home run in the ninth inning of the second game to bring victory in a mound duel between Max Lanier and Jim Tobin.

Crabtree's home run in the seventh inning of the first game tied the score and in the eighth the Cards staged a 5 run rally to help Rookie Howard Pollet score his fourth victory against one defeat in the month he has been in the majors.

Rookie Stan Musial, up from Rochester, doubled to drive in the Cardinals' first two runs in the third inning of the second game. That lead held up until the seventh, when an error by Creepy Crespi started the Braves off. Score:

DODGERS, 6; PIRATES, 4.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP).—For eight innings today a jolt seemed in store for the Brooklyn Dodgers, but they rallied with five runs in the ninth to beat the Pirates, 6 to 4.

The Dodgers made hits in every inning except the first for a total of 15, but failures against the pitching of Ken Heintzelman left the runners stranded until the ninth inning. Then Augie Galan, who had tied up Brooklyn's struggle yesterday at Cincinnati with a pinch double in the ninth inning, was sent to the plate to bat for Curt Davis. Galan doubled to right and the Dodgers kept going until 10 men had gone to bat. Score:

If—

THE defeat column is the one to watch now as the Dodgers and Cardinals continue their fierce battle for the National league pennant. Each has lost 51 games, but the Dodgers have played two more, having won 93 to the Cards' 91.

The Cards will play only 153 games because of Tuesday's tie with the Giants, which cannot be replayed. This one-game deficiency could be a determining factor either for the Cards' success or failure. They have 11 games left and the Dodgers 10. If, for instance, the Cards match the Dodgers victory for victory they will finish ½ game out. However, if Brooklyn loses just one more game than do the Cards, the latter will win.

If Brooklyn divides its 10 games the Cards by winning 7 of their 11 would win the pennant. The standing in this event would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.

Expect 150 for Exmoor's State Senior Tourney

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A field of more than 150 players is expected to compete in the 19th annual fall tournament of the Illinois Seniors' Golf association next Wednesday at the Exmoor Country club in Highland Park. The event, restricted to golfers who are 50 years of age or more, is annually one of the most interesting in the local calendar. It will be the 19th consecutive year that the seniors have gathered at Exmoor, one of the cradles of golf in this country. The contestants will be divided into five classes—A, B, C, and D, and Junior, the latter division being for youngsters between the ages of 50 and 54. The tournament committee consists of Ross H. Kidston of La Grange, chairman, Constant C. Hopkins of Woodstock, and Elmer A. Eulass of Calumet.

The Westmoreland team, victors in the battle for the 1941 championship of the North Shore league, have asked for a change in the date of the Chicago District Golf association's interclub league tournament, scheduled for next Wednesday at Bob O' Link. A number of the Westmoreland players will be unable to play on that day. F. M. Quinn of Riverside, chairman of the CDGA tournament committee, has the matter of a change under advisement.

PABST GET 3,153 SERIES; TIE FOR CLASSIC LEAD

The Pabst Blue Ribbons bowled 1010, 1070, and 1073 for a total of 3153 at the Archer-Kedzie Recreation last night, second high series thus far in the Wednesday division of the Classic Bowling league. They won three games from the Washington Shirt team and went into a tie for first place with the Blatz Brewing company, who lost two games to Schlitz Beer.

Yankees Give Sox a Lesson in Power, 5-3

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 17.—The White Sox, those Whirlaways of the base paths, concluded their racing on the eastern tracks this afternoon in a 5 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Yanks.

There have been a lot of sad Sox trips thru the east, but it is doubtful if any ever equaled the one which ended today. Manager James Dykes frankly says he never has seen a team flop so mysteriously, and James has seen a lot of plain and fancy flopperoos in his day.

On this trip the Sox won two and lost seven, this on top of their last stand against western clubs in which they blew seven and won three.

Seven Games—11 Runs!

In their last seven road games Dykes' Terrors have made a grand total of 11 runs. They pounded out five hits today, a bunt being their contribution after some heroics by Joe Kuhel and Taft Wright in the first three innings.

The Sox not only dived below the .500 mark today but also moved within one and a half games of the second division. On their showing since Labor day anything the Sox glean out of the world series pot thru a first division finish might expose the unfortunate fellows to charges of larceny, if indeed they are not so exposed for collecting their midSeptember pay checks. However, we urge all policemen and bailiffs to give the pitchers a pass. They haven't been taking money under false pretenses.

It Wasn't Smith's Fault.

Edgar Smith was good enough today if he had a team with him. He yielded only eight hits, but six of them were in the fifth, including Tommy Henrich's 31st homer with two on. But this was after it had become apparent the Sox batters had folded for the day. But let's be cheerful and talk about the few moments the boys were awake.

Excepting the second game of the current trip, in Washington on Sept. 10, the Sox made as many runs in the first inning today as they had in any complete game on the jaunt. They made two runs on an error, a walk, and a double by Wright.

Then Came the Fifth.

The Yanks scored one run in their first inning on Johnny Sturm's triple and a fly; so, when Kuhel knocked a homer in the third the Sox rejoiced at the 3 to 1 advantage thus effected.

The Yanks had only one run and a record of only two hits going into the fifth. Then Joe McCarthy exhorted his boys to go to work for a few minutes. Spud Chandler opened with a single to center and went to third on Sturm's single. Frank Crosetti doubled to right, Chandler scoring. Henrich then dropped a fly into the right field boxes, scoring behind Sturm and Crosetti. There were two more Yankee hits for a total of six in the inning. The Yanks never bothered about getting a man on base after the four run splurge in the fifth.

SOX RETURN HOME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 17.—The White Sox will arrive home early tomorrow afternoon and will have all Friday to ponder their several deficiencies. Saturday and Sunday the Sox will battle the Detroit Tigers, who are coveting a first division berth. There will be a double header Sunday.

Thornton Lee, who failed in Boston in a try for his 20th victory, is to have three more starts, according to Manager Dykes, two against Detroit and one against Cleveland.

Signs advertising the world series ticket sales are still up, but over the prices for both boxes and reserved seats have been tacked the information, "Sold out."

SYNDICATE BIDS FOR PHILS; PRICE NOT REVEALED

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP).—An offer to buy the National league Phillies was mailed to Gerry Nugent today by Jack Kelly, national director of the civilian physical training program, on behalf of a syndicate he heads. Nugent is with the Phillies in Cincinnati.

Kelly, Olympic champion sculler 20 years ago, declined to disclose the price his group offered.

"I think it is a fair offer," Kelly declared, "we want to buy all the outstanding 5,000 shares of the club, and all the players. We are willing to take over the obligation of $20,000 a year rental on old Baker bowl that still has two years to run, and also will assume the remaining three years of a radio contract to broadcast the Phillies' games. Otherwise, we want the club free of debts. If we are successful, we are ready to put additional working capital into the club."

Kelly declined to name the members of his syndicate.

Leo Enters Final Round in K. C. Softball Tourney

Leo council entered the finals in the annual Knights of Columbus softball tournament in Shewbridge field last night by defeating St. James council, 10 to 7. In quarter-final games, St. Cyr won from Auburn Park, 15 to 6, and Santa Maria defeated St. Francis, 13 to 7. Play resumes tonight at 7:30.

CARDINALS, STILL OPTIMISTIC, BUY GREEN BAY BACK

Sign Frank Balazs, Former Iowa Star.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Chicago Cardinals, disappointed in defeat but at the same time buoyed by optimistic signs in their opening National Football league game, continued their implacable hunt for new players yesterday and came up with burly Frank Balazs, who has played for two seasons with the Green Bay Packers.

Balazs, a full back at the University of Iowa before joining the Bears in 1939, is expected to report in time for today's drills at the University of Chicago. It was a straight cash deal, according to club officials. The 23 year old, 210 pound back prepped at Lane Tech. Balazs, a speedy and hard runner and a long range punter, doubtless will add strength to the Cardinals.

Cards' Line Shows Strength.

Coach Jim Conzelman had hoped to see his Cardinals start the season with a victory over the Cleveland Rams Tuesday night in Comiskey park. The Cards came close, and the 10 to 6 defeat by a team of the Rams' caliber gave reason to believe that the expected improvement of the squad will insure a much better season than last year.

Conzelman praised the play of the line, which did a fine job in stopping the charges of Johnny Drake, Parker Hall, and other Rams.

It was feared Ray Mallouf suffered a brain concussion in the Cleveland game, but examination yesterday proved otherwise. The freshman passing star from Southern Methodist will rest for a few days. Al Babartsky, tackle, suffered a wrenched ankle. Both will be ready for the Detroit game Sept. 27.

Bears Return to Delafield.

The Chicago Bears moved out of town yesterday morning and settled once again in their Delafield, Wis., training camp, where they will prepare for their opening game Sept. 28 against the Packers in Green Bay.

The Packers, meanwhile, will try to cool off the Rams in Milwaukee Sunday. Cleveland and Green Bay are tied for the western section lead, but the Rams have won two to the Packers' one.

Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football, yesterday gave added evidence that rowdyism will not be tolerated on the field. He assessed fines of $25 each against Augie Lio of the Lions and Charles Schultz of the Packers for their fistic battle in Green Bay Sunday. The players will be ineligible until the National league office receives their remittances. Layden fined a Green Bay and New York player for fighting earlier in the year in Green Bay when the two teams met in an exhibition game.

Hyde Park and Kelly Win Prep Soccer League Games

Hyde Park and Kelly yesterday won Public High School league soccer matches. Hyde Park defeated Manley, 5 to 0, in Douglas park and Kelly triumphed over McKinley, 8 to 0, on Gage Park field. Charles Petruzlek, center forward, led the Kelly attack, scoring three goals.

NEW FOOTBALL LEAGUE TO START PLAY ON OCT. 5

Final organization meeting of the new Metropolitan Amateur Football league will be held tonight and 14 or 16 teams are expected to join. Paddy Driscoll, back field coach of the Chicago Bears, is president of the league. George Halas, Jim Conzelman, and Jack Elder are members of the advisory board.

Players participating must be 18 years old or more with high school or college experience. Teams will be limited to 25 men and will be coached by high school football coaches. It is planned to start the season on Oct. 5. Games will be played on city high school fields. The league will be divided into north and south sections, with winners to meet for the title. Halas will give a trophy to the north side winner and Charles Bidwill, owner of the Cardinals, will do the same for the south side champions.

Tonight's meeting will be in room 401, 127 North Dearborn street.

ILLINOIS HUNTERS TO KEEP BOOKS ON GAME KILLED

BY BOB BECKER.

Every Illinois hunter will have to keep books on his hunting trips this fall so as to be able to make an accurate report to the state conservation department on just which kinds and how much game he killed.

The new Illinois game code enacted by the legislature specifically states that all hunters must report in detail [after the close of the season] the number of birds and animals they killed. The code now in force, dubbed a "quickie" by many sportsmen because of the way changes were made without hearings or advising sportsmen in general, decrees that hunters must make reports on cards which will be attached to hunting licenses. These cards are to be mailed in after Jan. 15, 1942.

Calls for Jailing Offenders.

The law specifies fines up to $100 and possible jail terms for failure to submit the reports. They must be made on migratory waterfowl, pheasants, rabbits, doves, and all other game protected by state law.

Livingston E. Osborne, conservation director, said that such reports were made voluntarily by some hunters in past years. Revision of the statute, however, now makes the reports mandatory for the first time.

Duck and goose shooters who have private hunting grounds in this state are hearing about another new regulation which is going to cost those with large tracts of land more money this season. A so-called club license for a private duck and goose property will be $10 if the area has five blinds or less on it. But if a marsh or field contains more than five blinds the annual fee on such a piece of property is going to be $25.

Creates a New Problem.

Anguished moans are coming from the goose hunters in Alexander county [and elsewhere] who have a few acres of their own on which to bag geese. The new law scattering the blinds in a goose field [they must be 150 yards apart] is not easy to take by the fellows who have only a few acres for goose shooting and have been accustomed to putting two blinds close together.

STATE SOFTBALL PLAYOFF.

Joliet Rivals and Match Corporation of America will meet tonight in the first of a three game series for the Illinois State Major Softball league championship in Parichy stadium, Harlem avenue and Harrison street.

Bowlers Laud Tribune All-Star Tournament as Boon to Sport

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

It's the biggest thing that's hit the bowling game.

That expresses the consensus of Chicago bowlers following the announcement of the All-Star tournament to be offered in the Coliseum Dec. 7 thru 14.

The outstanding men of the game of American Ten Pins have seen their averages soar over a period of years to 190, 195 and even 200. But during this time they have been offered only more tournaments in which they could shoot for prizes made up of their own entry fees. Also they have had to compete against not only stars but mediocre performers as well. They did not stand out as stars do in other fields of sport.

Feel Tournament Is Answer.

But they feel that this tournament, in which the 60 best bowlers among the nation's 16,000,000 will shoot on both a medal and match basis for 12 cash prizes and the right to meet the world match game champion in 1942, is the answer—that it, and it alone, will give them the recognition stars deserve. The tournament is to be sponsored jointly by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America. Play is to be under American Bowling Congress rules.

"I think it would be an honor simply to be chosen as one of the 60, whether I get into the finals or not," is the comment of Joe Wilman, former ABC all events champion and captain of the widely known Budweiser team. "My friends tell me the setup is perfect and want to be assured that I'm going to file an entry. Well, I am and I'm also going to enter all my team—Johnny Small, George Theel, Bill Hargadon, and Joe Traubenik."

"This tournament is a fine thing in itself, but what it's likely to lead to is even better," Paul Krumske of the Schlitz Classic league team declares. "It's not only going to make the stars stand out as they should, but it's going to be a major step toward big league bowling in the broadest sense—possibly intercity league bowling."

John Ryan Praises Idea.

John Ryan of the Classic Ambrosia team and winner of the $4,000 first prize in the Petersen Individual Classic last winter, also will file an entry. "You can say for me that it's the swellest thing that's ever happened to bowling and the bowler," is his statement.

"Promotional work of one kind and another has been going on in bowling for years, but you people have hit what the bowler wants exactly," says Julius Sowa, secretary of the Classic league and a member of the Pabst team. "It's not only an event for the star of today, but it's going to prove an inducement to the youngster in high school as well. It'll offer him an incentive to some day be an All-Star."

Will Run at Coliseum.

The tournament is to be run in eight afternoon and eight evening sessions at the Coliseum, running in conjunction with the final 40 game block of the Ned Day-Lowell Jackson championship match. Day and Jackson will meet in 10 games on each of the first four nights of the event. At the same time the 60 All-Stars will be rolling a 20 game assignment, five games a day.

The loser of the Day-Jackson event and the high 11 on a total pin basis in the eliminations will meet in a round robin the last four days, winner to be challenger for the title in 1942. The entry fee is $25, including bowling.

DE CORREVONT RUNS WILD; GETS 3 TOUCHDOWNS

A scrimmage yesterday that ended the Northwestern football squad's double daily drills also gave Coach Lynn Waldorf and his staff something to cheer about. It was the performance of Bill De Correvont, senior left half back, who dashed thru a reserve team for three touchdowns and returned a punt sixty yards, almost for a fourth score. De Correvont's running led coaches to believe that he really has hit his stride.

As the team entered the second week of practice it also became more apparent that the Wildcats will emerge with a pair of first rate ends in Bob Motl and Bud Hasse who have taken over the first string jobs following the graduation of Al Butherus and Jim Smith. The two rangy juniors have displayed a real knack for snaring passes.

The biggest problem at the flanks, and one which is causing End Coach Waldo Fisher not a little concern, is developing suitable replacements.

JUZWIK GETS SAFETY POST

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 17 [Special].—Opening of classes today cut the Notre Dame football squad's drills for the opener with Arizona on Sept. 27 to one a day.

Steve Juzwik, right half back, was at safety today. He was given the assignment because he is fast and a capable ball carrier, and both Harry Wright and Bill Early, understudies to Quarter Back Bob Hargrave, have never worked at punt catching. Early was a right half and Wright a full back last season.

A team of reserves will demonstrate Arizona plays in tomorrow's workout, particularly formations featuring Bob Ruman, former Whiting star, and now No. 1 man in the Wildcat back field.

The Arizona game will be official Boy Scout day, with various children's groups admitted free. Enlisted men and noncommissioned officers will be admitted at a reduced price.

BADGERS LOSE WILLDING.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17 [Special].—Bob Willding, senior half back from Des Moines, Ia., has dropped football because of an old shoulder injury that failed to respond to treatment, Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin coach, announced tonight.

Dissatisfied with certain phases of yesterday's initial scrimmage session, Stuhldreher tried out several importan shifts today.

Harry Harter, junior tackle, was shifted to guard. With the graduation of Dick Embick and Fred Gage, Stuhldreher has been using Sophomores Harold Koehler and Pat Boyle at the first string guard posts.

BLOCKING WEAK AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 17 [Special].—Coach Fritz Crisler eased the treatment in the Michigan camp today, ordering a light workout this morning, and stepping up the pace in the afternoon.

Fundamentals came in for a great deal of attention, as the team seemed to be off in blocking and tackling. Particular stress was placed on the blocking, where the team as a whole has been noticeably weak especially in protecting passers and opening holes in the line.

Hospital attachés report that Jack Karwales, end candidate from Chicago is responding well to the X-ray treatments on his infected feet.

BATTLE FOR END POST.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 17 [Special].—The battle to take over the left end post vacated by Dave Rankin, last year's captain, was continued today during an extended Purdue scrimmage session that found Jim Rush and Lavern King attracting attention from the coaches. Rush and King, both letter men, have shown particular promise as blockers, and Coach Mal Elward is seeking to develop their pass catching ability.

SIR KID TAKES FAIRENO PURSE AT HAWTHORNE

Pink Gal Loses in Stretch; Bon Jour 3d.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Pink Gal, which had run second to Shot Put in the $5,000 Hawthorne handicap last Saturday, failed at 3 to 5 odds yesterday in the Faireno purse. After taking the lead at the head of the stretch she tired in the later stages and finished in second place, two and a half lengths behind a 9 to 1 shot, Sir Kid. Bon Jour was third.

Pink Gal had no excuses. Under the conditions of this mile and seventy yard race, she had the benefit of all the allowances, getting in with the light impost of 105 pounds.

Gets Away Well.

Lee Haskell got her away well and sent her up to follow Off Guard's pace while most of the others in the field of eight were closely bunched right behind her. As they approached the stretch, Off Guard gave up and Pink Gal took the lead.

Soon after they were straightened out, Don MacAndrew brought Sir Kid alongside. There was a brief head and head duel in midstretch, then Pink Gal tired and Sir Kid drew clear easily.

Latent, the 9 to 5 favorite in a band of juveniles of the $2,500 class, was the victim of a fast early pace in the fourth event on the program. After this filly had given up, K. Rounder, the 5 to 2 second choice, came on to win while the weary Latent was dropping back to fifth place. All except one in the field of seven were going a mile for the first time in their careers.

A Costly Skirmish.

Don MacAndrew, who was riding Latent, apparently had orders to get out in front quickly and try to stay, but the flaw in this strategy was that Ken Robertson tried to do the same thing wth Casual Play, a 5 to 1 shot. These two wore themselves down in a bitter duel.

Approaching the turn out of the back stretch, Latent had Casual Play whipped, but it was a costly skirmish, for K. Rounder and Van Man began getting to her soon after. At the head of the home stretch, Latent was weakening fast. K. Rounder and Van Man engaged in a hard run the rest of the way to the line, the former winning by a head. Swoosh, a 23 to 1 shot, took third place, seven lengths behind the leaders.

IOWA'S ELEVEN IS PROMISING—EXCEPT AT ENDS

Youel is the better kicker, while Farmer is a better runner. Farmer's average last season was 3.1 yards and he gained 167 yards, which was second only to Bill Green.

Iowa's other major loss, other than that expected from graduation, was Burdell Gilleard, half back, who has been drafted. Mike Enich, tackle; Ken Pettit, end; Bill Gallagher and Ray Murphy, backs, are the varsity letter men who were graduated.

If the Hawkeyes were as well manned at all positions as they are at center, the conference title now could be awarded. Bill Diehl, supported by George Frye, who first earned his award two years ago against Northwestern in the finale of 1939 when Diehl was injured, is Iowa's captain and center. He weighs 200 pounds and is a terrific line backer-up. Diehl is the fifth center since 1925 to lead the Iowa eleven.

Iowa starts at tackle with Jim Walker, a truly great performer, and has material from which a substitute for Enich may be found. Al Urban, Bob Otto, and a sophomore, John Staak are seeking the vacant right tackle spot. It has the guards who finished the season last year as regulars, Gene Curran and Ross Anderson.

Better Backs Are Back.

Iowa also retains nearly all of the better backs from last year. Al Couppee and Gerald Ankeny return at quarter back while Bill Stauss, a 1940 quarter back, has been shifted to support Green at full back.

Bernard Mertes, 22 year old junior from Chicago, is listed at right half on the varsity. In this same spot is Jack Kennedy, 165 pound broken field runner from Sioux City, of whom Anderson said today, "He's the outstanding sophomore back and perhaps the only one who will be of great help this year."

Bob Knowlton, tackle; Del Dickerhoof, John Mullaney, and Donald Twedell, guards, are other sophomores who may win varsity letters. Twedell is best defensively. Dickerhoof was here last year but was ineligible. Mullaney, 18 years old, weighs 195 pounds, and comes from St. Rita High school, Chicago.

Schedule Is Difficult.

Last year 261,000 spectators watched Iowa play, an increase over 1939 of 15,000. Larger crowds are in prospect since Iowa opens the Big Nine season at Michigan Oct. 4. That game also will serve as a test of Hawkeye hopes. Drake is opening day opponent here Sept. 27. In addition to Michigan, Iowa plays Indiana and Minnesota here and Wisconsin, Purdue, and Illinois away from home. The annual game with Nebraska, at Lincoln, Neb., concludes the schedule.

The Iowa lineups at this time, with asterisks indicating the names of players without previous varsity experience, follow:

CENTER—Bill Diehl, George Frye, Bob Lauterbach, Tom Hand.
RIGHT GUARD—Ross Anderson, *Del Dickerhoof, *Don Twedell.
RIGHT TACKLE—Al Urban, Bob Otto, *John Staak.
RIGHT END—Bill Burkett, *Henry Miller.
QUARTER BACK—Al Couppee, Gerald Ankeny, Larry Paul, Richard Brecunier.
LEFT HALF BACK—Jim Youel, Tom Farmer, Bob Bender.
RIGHT HALF BACK—Bernard Mertes, *Jack Kennedy, Henry Vollenweider.
FULL BACK—Bill Green, Bill Stauss, Arthur Johnson.

Landis Asks MacPhail 'Why?' on ExtraTicketTake

Commissioner Landis said yesterday he had asked Larry MacPhail, president of the Brooklyn club, for an explanation of the additional 25 cent charge on strips of world's series tickets. MacPhail had said that the extra charge was for the handling of tickets. "Until I find out what's going on down there, I can't say anything about it," Landis commented.

COSTLIER HOMES TO GET PLACE ON PRIORITIES LIST

'Defense Housing' Will Be Given Top Rating.

BY AL CHASE.

Altho "defense housing" costing less than $6,000 is to be given top priorities rating on building materials, construction of privately built civilian homes in the higher as well as the lower cost brackets will not be completely blocked by federal rulings, it was disclosed in Washington yesterday.

The Chicago office of the Federal Housing administration, which will act on all local applications for priorities, still was waiting for official forms from Washington, but it was learned that homes costing more than $6,000 and not classified as "defense" units also will be given priority ratings.

Will Be Given "B" Rating.

The priorities for private housing will be grade B, compared with the A rating to be given "defense housing" costing less than $6,000. The highest of the grade B ratings will be granted to projects under construction since Sept. 1 and to remodeling and rehabilitation work.

Next below these ratings will be those for new construction of homes to rent and still lower to new construction for sale.

An official order from Leon Henderson, who heads the OPM division of civilian supply, is expected within a few days outlining the priority ratings to be given to all types of "civilian housing." This will include houses under $6,000 which are definitely not for workers in armament plants, such as small homes along the north shore or in suburbs far removed from any arms work.

Learn Where They Stand.

It also is expected to clear the situation for the builder of expensive homes or, at least, it will inform him whether or not he will have to go out of business. It was pointed out that even if he has to take longer to build, he can feel some confidence that with his priority rating he won't be completely stymied.

One large operator said that with lumber, cement, and many other materials still available without delay, the builder of high cost homes could even use temporary substitutes or second hand equipment [such as bath tubs] until new ones could be secured.

Some of the requirements to qualify as "defense housing" and secure priorities were learned yesterday.

List Principal Qualifications.

To so qualify a private project has to be located "within a reasonable commuting distance" from employment.

It must be "suitable for and available to workers in defense projects and must be offered at a sales price or rental within reach of defense workers for whose occupancy the housing is intended."

According to one government official when the priorities system gets under way it will take only about 24 hours to get a rating. Application forms shortly will be available at various Chicago home financing institutions.

On these forms the applicant must certify that "items are necessary and that no practical substitute nor alternative source of supply is available."

FHA to Check Statements.

He also must certify that quantities requested are not greater than needed and that delivery dates are not earlier than required.

The FHA will then check the builder's statement as to quantities of critical materials, construction setup, specifications, etc., and it will go to the Chicago coördinator of the Office of Production Management, who will stamp it and assign a priority number. The builder then can go ahead—if by that time he is able to find all the critical materials available.

Small BUSINESS MAN'S Department

This department is prepared to help the small business man who is seeking information on priorities, substitute materials, and related subjects. Inquiries should be directed to the Small Business Man's department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill. All inquiries will be given careful attention. Letters on subjects of broad interest will be published and commented on.

PRIORITIES UNEMPLOYMENT.

In our town there are several factories, which constitute practically all the manufacturing activity. All of them have been hit by the shortages of certain metals and layoffs have started. What can we do to bring our problem before the OPM?

Answer: Communities and industries which are threatened with unemployment and labor dislocations because of the priorities system are being surveyed by the OPM's labor division. Communities which are in distress or are facing hardships will be certified by the division for special treatment in the award of armament contracts and subcontracts by the army and navy.

A preliminary list of 20 cities—mostly one industry communities—in 10 states are being surveyed by the field staffs of the United States employment service, and state and local employment offices under the supervision of the 12 regional supply committees of the labor division.

The first communities studied depend largely on the continued activity of stove, electric appliance, washing machine, zipper, aluminum ware, metal office furniture, refrigerator and other durable consumer goods plants.

On the basis of these surveys the labor division will make recommendations to the OPM contract distribution division and similar divisions of the army and navy in an effort to provide work for the plants threatened with curtailment or shutdown.

If your plant faces labor dislocations and layoffs, communicate the details of your situation to the local employment office. Civic officials of communities which are threatened with closing factories also should notify the United States Employment service or the OPM labor division in Washington and request a survey leading to certification for arms contracts.

LESS ESSENTIAL.

What is meant by less essential?

Answer: The Supply Priorities and Allocations board has defined less essential industries as those "industrial activities involving the use of materials and production facilities which sap supplies and machinery resources necessary to a realistic all-out defense program."

STUDY RADIO SHORTAGES.

Material shortages confronting the radio industry, especially in aluminum, copper, and paper cartons, were explored yesterday at a meeting of the priorities committee of the Radio Manufacturers' association in the Stevens hotel. Paul V. Galvin, president of the Galvin Manufacturing company, Chicago, chairman, said the committee plans to issue later a report to association members on proposals to solve the problem of scarce or unavailable materials.

MIDWEST CALLED UPON TO PRODUCE FOOD FOR BRITAIN

Wickard Will Meet Farm Leaders Here Today.

Furthering its efforts to achieve the largest output of food in history in order to have ample supplies for both United States and Great Britain, the department of agriculture last night gave farmers in 12 midwestern states a tentative estimate of what they would be expected to produce during 1942.

Meanwhile farm leaders from these areas headed for Chicago where they will meet with Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today and tomorrow to discuss production plans. Approximately 400 agriculturalists are expected to attend the conferences in the Morrison hotel to hear Wickard and other department officials outline details of the campaign.

"Feed 10 Million Britons."

Wickard told a similar conference in Salt Lake City earlier this week that "American farms must be made to feed 10 million Britons next year in addition to our own needs."

The department last night told Illinois farmers that they would be expected to plant nearly 680,000 more acres of soy beans than they planted this year. The state ranks as the largest soy bean producer in the United States and this year's crop is expected to be the largest in history. The department wants 2,686,000 acres planted.

It wants Illinois to produce more milk, eggs, hogs, beef and veal, lamb and mutton, potatoes, rye, and vegetables. Substantial increases are sought in every case.

Asks Bigger Milk Output.

In Wisconsin, the nation's leading dairy state, the department wants 15,156,000,000 pounds of milk produced compared with 13,420,000,000 this year. Production of milk already is at the highest level in history, the department has reported.

Demands on Indiana farmers are very similar to those made on Illinois. Iowa farmers were told that the department would expect them to produce 3,961,425,000 pounds of hogs for marketing and farm slaughter compared with an estimated 3,540,600,000 pounds this year.

ENGLAND SHIPS LINEN AT 60% OF PRE-WAR VOLUME

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The European war has cut sharply into United States imports of linen and has boosted prices but dealers estimated today the British Isles were sending to this country about 60 per cent as much as before the war, despite shipping shortages.

One firm reported that during the last year it received linen goods approximately at the rate of 1938 and 1939. A wholesale buyer, however, said his company was able to get only about 40 per cent as much linen as normally.

United States customs and commerce department statistics indicated Britain was concentrating on shipments of high quality goods. This was interpreted as in line with British policy of building up credits in this country thru sale of a variety of articles. An example was the amount of table damask on which duty was paid in June, 60,500 pounds, valued at $106,000. The total for 1939 was 914,390 pounds, valued at $2,051,500, and showed June only slightly below the monthly average.

WALLACE GIVEN EXPORT POWER; OUST GENERAL

Aid to Latins Placed Under Milo Perkins.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Increased New Deal control over the nation's economy was achieved today with the disclosure that the Office of Export Control has been placed directly under Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

Wallace himself announced that President Roosevelt has signed an executive order placing the office under Wallace's Economic Defense board. The export control administrator, Brig. Gen. R. L. Maxwell, who was responsible only to the President, has been ordered back to military duties.

Succeeding Gen. Maxwell in dictating what commodities may be exported and to what countries they will be directed is Milo Perkins, one of Wallace's New Deal aids supervising marketing when the Vice President was secretary of agriculture. Perkins is executive director of the economic warfare board of which Wallace is chairman.

General on the Pan.

For some time New Dealers, thru their columnist mouthpieces, have been panning Maxwell for not loosening up more on licensing of exports to Latin American countries. It is part of the Wallace board's function to woo the Latins away from axis powers by getting to them first with the most commodities, shutting off axis trade and influence. It was also Maxwell's duty to keep essential wartime materials from leaving the United States, especially if headed for unfavored nations.

Wallace said that hereafter he expects tighter controls to be exercised over exports because "the international crisis requires a determined intensification of our policy of preventing shipments to axis dominated countries." But he emphasized that the United States must see to it that nations "in that part of the world which still is free," especially those in the western hemisphere, get enough goods.

Plans Ever Normal Stock Pile.

The Vice President also made it clear that the government intends to step up purchases of raw materials from Latin America for use in the rearmament program. Wallace recalled his "ever normal granary" theories by stating that the administration is making plans now for an "ever normal stock pile" of critical raw materials.

Simultaneously, it was understood here that Latin Americans will get lend-lease aid totaling 400 million dollars, with about 100 millions going to Brazil. There was no official confirmation of this however. It has been announced tho that Haiti will get lend-lease material valued at 1 million 100 thousand dollars, with repayment in commodities.

The executive order transferring jurisdiction of the export control office also sets up Wallace's board as the adviser to the Supply Priorities and Allocations board—of which Wallace is also chairman—on the amount of materials and commodities required for export purposes.

Separate from Hopkins' Job.

This is apart from lend-lease aid which is still under supervision of Harry L. Hopkins, altho he is a member of SPAB.

Wallace said that he was requesting SPAB and his warfare board to consult with all departments and agencies at once and report to him as soon as possible on the extent to which supplies of critically needed raw materials can be increased.

"We shall have to secure this increase in supply in ways best suited to the production of each commodity," Wallace said. "Among approaches to be considered, however, will be an expansion of production facilities both here and abroad, conversion of nondefense plants to military uses, the working of more shifts, and payment of premiums for certain metals coming from low yielding veins of ore.

"Even with all this—and we shall drive forward aggressively toward maximum and balanced production in every trade area open to us—stiff sacrifices still will have to be made by civilians and certain nondefense industries within this hemisphere. The threat of Hitler is such that a 'business as usual' attitude is like a foreign army within our borders."

3 YEAR CAPITAL STOCK METHOD STILL IN TAX BILL

The method of declaring capital stock value for three year periods is retained in the new tax bill in computing the capital stock tax, tax men explained yesterday. The rate of this tax has been raised from $1.10 to $1.25 per $1,000 or adjusted declared value.

Corporation executives had delayed filing of capital stock tax schedules because congressional committees had been considering a change to permit corporations to make annual adjustments in the declared value of their capital stock. The tax is due July 31 each year, but the filing date had been extended to Sept. 29. A further extension by the internal revenue commissioner to Oct. 29 is expected.

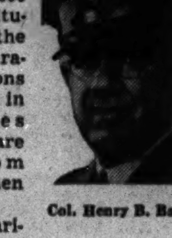
Bids Asked on Field Rations for 1½ Million U. S. Soldiers



Col. Henry B. Barry.

The Chicago quartermaster depot yesterday asked food packers and manufacturers for bids on supplying the army with 96,575,000 separate constituent parts of the soldiers' field rations. The rations are for use in emergencies when soldiers are separated from their field kitchen or mess hall.

When the various food components sought in the invitations are purchased and assembled the army will have one-day field food rations for 1½ million men, Col. Henry B. Barry, Q. M. C., commanding officer at the Chicago depot, said last night. To date this year the depot has purchased a sufficient number of the rations to provide a one day supply of food for approximately six million soldiers.

Used During Maneuvers.

Part of the rations purchased under earlier bids have been used by the soldiers during maneuvers in the south this summer. Quartermaster corps officials said they believed the new rations would be used during general maneuvers.

The daily field ration is made up of six cans of food. Three cans contain meat components, including meat and beans, meat and vegetable hash, and meat and vegetable stew. The other three cans each contain five biscuits, three lumps of sugar, one can of soluble coffee, and a confection dessert.

Seeks Coffee and Sugar.

In the invitations sent out yesterday the quartermaster corps sought 337,500 pounds, or 29,700,000 tablets of sugar; nine million quarter ounce cans of soluble coffee, and nine million steel wire can opening keys. The bids will be opened Sept. 22. As it takes less time to obtain the meat components, bids will not be sought on these until later, officials said.

Other invitations to bid which have recently been sent out from the Chicago quartermaster depot to be opened before Oct. 6 are as follows:

No More Fudge

The army, asking yesterday for bids on 610,000 pounds or 48,876,000 pieces of candy in its food buying program, took a long step forward in its plan to toughen its men and officers into a hardened combat force.

Until now, the dessert element in field rations has been a one ounce piece of "fortified fudge." In the future it will consist of five individually wrapped pieces of hard candy, one each of lemon, lime, orange, butterscotch, and caramel.

"This type of candy maintains the blood stream sugar level longer because the hard candy will be consumed between meals and require prolonged mastication," the announcement explained. "The fudge was eaten in one gulp."

U. S. BUYS 52,800 LBS. OF CANNED CHICKEN FOR GIFT TO BRITAIN

Purchase of 52,800 pounds of canned, boneless chicken by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation for lease-lend shipment abroad was disclosed yesterday. It marked the first purchase under the department of agriculture's new plan to give away this food.

Since a five pound chicken produces only one pound of meat when cooked and boned, American taxpayers are paying more than $1 a pound for these donations. The exact price and the companies furnishing the canned chicken were not announced.

The FSCC's announcement on Sept. 8 of the impending boned chicken purchases stated bids would be accepted on one and two pound cans of the meat.

HAWKES WARNS OF 5 THREATS TO FREE ENTERPRISE

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 17 [Special].—Albert W. Hawkes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, today warned insurance executives that present governmental policies were leading toward destruction of the American system of free enterprise. He addressed the 52d annual convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Hawkes listed "excessive and unnecessary government spending, deficit financing, excessive taxation, government entry into private productive enterprise, and unfair, one sided legislation," as threats to free enterprise and to the security of investments. He called upon life insurance companies and their 65 million policy holders to combat these forces.

Henry T. Wright of Chicago, president of the association, urged increased saving and reduced public purchasing as a means of curbing inflation.

ELECTRICITY OUTPUT IN LAST WEEK SETS NEW ALL-TIME PEAK

The electric light and power industry of the United States set a new record in electricity production last week of 3,281,290,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. The latest week's output, compares with 3,095,746,000 in the preceding week, or an advance of 6 per cent, and 2,773,177,000 in the corresponding week last year, an 18.3 per cent gain.

The Commonwealth Edison group of companies reported an electric power output in the Chicago area, excluding sales to other electric utilities, of 150,079,000 kilowatt hours. Production in the preceding week had been 142,529,000 kilowatt hours and 134,346,000 in the corresponding week in 1940.

NATIONAL SURVEY OF PRIORITIES IMPACT STARTED

New York, Sept. 17 [Special].—A state by state examination of the extent of priorities unemployment and strangulation of peace time production because of inability to obtain materials was started today by the National Industrial council, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The survey will pay particular attention to the plight of one and two factory communities where the entire population may suffer or a "ghost" town be created.

"Coming in the wake of increasingly spectacular shutdowns such as the public auction of a large washing machine company's plant and machine tools yesterday at Peoria, Ill., because of lack of materials with which to continue manufacture," the announcement said, "the survey is expected to focus attention of both congress and priorities officials on the need for certain nondefense production if whole communities are not to be stripped of their means of self-support."

UTILITY, PLANE REPAIRS GIVEN PRIORITY RATING

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, defense priorities director, issued preference orders today designed to assist public utilities in obtaining maintenance and repair parts and supplies, and to aid manufacturers of aircraft instruments and accessories in getting materials they need.

The preference rating for the utilities cannot be used for plant expansions or new improvements or for expansion of service areas. However, it may be used in some cases to provide for connecting new consumers to existing systems.

The rating to be assigned a manufacturer of aircraft parts will be based on recommendations of the army and navy munitions board.

VEGA GETS ARMY PLANE CONTRACT FOR 147 MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The war department today awarded to Vega Airplane company, Burbank, Cal., a $147,790,500 contract for airplanes, presumably the new 30 ton Boeing B17 B bombers.

Previously, contracts totaling $347,156,674 had been awarded for that type plane to the Boeing Airplane company at Seattle and the Douglas Aircraft company at Santa Monica, Cal., and it was announced that Vega, a Lockheed subsidiary, would also produce the plane.

RAILWAY UNIONS PUSH PLEAS FOR PAID VACATIONS

Dispute Operators' Cost Figures.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Railroad labor statisticians, armed with diagrams, tables and charts, yesterday began their arguments for vacations with pay for members of the 14 nonoperating unions. They presented their case in Kimball hall to the five members of the Presidential fact finding commission, headed by Wayne L. Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the railway employés department of the American Federation of Labor, opened the arguments and was followed by Horace A. Bacus, statistician for the clerks' union.

Most of Bacus' testimony centered on explanations of statistical documents used to back the unions' demands. Later both the 14 unions and the 5 operating brotherhoods will argue in support of demands for wage increases which the railroads estimate will add 900 million dollars yearly to operating costs.

Disputes Cost Figure.

Bacus, formerly associated with the Brookings institution, said he did not believe the vacations in the long run would cost the railroads anything, altho there probably would be added costs in the beginning. He maintained that increased productivity by the workers after vacations should offset the roads' added costs.

Bacus took issue with the railroads' estimate that the vacations would add about 40 million dollars—based on 1940 pay rolls—to operating costs, asserting the actual increase should average 25 per cent less, or about 30 millions annually.

He said the amount involved is "insignificant' when contrasted with railroad net operating incomes [incomes after operating costs and taxes but before fixed charges] which he gave as $588,829,000 for 1939, $682,118,000 for 1940 and an estimated $1,250,000,000 for 1941.

571,000 Ask Vacations.

Bacus estimated that 571,000 railroad employés are affected by the vacation demand. He emphasized that no requests for vacations are being made on behalf of employés in supervisory positions.

Jewell reviewed the history of the unions' vacation requests which were first presented in May, 1940.

The railroad employés have 12 days in which to present their arguments for vacations, wage increases and other requests. The rail managements have 15 days to present their side. The Big Five operating brotherhoods are asking 30 per cent wage increases and the 14 non-operating unions are asking increases of 30 cents an hour, with a minimum hourly wage of 70 cents. The railroads are asking for revision of working rules, including the "feather bed" rules.

Price Bill Hits Snag of Dislike for Henderson

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Opposition to Leon Henderson as the prospective price control administrator appeared likely today to delay the administration's price control bill still further, despite Henderson's testimony that the nation already is in the midst of "mild inflation."

As the house banking committee resumed hearings on the legislation after a month's recess, several Democratic members said privately and emphatically that the measure would be revised to insure that Henderson would not have complete authority over prices.

Suggest Board Instead of One.

Some suggested that provision would be made for a board to administer the law. Others predicted that senate confirmation would be required not only for the administrator but for his subordinate officials "pretty well down the line."

They agreed that several weeks more would be required for the committee to complete its considertaion of the measure.

"There's no particular rush about this thing," one member said. "At least there's no great clamor from the people for its enactment."

Says Foods Rise 8 Per Cent."

On the other hand, Henderson reopened his testimony with a statement that in the month since the committee recessed, prices of basic foodstuffs had increased about 8 per cent and that a special daily index of 28 basic commodity prices had risen from 150 to 157.

[The labor department reported yesterday that living costs in large cities rose an average of 0.8 per cent from mid-July to mid-August. Retail food prices rose 1.2 per cent and clothing prices 1.6 per cent, it said.]

"There is now no question," Henderson said, "that wholesale prices everywhere are continuing to increase."

Retail markets, he added, also are beginning to move up in earnest. In response to questions Henderson said he was quite sure that the country already was experiencing a "mild inflation."

Production Leveling Off.

He said that in contrast to the situation when the hearings started a few weeks ago, the production of commodities for civilian consumption has leveled off but prices are going up.

Renewing efforts previously made by other committee members to explore Henderson's economic philosophy, Representative Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.] questioned him at length concerning his training and experience as an economist. Noting that he had once been a teacher of economic subjects, she asked whether he had known any economists who believed that the communistic form of government was best. Henderson replied in the negative and said that "most of us had a fine contempt for it."

DEERE DIRECTORS VOTE INCREASED DIVIDEND OF $1.50

Directors of Deere & Co., maker of agricultural implements, yesterday declared a $1.50 dividend. The company, which is also making tank parts for the army, paid a dividend of 50 cents Sept. 2, the only other disbursement this year. Payments last year totaled $1.50. The company is located in Moline Ill.

Reilly Picked for NLRB Post of E. S. Smith

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Gerard D. Reilly. [AP Wirephoto.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt today nominated Gerard D. Reilly, solicitor of the department of labor, to succeed Edwin S. Smith as a member of the National Labor Relations board.

Smith's term has expired and Reilly's nomination is for a 5 year term dating from Aug. 27, with a salary of $10,000 annually. The NLRB now has an entirely new membership since the time it was under heavy fire for fostering radicals, showing partiality to the CIO in labor decisions, and exceeding its authority, according to a special house investigating committee which accused Smith particularly of radical sympathies.

Reported Agreeable to Labor.

Altho Reilly is not as well known as the other two members of the board—William M. Leiserton, who suc- Warren Madden—he is believed to Reilly has been called a "yes man" for Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, who sponsored him for the appointment. He upheld Mme. Perkins with legal opinions in her frequent refusals to deport Harry Bridges, alleged communist CIO labor leader.

A Harvard Graduate.

Reilly was born in Boston on Sept. 27, 1906. He was graduated from Harvard university in 1927 and then spent four years as a newspaper man with the Pawtucket Times, the Providence Journal and the Boston Traveler. In 1930 he returned to Harvard to study law and was awarded his degree in 1933.

After a year in private law practice in Boston he came to Washington in 1934 to be a review attorney with the Home Owners Loan corporation.

Reilly became assistant solicitor at the labor department in 1935 and administrator of the public contracts act in 1936. In August, 1937, he was nominated to be solicitor of the labor department.

HENDERSON LETS ANTHRACITE HIKE OF 15 CTS. STAND

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Price Administrator Leon Henderson yielded today to anthracite operators who insisted on retaining the 15 cents per ton increase they placed in effect this week in defiance of a Henderson dictum.

Henderson's announcement of capitulation was coupled with condemnation of the industry for an "unjustifiable act of defiance" which would "not be tolerated in the future." He said the operators had agreed not to take further action on price advances "without prior consultation and approval of the Office of Price Administration."

SALE OF 'HOPE CHEST' CALLED A GOOD OMEN FOR FURNITURE STORE

Brides and grooms will spend close to 500 million dollars on new home furnishings this year, the Cedar Chest Manufacturers of America estimated yesterday after interviews with 1,085 brides in ten cities. Newlyweds are rated by furniture dealers as America's best buyers.

Newly married couples do not shop to the same extent as other furniture buyers, the report said. More than 50 per cent buy everything, including living room suites, rugs, drapes, pictures, etc., in one store. More than 55 per cent of them make all such purchases at furniture stores.

The association estimated that 79 per cent of the cedar chests sold within the last year were to new customers and usually signified early establishment of a new home. Repeat sales of other furniture were made to 34.1 per cent of these new customers within six months.

GENERAL MOTORS HOSPITALIZATION PLAN EXTENDED

C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors corporation, yesterday announced expansion of the employés' hospitalization plan to permit inclusion of their wives and dependent children. The benefits were originally made available on July 1, 1939, and, as of Aug. 1 this year, 275,868 employés were enrolled, of whom 46,514 had received hospital or surgical care.

The plan for employés' families will become effective Nov. 1 for employés in Michigan, thru the Michigan hospital service and the Michigan medical service. Similar arrangements will be made in other states where satisfactory hospital and medical service plans are in operation.

Employés, under the plan, contribute 75 cents monthly and are entitled to a $4 daily hospital benefit, an allowance for special hospital service and an allowance for surgical cost up to $150.

Westinghouse Reported Planning Big Stock Sale

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Reports that Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company plans to raise 35 to 40 million dollars thru sale of additional stock were heard in the financial district today. The new stock, about 534,000 shares of common, would be issued, it was said, to preferred and common stockholders of record Oct. 15 in the ratio of one for every five shares held. Rights of subscription would expire Oct. 28.

BUYING FLURRY PUTS STOCKS UP AT FINAL GONG

Gains Extend to $2; Some at New Tops.

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The stock market whipped up a quick flurry of buying today just before the final gong. Gains were general and a number of new highs for a year or longer were included in the final tally.

Aircraft manufacturing stocks had carried the burden of the advance thru most of a dull and spotty session but when motor and steel issues joined the parade in the final minutes most others followed.

Traders reported the rally was accompanied by rumors Japan might be about to desert the axis, tho nothing in the cable news gave factual support of this view.

Tax Bill a Market Factor.

Also much discussed among traders was the federal tax bill, passed by the senate and awaiting Presidential signature. Some quarters contended the bill put less burden on corporation incomes and more on individual taxpayers than had been anticipated.

As prices advanced, turnover picked up. Volume was 886,560 shares, compared with 606,190 yesterday. The advance of .5 of a point in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks to 44.1, was the widest since July 21.

Gains of major fractions to 2 points or so were recorded for such issues as United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, United States Rubber, J. I. Case, Douglas, United Aircraft, Bendix, Glenn Martin, New York Shipbuilding, Union Carbide, American Can, American Telephone, Santa Fe, and Peoples Gas Light & Coke.

Consolidated Aircraft, a leader from the opening after declaration of cash and stock dividends, closed up 2⅛.

SAN FRANCISCO PRICES UP.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17 (AP).—The New York stock market's sparkling finish carried over into the San Francisco market today, but did more to trading volume than to prices. Leaders on the New York exchange sold here at about the same levels as they had reached at the earlier Wall street close. Standard Oil of California sold at 24⅝, compared with the New York close at 24⅛. Trading reached the highest level in several weeks at 37,653 shares.

CHICAGO TRADE GAINS.

Transactions on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday totaled 39,000 shares, the largest since July 8.

New 1941 highs were reached by Raytheon Manufacturing preferred, Sundstrand Machine Tool, Bendix Aviation, Peoples Gas and Deere & Co. Volume leaders were Commonwealth Edison, 4,000 shares, up ⅛ to 25¾; Middle West, 2,650 shares, unchanged at 4¾; Sundstrand Machine Tool, 1,700 shares, up 3 to 36½; Raytheon Manufacturing preferred, 1,500 shares, up ⅜ to 2⅛, and Standard Dredging common, 1,100 shares, up ⅛ to 2½. United States Steel rose 1⅝.

LABOR TROUBLES CALLED A THREAT TO STEEL OUTPUT

Strikes and Slowdowns Hit by Iron Age.

Labor troubles appeared yesterday to present a growing danger to continued high steel production and to the rearmament program, it was reported in steel industry circles.

Among major problems were the CIO strike in the "captive" coal mines and the union dues squabble at Clairton, Pa., which resulted in operators of coke oven batteries sitting down and refusing to work with men who weren't paying union dues.

Another phase of the labor difficulty, unpublicized strikes and slowdowns in various plants, caused concern.

The magazine Iron Age quoted an unidentified steel manufacturer as saying that since Jan. 1, 1941, the steel industry "has lost the equivalent of one month's production from these wildcat strikes which often are called without the approval or knowledge of union leaders."

Iron Age said the most important developments in the labor situation are likely to come in current negotiations between the CIO Steel Workers' Organizing committee and the independent steel companies, including Bethlehem, Republic, Inland, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Upholding of the SWOC's demand for a union shop by the national defense mediation board would mean a "new chapter in union history is opening," the publication asserted.

SEWING MACHINE SALES BOOMING, SINGER REPORTS

Profits Nearly Tripled During Last Year.

The sale of sewing machines in the United States is booming, Sir Douglas Alexander, president of the Singer Manufacturing company, told stockholders at their annual meeting yesterday in New York. He reported that profits of the company had jumped to $8,758,851 in the year ended Dec. 31, 1940, equal to $9.73 a share, from $3,065,105, or $3.40 a share, in the preceding year.

To handle the increase in domestic business, Singer is building an addition to the factory at Elizabeth Port, N. J., and has added 68,000 acres of timber in North Carolina to its already extensive timber holdings.

Predicts Further Gains.

"The increase in consumer purchasing power will probably help the sale of domestic sewing machines, altho this may be checked by restrictions on instalment purchases," he commented. "We have confidence that after the war we shall be confronted with the greatest demand ever experienced. A long term rise in instalment buying of sewing machines is in prospect when peace returns."

Alexander said the company's sales volume had declined steadily in the last 12 years, primarily as a result of heavy losses in international operations.

The Detroit Edison company and subsidiaries had net income of $12,149,047 after federal tax accruals of $4,595,000 in the 12 months ended Aug. 31, the equivalent of $1.91 a share, compared with $10,392,937 after $2,113,000 in taxes, or $1.63 a share a year earlier.

SINCE REPEAL.

I'd like a report on the Berghoff Brewing corporation. I'm interested particularly in its sales, profits, and dividends since the repeal of prohibition.—W. P.

Answer: The Berghoff Brewing corporation brewery in Fort Wayne, Ind., is one of the largest and oldest in the middle west. It is well situated for widespread distribution of its products and its sales territory includes the Chicago metropolitan area. Business history dates back to 1887, but the present company was incorporated in 1933, shortly before the return of beer.

Sales have shown little change since a sharp rise from 1935 to 1936. The company has operated profitably since 1934. Income figures and dividends since incorporation follow [years ended Dec. 31]:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Dividends.
1940	$4,538,055	$321,025	$1.00
1939	4,663,669	503,844	1.00
1938	4,127,435	370,037	.75
1937	4,427,310	306,583	1.00
1936	4,110,443	510,219	1.25
1935	2,695,620	259,085	....
1934	2,359,274	†89,022	.30
*1933	....	414,893	.60

*From Jan. 18 to Dec. 31. †Net loss.

Three dividends of 25 cents each have been paid in the 1941 quarters. Sole capitalization is 300,000 shares of $1 par common stock outstanding. Stock is traded on the Chicago Stock exchange. At the end of last year, total assets were $2,484,109 and net working capital amounted to $675,273.

UNABLE TO COVER.

I've been told the International Hydro-Electric System can't meet its interest requirements. What is the situation?—E. E. G.

Answer: I. L. Moore, president, announced recently that the company would be unable to cover its bond interest requirements because of the reduction in common dividends of its subsidiary, Gatineau Power company. Beginning with the payment due Sept. 30, dividends were cut from 20 to 15 cents. Currently, Moore reported, International Hydro is drawing on its cash resources to make up the balance needed for interest. He said higher Canadian taxes on dividends in addition will result in current income running 15 to 20 per cent short of interest requirements. Net income for the 12 months ended last June 30 shrank to $8,467 from $641,130 in the same 1940 period.

MEDIATION BOARD FAILS TO BREAK COAL DEADLOCK

Lewis Strike Proposal to Be Considered Today.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—A Defense Mediation board conference recessed late today without reaching an agreement for reopening "captive" soft coal mines in three states, but Board Chairman William H. Davis said that John L. Lewis had submitted a proposal for quick resumption of work which would be considered tomorrow.

Davis did not disclose the terms offered by the president of the United Mine Workers [CIO], 43,000 of whose members have been on strike since Monday to enforce demands for a union shop. The mediation board asked them to return to work at once pending negotiations with steel companies which own the mines, but Lewis refused.

Officials of the Office of Production Management expressed the view that a 30 day shutdown of the mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Kentucky would chill most of the blast furnaces rolling out steel for armaments.

Twelve Mills Shut Down.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 17 [Special].—All 12 mills of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's McDonald plant have been shut down, throwing 3,000 men out of work, as a result of a "wildcat" strike by CIO machinists. They walked off the job yesterday in protest over employment of apprentices. The plant has been working at capacity on British and American government orders.

4,000 Miners Return to Pits.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP).—Four thousand hard coal miners returned to their jobs today but 20,000 others remained idle at 44 collieries in the eighth day of a walkout to protest increased union dues and assessments. Miners returned to three collieries after operators promised to stop deducting the assessment from pay checks pending settlement of the dispute.

Bendix Employés Strike.

South Bend, Ind, Sept. 17 (AP).—Four hundred employés of the Bendix Home Appliances corporation went on a strike today after a conference with the management last night failed to achieve their demands for an increased basic wage scale and a checkoff system of collecting dues.

Foundry Strike Ended.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—AFL and CIO leaders announced resumption of work today at the American Car and Foundry company, manufacturer of artillery shells for the United States and Great Britain, after settlement of a two day walkout.

BENTON HARBOR FRUIT PRICES.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 17 [Special].—Today's fruit market prices were: Grapes, Concords, 12 quarts, No. 1, 35 to 38 cents; No. 2, 30 to 35 cents; four quarts, 16 to 17 cents. Pears, bushels, Boscs, 2¼ inch, $1.25; canning varieties, 2 inch, 75 to 80 cents. Peaches, bushels, late Elbertas, 2 inch, $1.40 to $1.60; gold drop, 2 inch, 85 to $1; 1¾ inch, 60 to 75 cents. Apples, wealthys, 2½ inch, 90 cents; Wolf Rivers and 20 ounce, 80 to 90 cents. Tomatoes, 12 quarts, No. 1, 35 to 50 cents; No. 2, 15 to 25 cents.

SOY BEANS DROP 5 CENTS MORE IN STEADY SELLING

Early Attempt at Rally Is Quickly Overcome.

Hedging pressure against the coming movement of the new crop of soy beans, combined with persistent liquidation by speculators gave the market a heavy undertone yesterday except for a brief period early when scattered buying followed receipt of a bureau of agricultural economics report suggesting that cottonseed oil prices would remain high.

Bean futures dropped steadily after the initial upturn with October in the lead. Processors were reported on the selling side. Closing sales on the Chicago Board of Trade were at losses of 3¼ to 5½ cents, showing a decline of 19¾ to 21¼ cents from the high of last Friday. December beans finished at $1.76⅞.

Grain prices held within rather narrow limits, and showed an easy undertone. Wheat lost ⅜ to ½ cent and corn was ⅛ to ½ cent lower. Oats finished ⅛ cent higher to ⅜ cent lower and rye ⅜ to ½ cent lower.

Liquidation by holders of September corn futures was in evidence early due to fears that carlots of new grain might be delivered on future contracts later in the month.

Westinghouse to Lay Off 700 Due to Steel Shortage

Mansfield, O., Sept. 17 (AP).—Seven hundred employés of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will be laid off Monday because of a shortage of steel and other materials needed for the manufacture of electric refrigerators, C. L. Van Derau, plant manager, announced today. The layoff will leave about 4,300 employés at work here.
